Volume 22

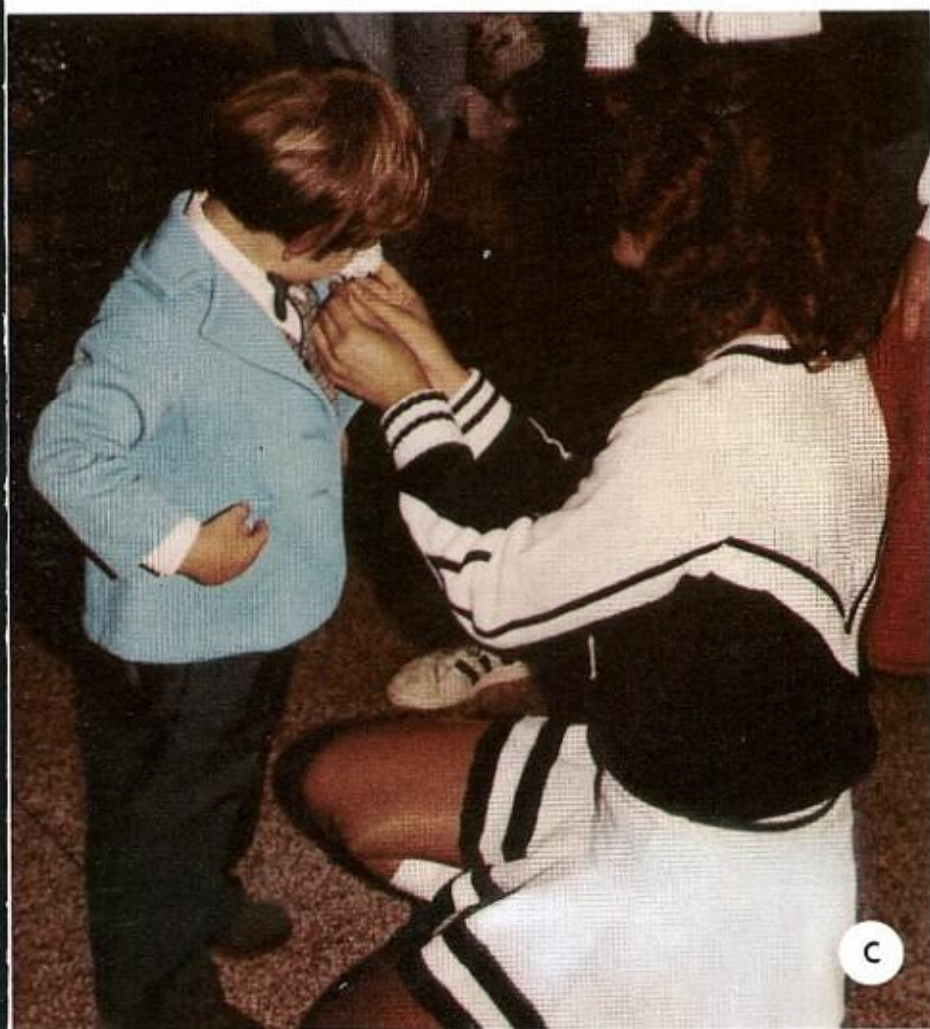

Within the bright promise
are moments too brief
to be held by the eye;

A. During lunch, Tina Smith takes a break outside.
B. Stacey Dennis and the rest of the band prepare to perform at the football game.
C. Amy Robarge volunteers to answer a question in English.

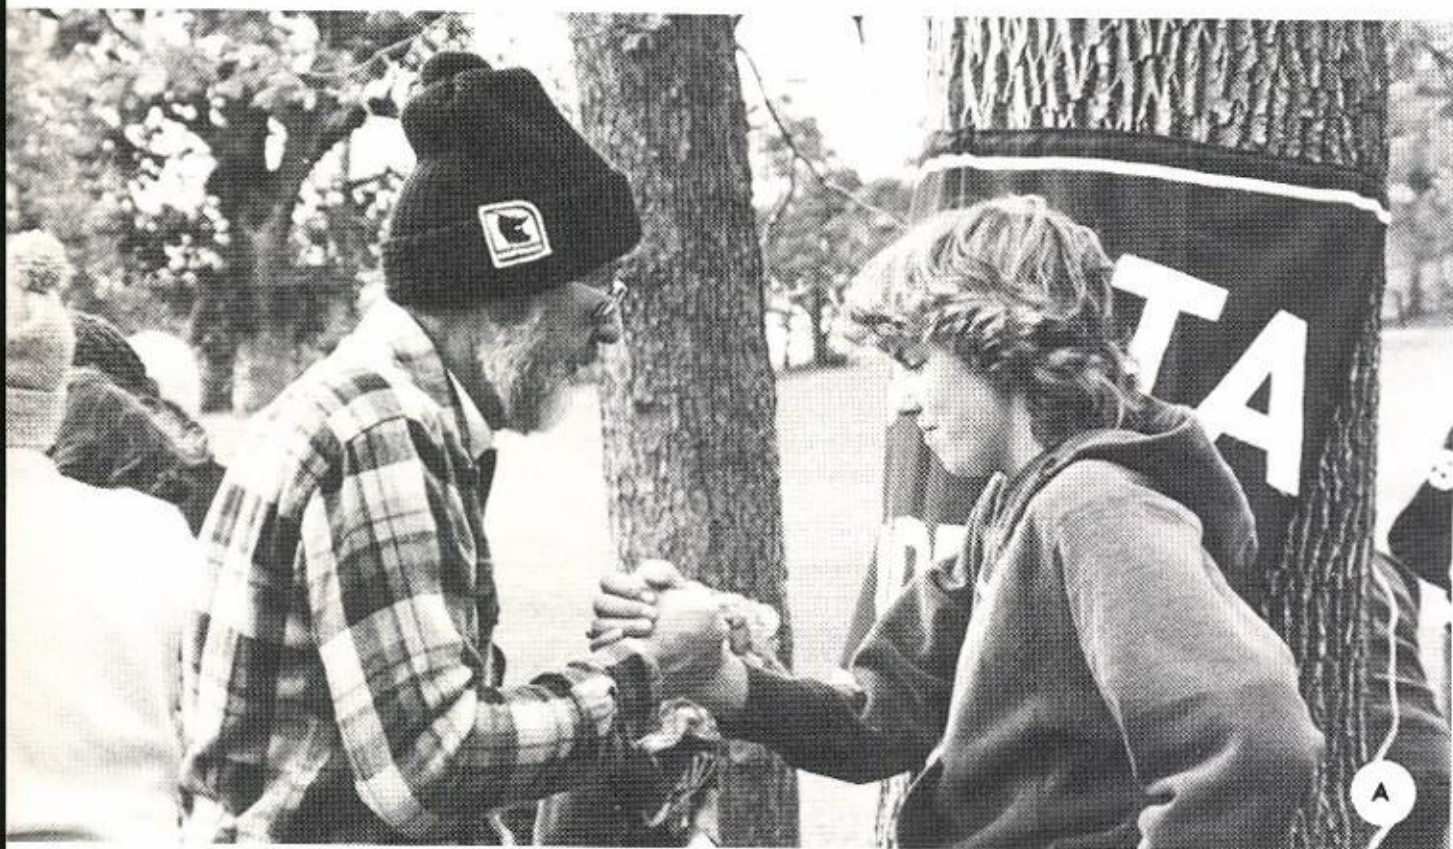

...captured in thought
and fragmented by time.

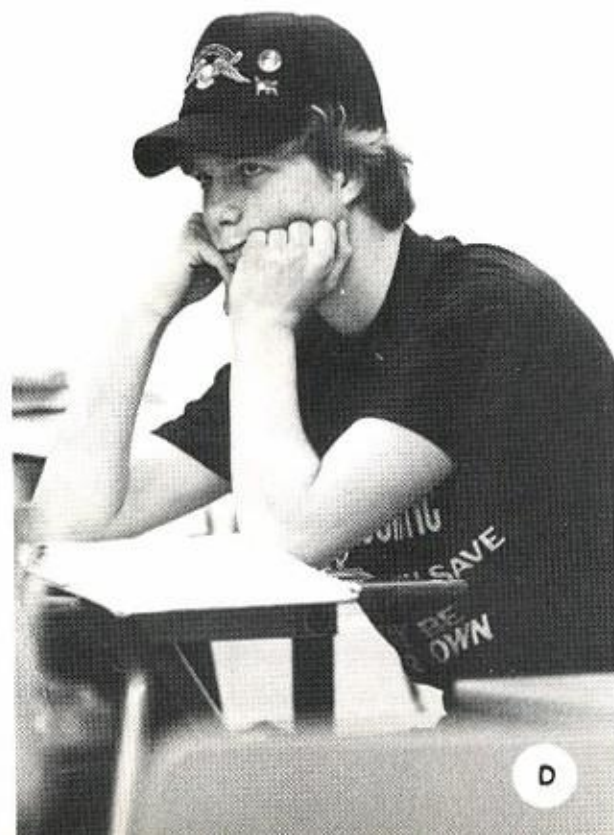

- A. During first period, Jenny Gosche is silhouetted against a beautiful sunrise.
 B. Concentration is the key to success as Lisa Markins illustrates here.
 C. Mary Haubert lends a helping hand to Robbie Timmons on homecoming night.
 D. Government is one of the privileges awarded to the senior class. Shown here is the country of Barbaria.

THIS IS IT

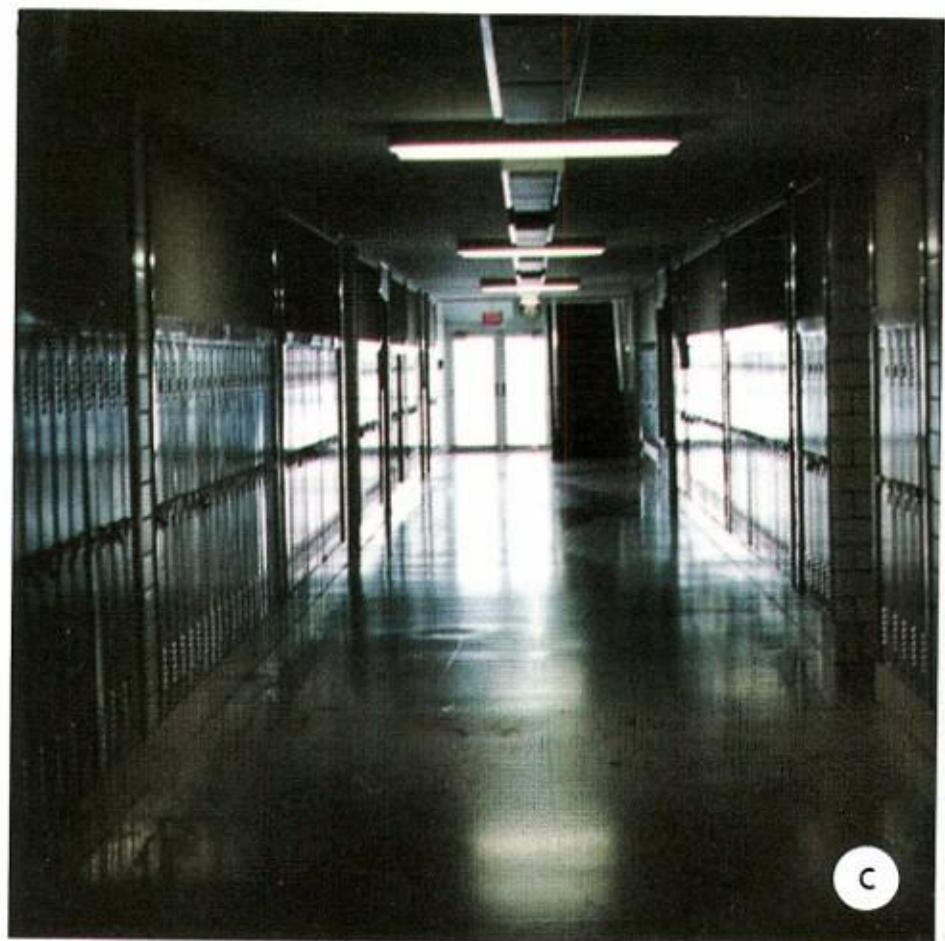

- A. Coach Cline wishes Amy Gabel good luck at the invitational in Galion.
- B. A note of friendly competition is in the air as Tina Kimble tries to steal the action from Chris Ball.
- C. Waiting patiently for the bell to ring is Maria Lindstrom.
- D. Mr. Wertz enjoys giving Wendy Litton a hard time.

High school means many different things to us . . . challenges, laughter, wonder. As students we learn about life, about others, and most of all, about ourselves.

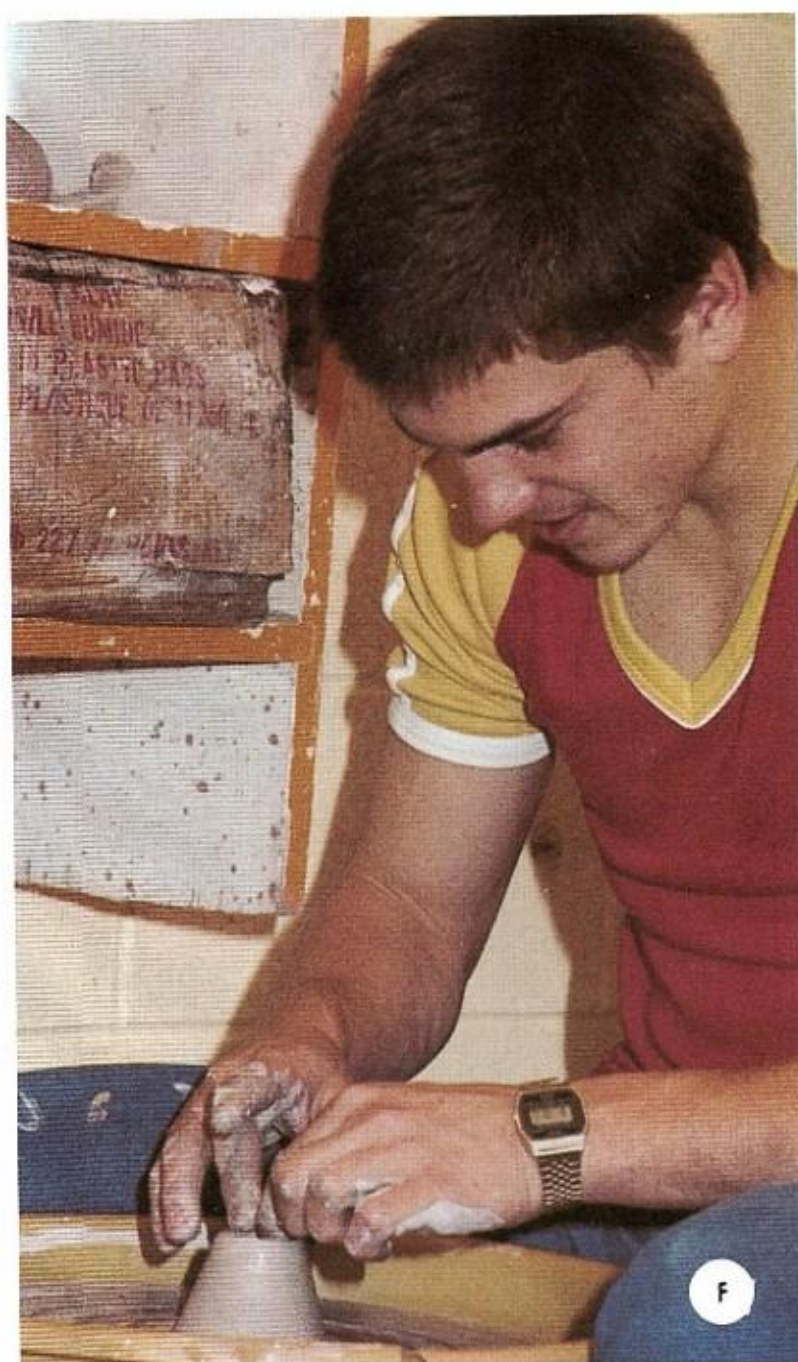

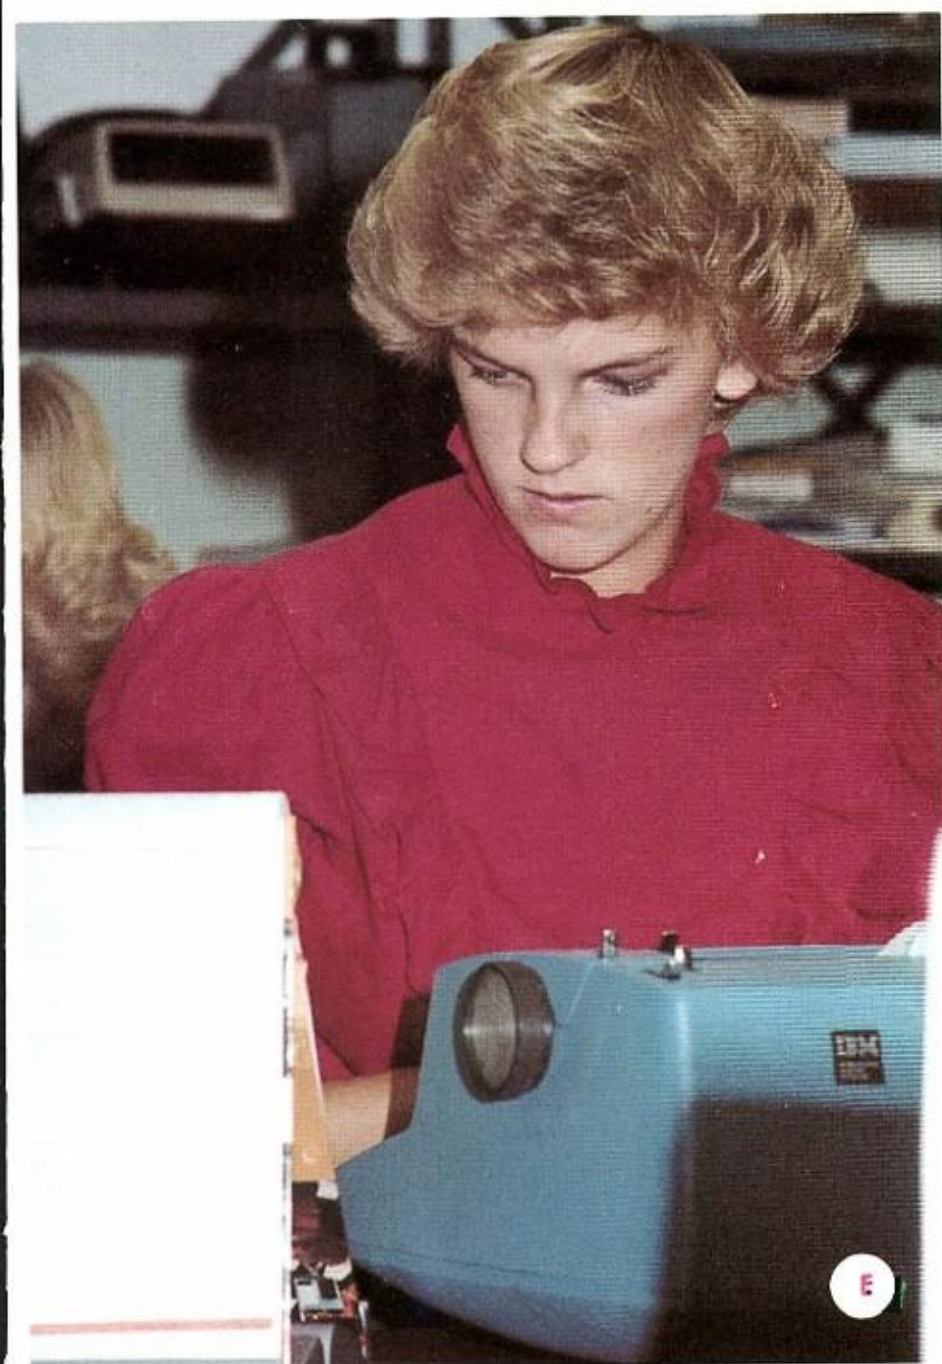

- A. Mascot Gary Holman watches the game with anticipation.
- B. Volunteer Karen Reinhart closes her eyes and holds her breath as a horseshoe is tossed in her direction.
- C. Mary Haubert helps raise the spirits of the fans and the players.
- D. Bill Turtle sometimes finds it hard to benefit from accounting class.

The freshmen may wonder if it's really all it's "cracked up" to be. But the upperclassmen will tell them that it's only what they make it. For some, high school is the best time of their lives . . . spending time with friends . . . getting rowdy in study hall with only the pressures of Friday's upcoming test to momentarily get them down; but others see it only as a waiting period until they can get on to bigger and better things. The sophomores and juniors may be thinking that it will never end and that graduation day will always be just one step beyond their grasp.

- A. You may have covered up your neck and walked by fast as you saw Lorrel Mullholand in the halls on Halloween.
- B. Mr. Scherger presents his red-tailed hawk to a mystified group of students.
- C. The lack of students lends an eerie cast to the halls.
- D. Homecoming is filled with many fun and challenging events such as this.
- E. Nancy Saalman strives to improve her typing skills.
- F. Working with clay is not an easy task but Dave Ritter seems to have everything under control.

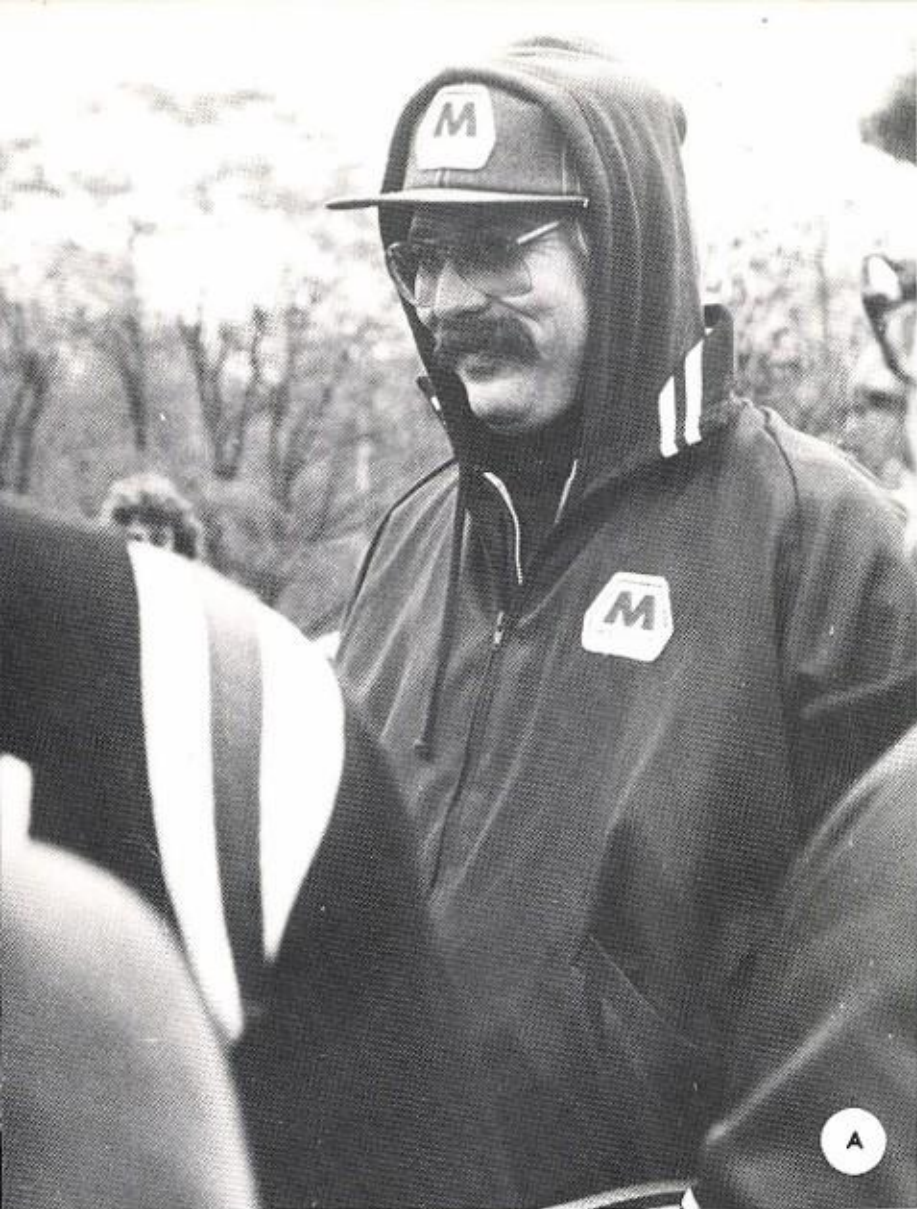

But the seniors are suddenly seeing the past four years through different eyes. They were at the top of one ladder but are now finding themselves at the bottom of another with a whole new beginning . . . new friends . . . new views on life. And suddenly those four years don't seem quite so long after all.

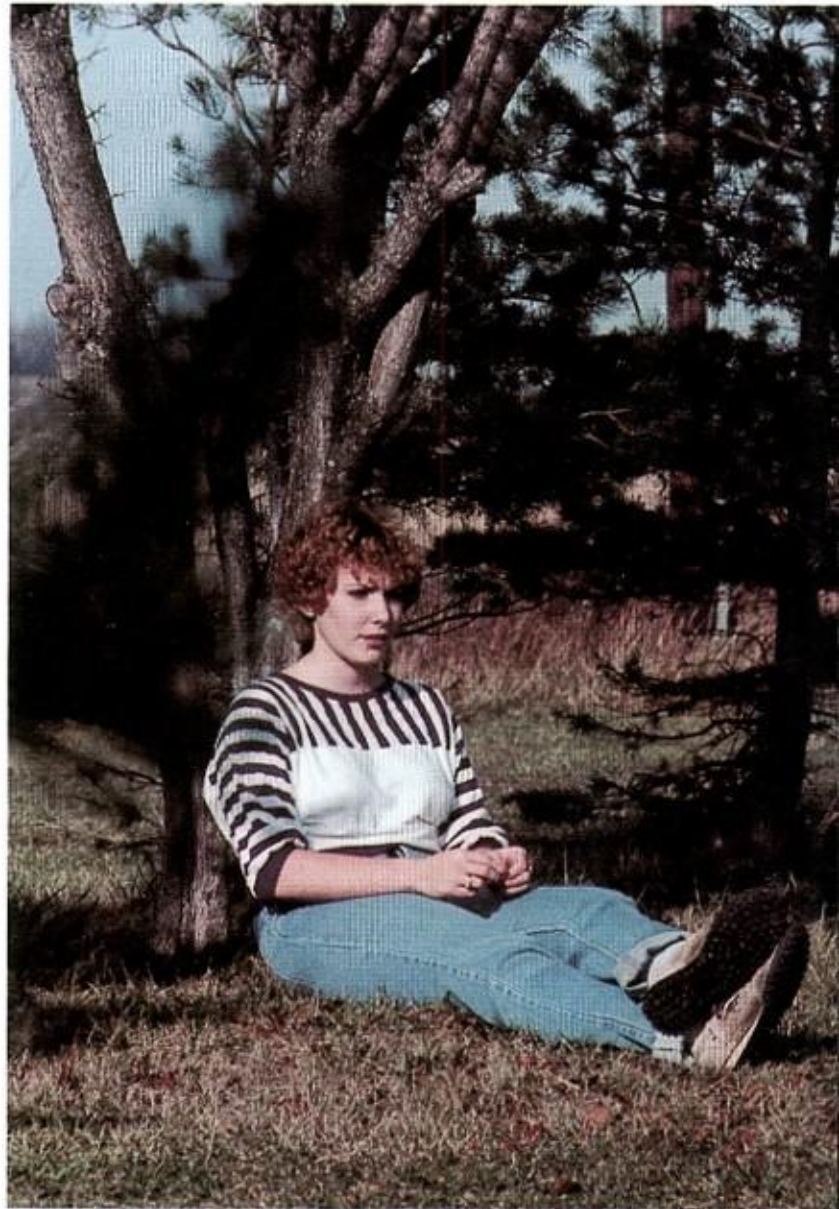

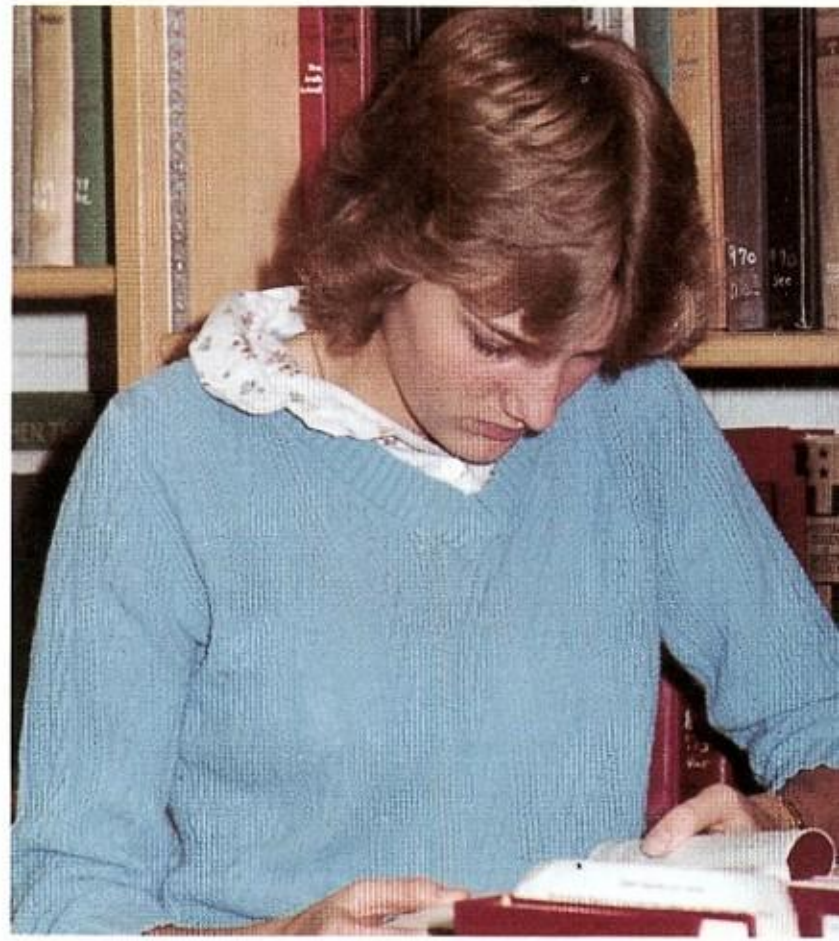

But there's one thing for sure . . . This is it! There will never be another time in our lives such as this, nor will opportunities be so plentiful. Our success in life will be determined by how we use this time. Whether we enjoy it or not, all will agree that it is an experience that will never be forgotten. Reflect upon today but never lose sight of the promises of tomorrow. This is it! . . . What does it mean to you?

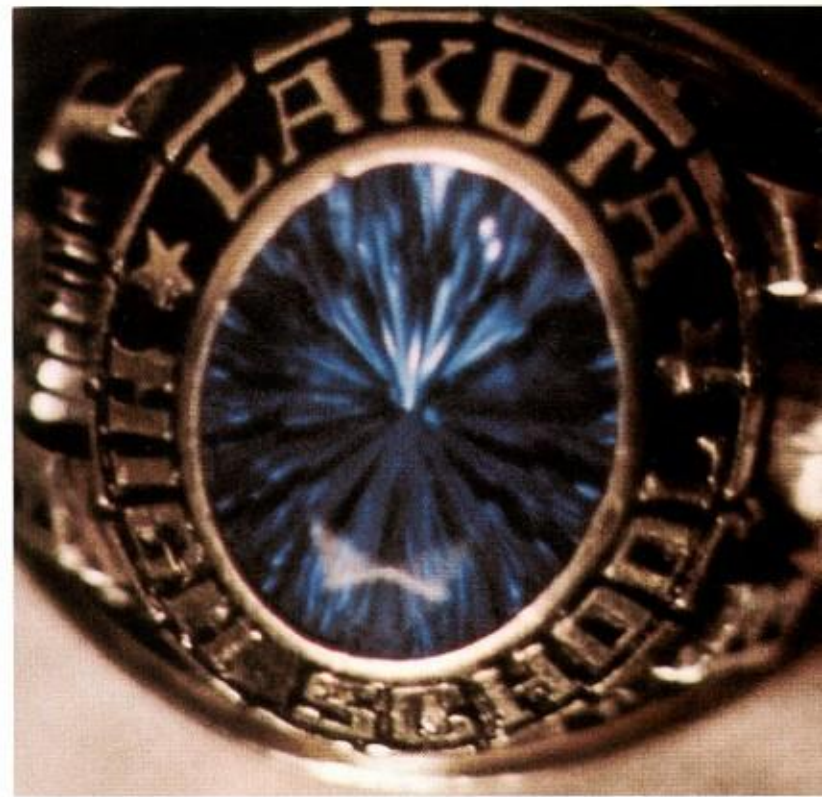

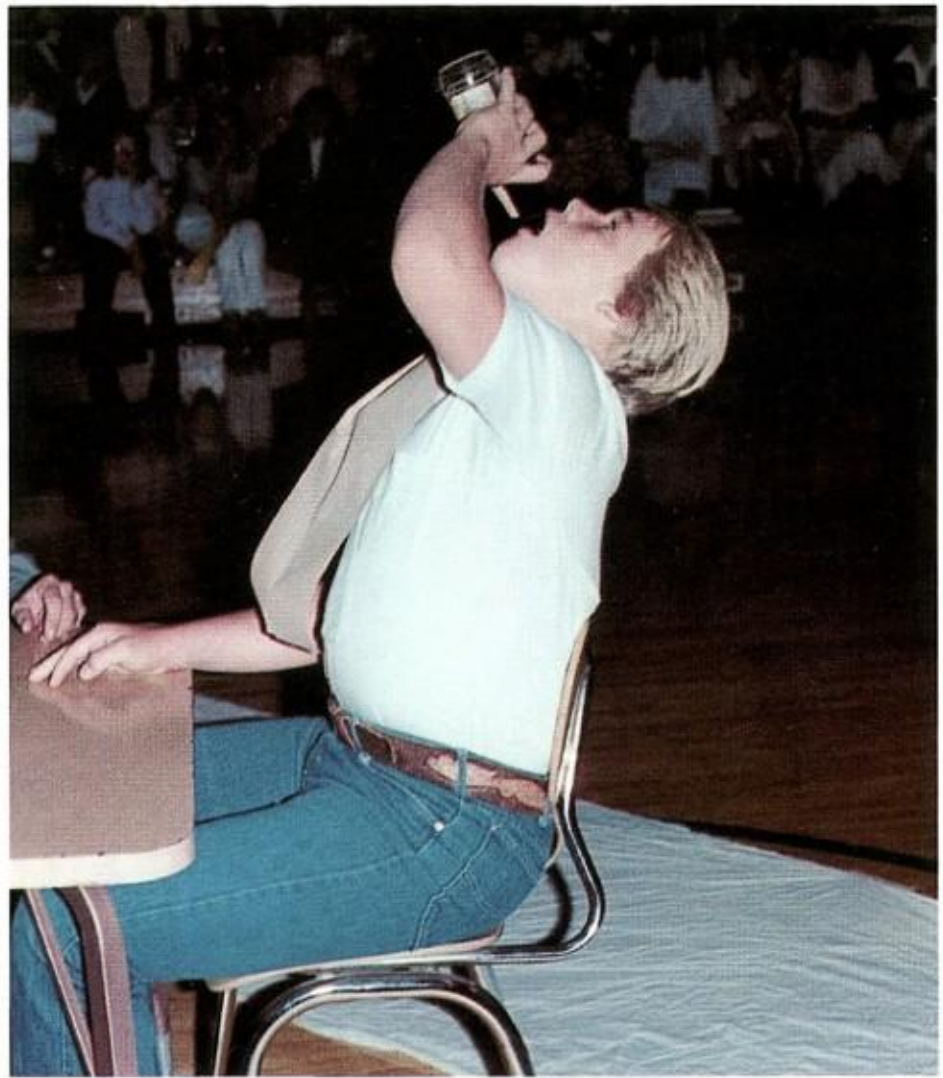

- A. Rhonda Cooley shares her time with a little friend for home economics.
- B. Wayne Turpin gets the opportunity to express some of his interests in art.
- C. Showing interest in what's happening on the practice field, Coach Devol, Coach White, Curt Richards, and Tim James watch from the stands.
- D. While Mr. Szabo explains "The Scarlet Letter," Lori Bowman listens intently and gets some notes.

- A. Mr. Doty supports the cross country team with his presence at the district meet in Tiffin.
- B. Those cold football games can be made a little warmer when you stay close to a friend . . . Just ask Kelly Kimmer and Alan Crouse.
- C. Rob McCachren and Pete Gibson were the mysterious homecoming bandits.
- D. Halloween gives Sheril Aldrich the opportunity to dress a little differently and be a little crazy.

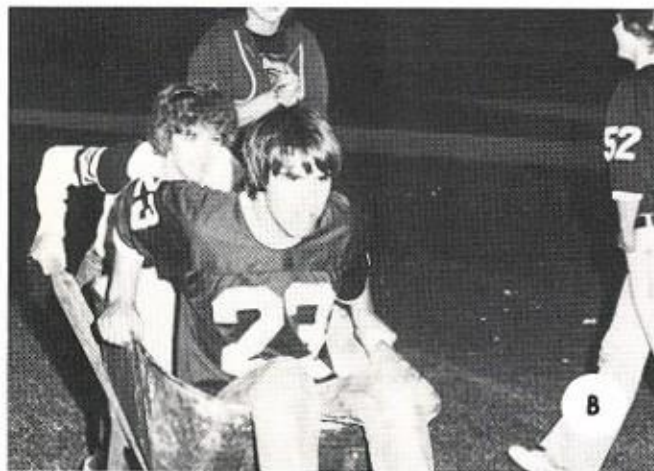

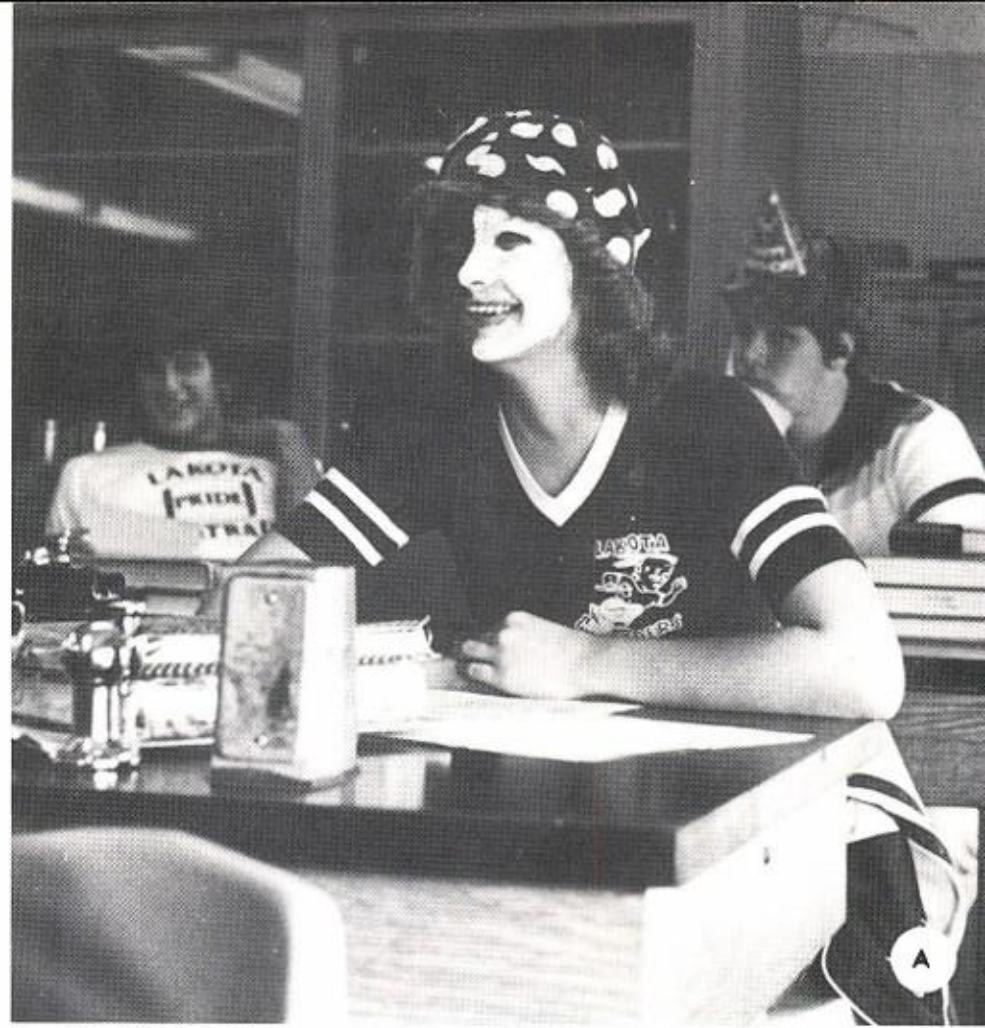

STUDENT LIFE

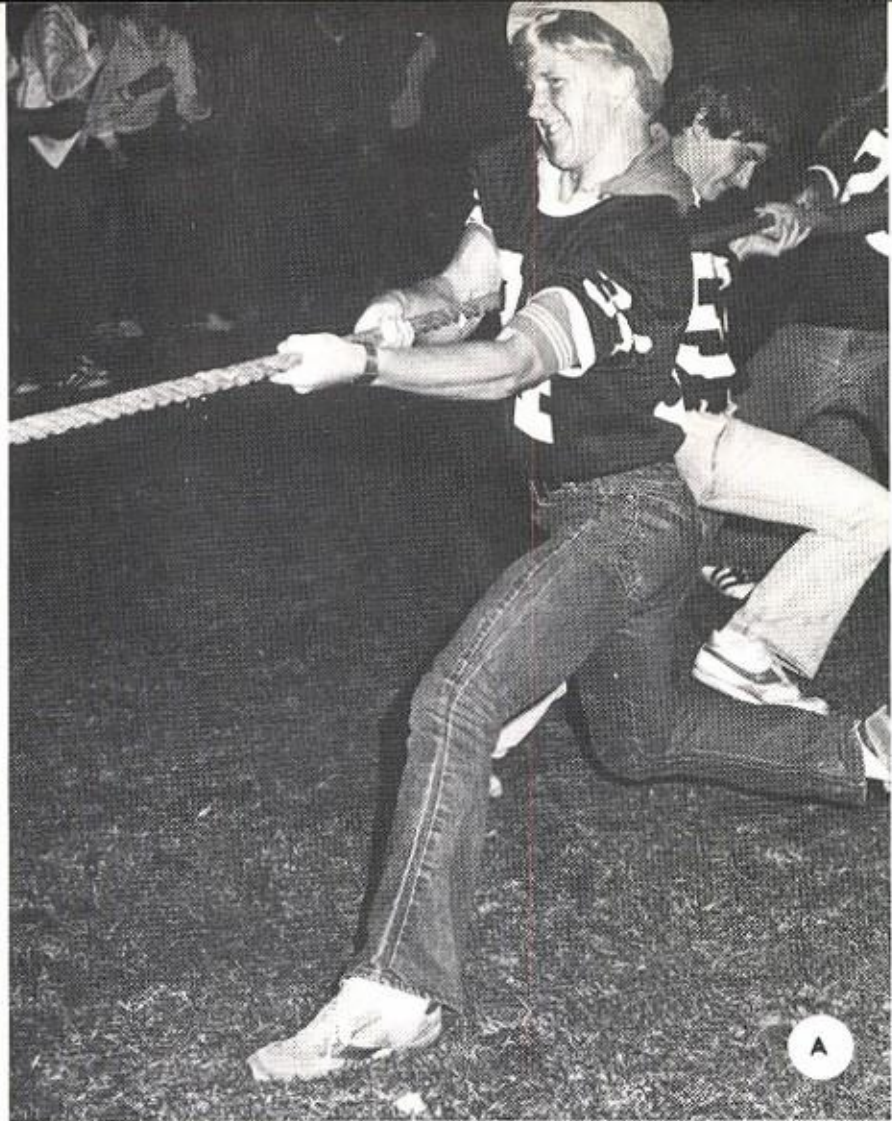

New Activities for Homecoming

Homecoming at Lakota is always an event to look forward to in the fall. This year's was no exception. During Homecoming week the students participated in many daily activities such as Toga Day, Twin Day, College T-Shirt and Sunglasses Day, Blue and White and Hat Day, and Dress Up Day.

There were also events during the evenings for each class to compete in. Each class had a section of the school to decorate, and the Seniors won this event by doing an outstanding job on the upper hall. There were also different games to enter each night. On Tuesday night students participated in the Life Saver Pass, Chug-a-Lug contest, Ice Cream Eating, The Spoon and String, and the Scavenger Hunt. On Thursday night, the Pushball game, Tug of War, Wheelbarrow Race and bonfire were held. The Seniors conquered the underclassmen by winning most of the events.

- A. Mary Haubert shows her true colors on blue and white day while classmates Randy Fairbanks and Brad Lucious look on with interest.
- B. Sophomore Cheryl Smith and Brain Kleisch attempt to win points for their class in the Wheelbarrow Race.
- C. Phil Racheter and Tim Cox generously awarded Dawn Rogier first place in the ice cream eating contest even after she dropped out of the competition.
- D. Many students enjoy participating on toga day.
- E. The Pushball event took a lot of teamwork as those Juniors and Seniors proved to us.

- A. Chad Hollinger uses total concentration to aid him in the tug-of-war.
- B. Senior Ron Graber gives his King Candidate speech to the Student Body.
- C. Being nominated for a King or Queen position requires a speech for the student body. Sheril Aldrich delivers her speech as Dave Miller waits to escort her back to her seat.
- D. Being the toughest gang in school, the Outhouse Bandits take their job seriously.
- E. Many couples attended the Homecoming Dance, however there were many people who came by themselves.
- F. During a break in the homecoming Dance, Dee Farster, Lesa Watkins and their dates relax at their table.

Dance Concludes Homecoming

Of course, on Friday night there was the homecoming football game. Lakota beat Eastwood by a four-point advantage. During halftime, Senior King and Queen Candidates Ron Graber and Josie Garcia were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. They reigned over the Homecoming dance on Saturday night. Many students attended and enjoyed the music of Antarez.

- A. The Junior attendant Dee Farster and her escort Earl Wyant anticipate the start of the homecoming game.
- B. The 1982 Homecoming court stand proudly in front of some of the decorations put up for the Homecoming Dance.
- C. In their customary place in the Homecoming procession, Freshman attendant Heidi Holman rides with her escort, Nick Gabel, and the crown bearers.

- A. Walking across the field with her escort, Sophomore Becky Meyer wonders who will be crowned King and Queen.
- B. When the announcement was made that Josie Garcia and Ron Graber had won, their faces showed that they felt happy and surprised.
- C. As Josie and Ron start the King and Queen dance, other couples watch and wait for their turn.
- D. Crown-bearers for this year's festivities were Natalie Boze and Robby Timmons.

Let Me Entertain You

Throughout the year, special assemblies are one of the highlights of a student's busy academic schedule. This year, the student council provided the student body with a trampoline demonstration, a horseshoe pitching demonstration, a guest speaker who talked about his experiences with drugs and alcohol, and the annual Christmas banquet. Student involvement enhanced the enjoyment of these assemblies. The horseshoe demonstration included a duel between Senior Pete Gibson and Mr. Scherger (better luck next time, Pete!) and at the Christmas banquet performances were made by the Mixed Ensemble, the Freeman Family Singers, and the Sound of Praise Double Quarter, all of which contain LHS students.

- A. Carla Shaferly does a fantastic job playing for the ensemble at the Christmas banquet.
- B. After eating his dinner, Tab Bickford relaxes while reading the school newspaper.
- C. Annette Clinger serves the students as they eagerly await their dinner.
- D. At the Christmas banquet, Dawn Campos looks interested as she watches the assembly.

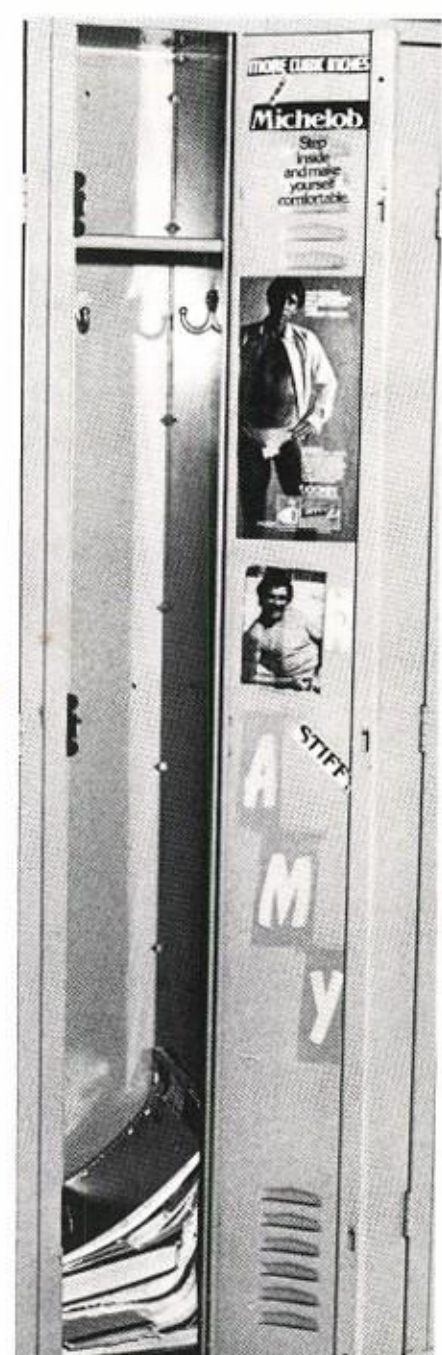

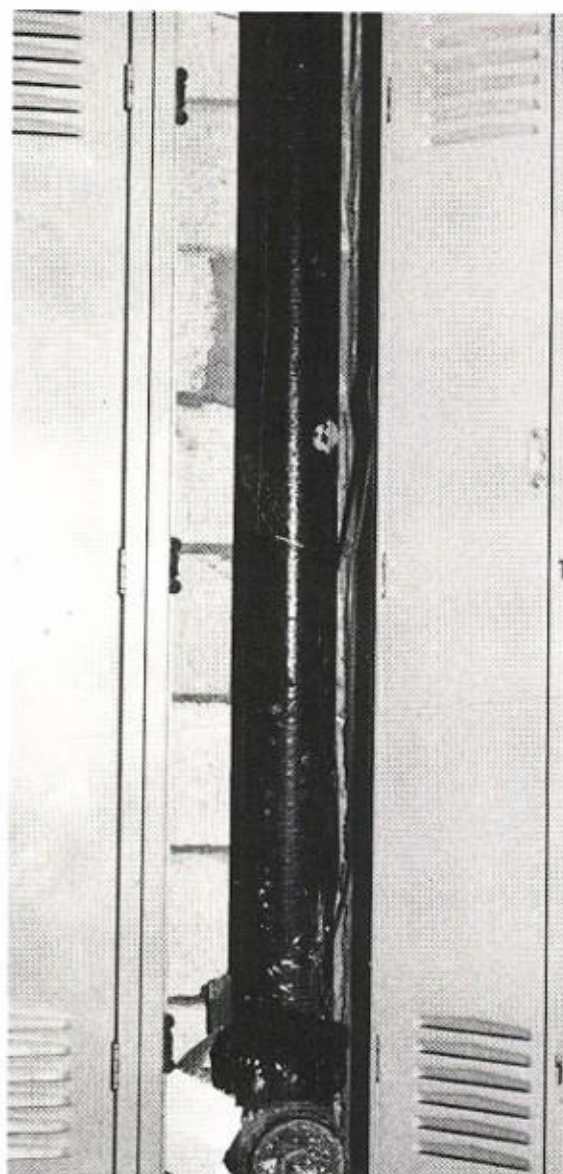

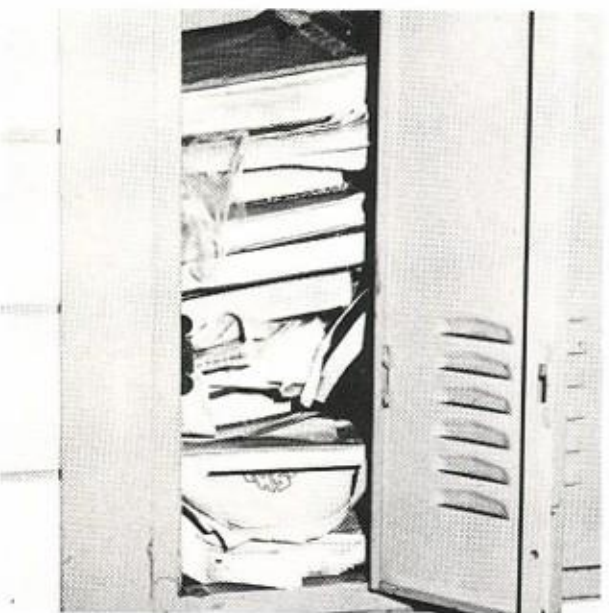

- A. Our guest performer did some expert maneuvers and even threw in a few good jokes during his trampoline demonstration.
- B. Charlotte Coppler, acting as a spotter, laughs as she watches the trampoline act.
- C. Even with his best throwing techniques, Pete Gibson, just can't win the shoe pitching contest.
- D. Obviously enjoying the show, Robin Shaw, Charlene Rupp, and Cheryl Smith offer a big hand.
- E. Mr. Kuchcinski shows the proper way to pitch a horseshoe.
- F. Determination shows on Mr. Scherger's face as he tries to throw a ringer.

Where It's At

Considering that everyone of us spends at least half of every year here at school, it's no wonder that many students make it their second home.

Through the year some people transform their dull lockers into a place "where it's at." It could be anything from a dump-off spot between classes to a little closet with your own number on it, a trash can, or a special place that's made to your perfection.

Many lockers are done up with catchy sayings, macho men and sexy women to catch the eye. However they are done up, it can't be argued — a locker is one place at school that's "where it's at."

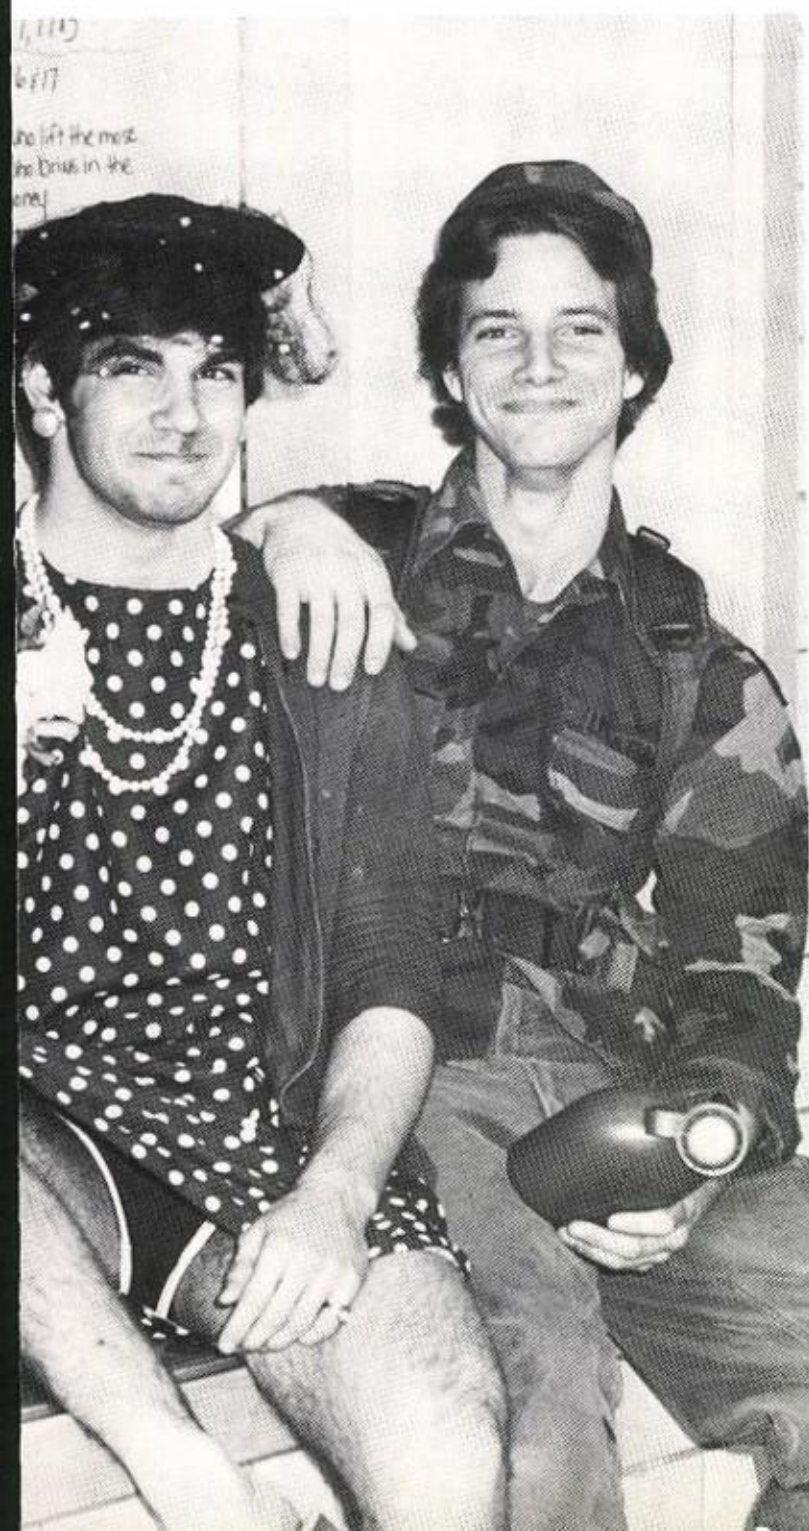

Goodbye, Farewell and Amen

This year at Lakota, students had their chance to make a special salute to one of the longest running shows on television.

On February 28, the final episode of M*A*S*H was aired on Channel 13, but not before the students and faculty said their goodbyes by dressing up as their favorite character during the day. Several people participated in the event throughout the day as the countdown to show time began. A few of the M*A*S*H characters that were here at LHS were: Clinger (Ron Graber), Father Mulcahy (Helen Graber), B.J. (Loren Bowe) and many other members of the M*A*S*H crew.

The day was a great success for all involved and it proved to be an eye catcher too, as the local papers also ran coverage of this once-in-a-lifetime event.

- A. Working hard to keep the M*A*S*H headquarters operating in full swing is June Stevens.
- B. Trying to keep a low profile in enemy territory (Senior Math), Loren Bowe tries to keep movement to a null.
- C. The whole crew posing for their last picture before returning home.
- D. In his favorite dress, Clinger (Ron Graber) jokes around with war buddy, Gary Holman.
- E. Francis Stahl, DeAnn Farster, and Charlotte Coppler wait in line — a common occurrence in the life of a soldier.

82-83 in Review

Each year, many new and different changes come about. There are new lives brought into the world, and there are lives taken out. New techniques and new treatments are experimented with; some successful, some not. Movies and television provide entertainment.

And although a lot of good comes about each year, there are also hard times. Many people are jobless as unemployment soars; murders take place without justified cause.

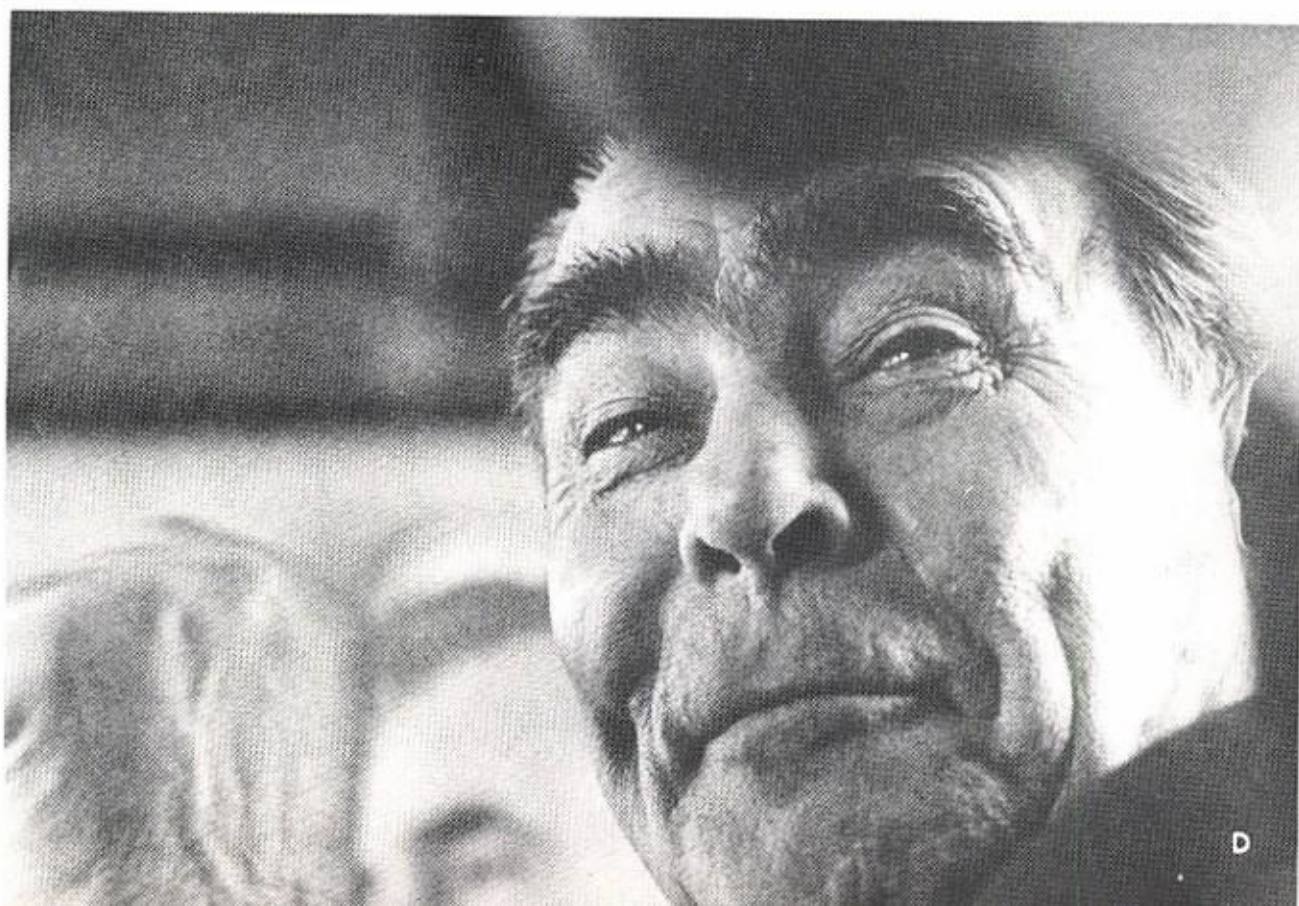

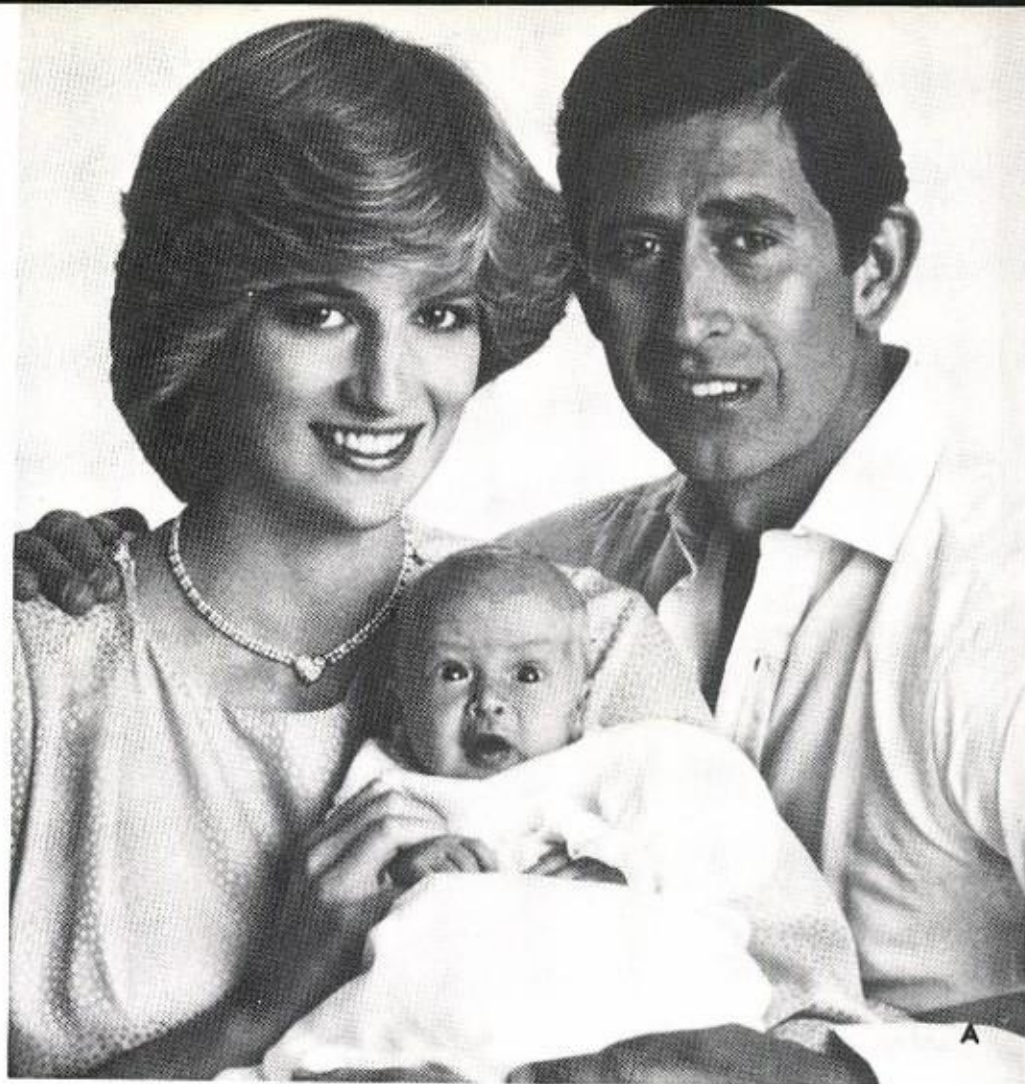

Before you know it, another year has passed and you are left with only guesses as to what will happen in the years to come.

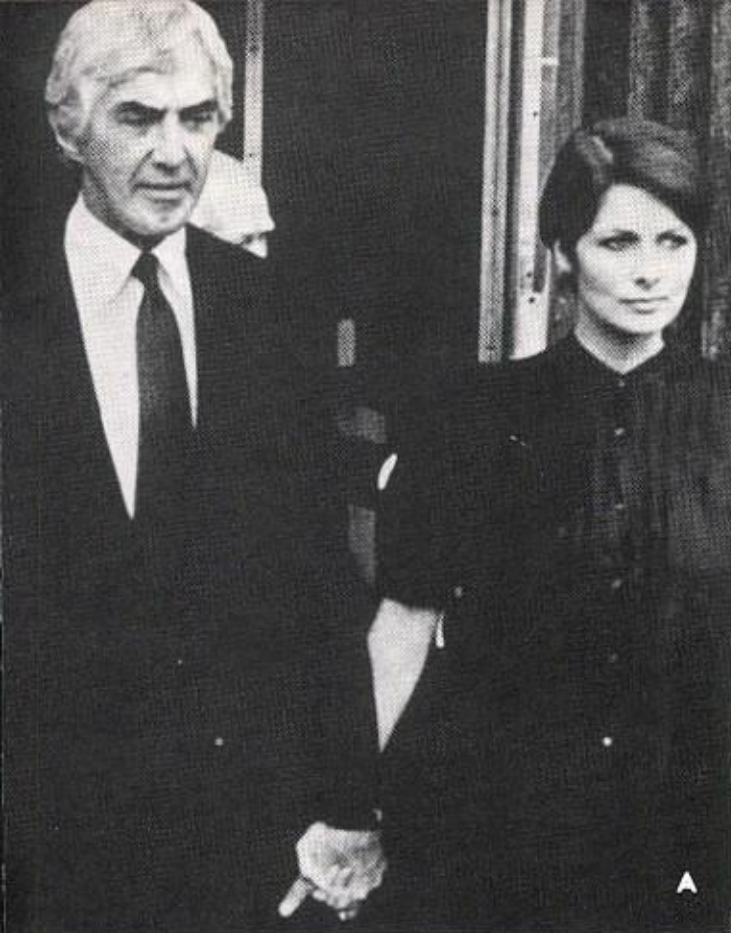

A. Prince William, the royal baby, was born on June 21, 1982, to the Prince and Princess of Wales.

B. The small alien, E.T., shared with millions his first adventure of life on Earth.

C. Dorothy Michaels (played by Dustin Hoffman) captured the hearts of Americans as a soap star who does it her way.

D. Russian leader Leonid Brezhnev died November 10, 1982, at the age of 75.

A. The DeLorean Motor Company filed bankruptcy after the owner, John DeLorean, was arrested on a cocaine charge.

B. Barney Clark received the first artificial permanent heart on December 22, 1982. He died on March 23, 1983, three months after the implant took place.

C. Movie queen Grace Kelly, Princess of Monaco, lost her life in a tragic auto accident on September 14, 1982.

D. "The Thorn Birds," a mini-series second in ratings only to "Roots," was a somewhat controversial love story.

E. "The Winds of War," mini-series displayed an inside look at WWII.

F. The disaster, known as the "Tylenol Incident," left seven people dead after an unknown killer placed cyanide in capsules of Tylenol.

OKLAHOMA!

To create a setting for Oklahoma, the stage was transformed to the Indian Territory (now Oklahoma) and the time was sent back to just after the turn of the century.

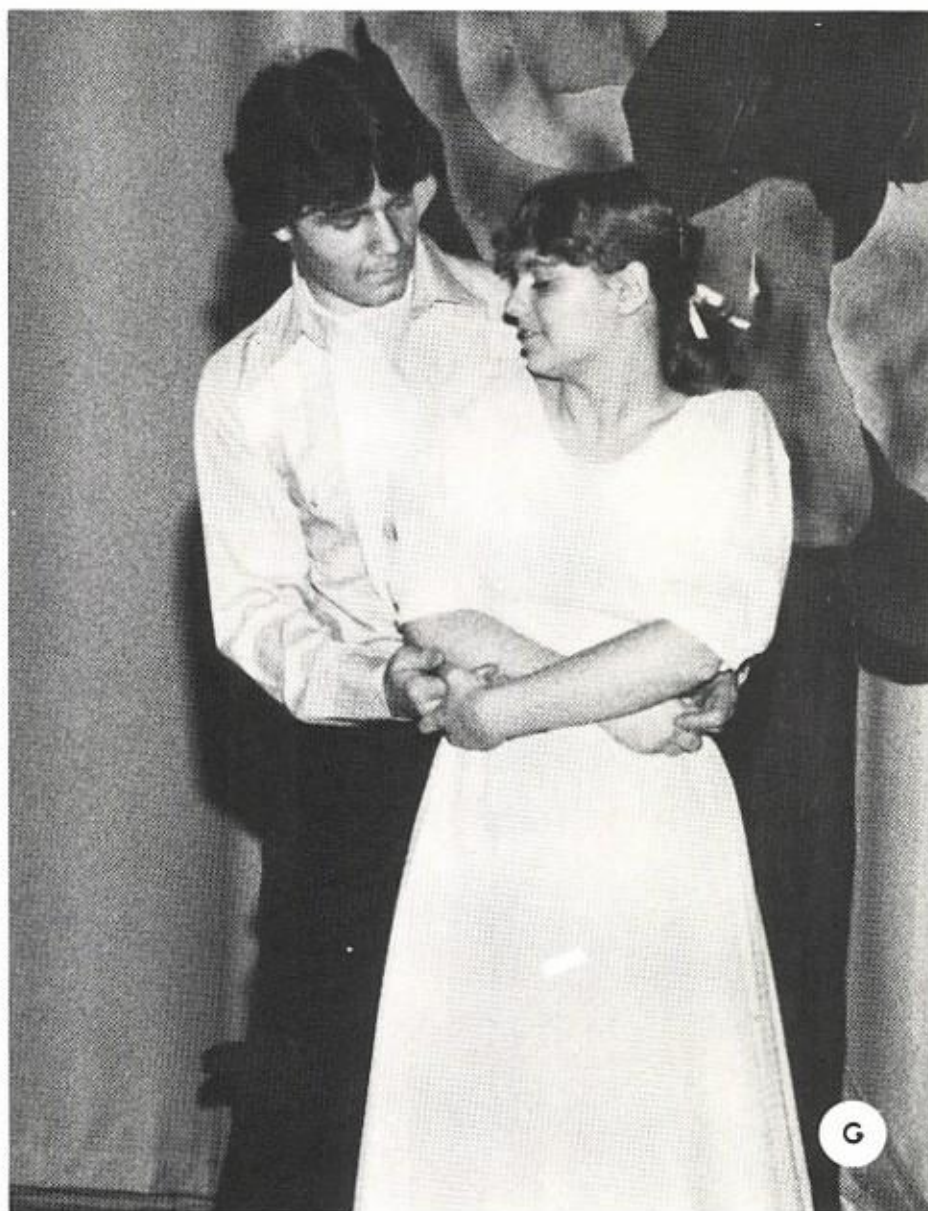

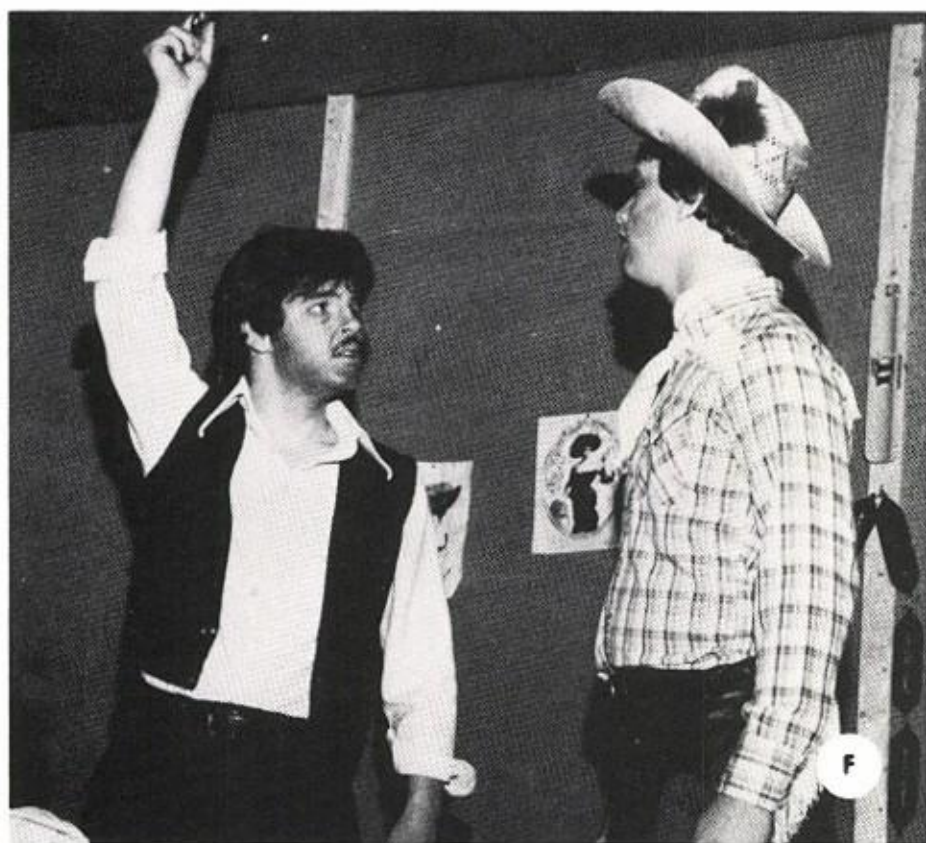

Fifty-three cast and crew members prepared for two months to dance and sing on stage, introducing Aunt Eller (Tammy James), Curly (Ken Keckler), and Laurey (Kelly Kimmet) to full-house audiences in two performances.

The leading characters were well-chosen and did a superb job of bringing their roles to life. Mr. Gary Keller, play director, and Ms. Dee Fleeman, set director, made it a musical to remember!

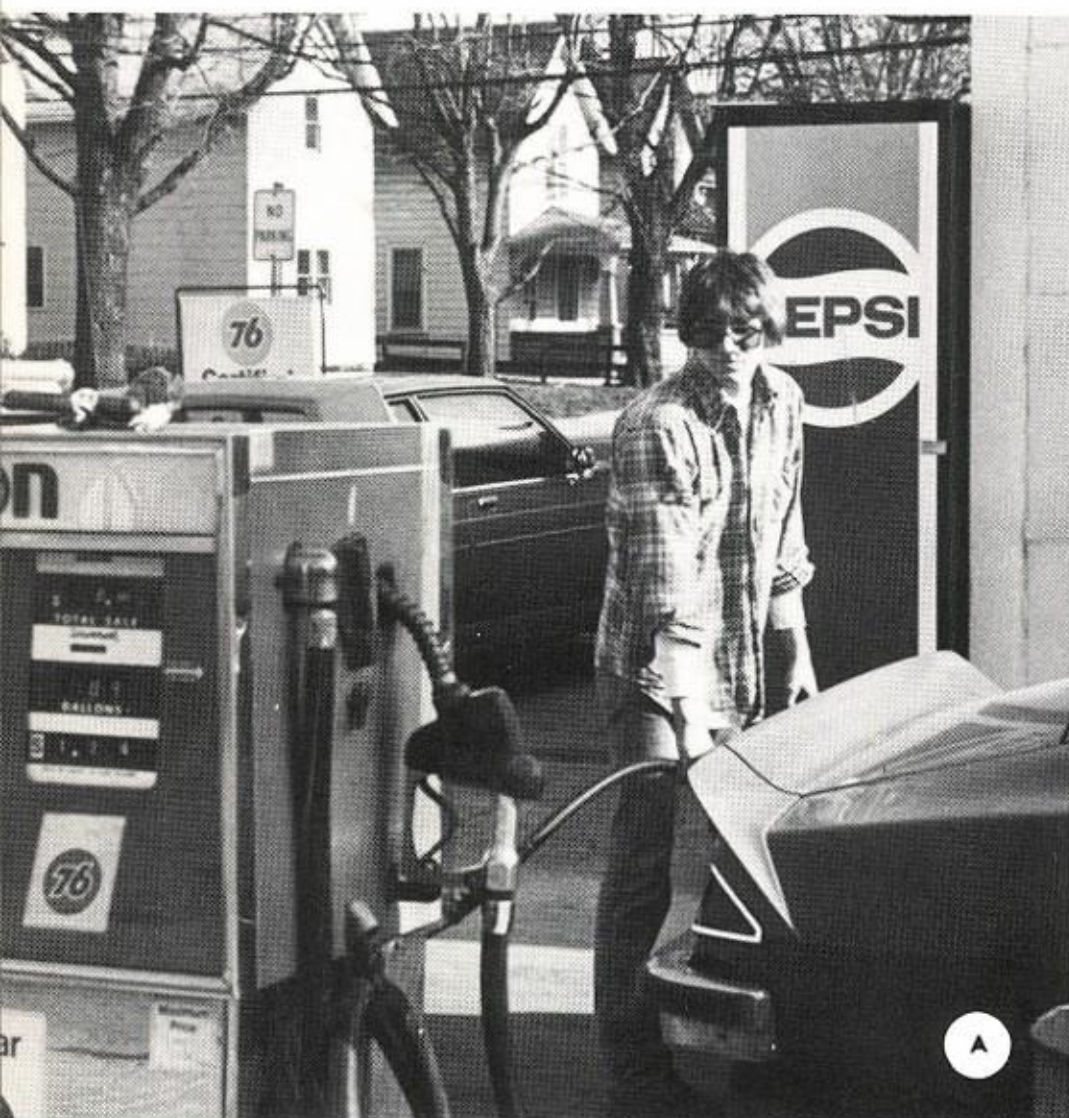

- A. Curly (Ken Keckler) tries to woo Laurey (Kelly Kimmet) with his charm and singing.
- B. Laurey (Kelly Kimmet) casts a loathsome look at Gertie Cummings (Robin Keller) when she shows up on the arm of Curly (Ken Keckler).
- C. Aunt Eller (Tammy James) tells Ali Hakim (Tim James) how it's going to be.
- D. With Aunt Eller's blessing, Laurey and Curly finally tie the knot.
- E. Director Gary Keller looks on as the play progresses.
- F. Shooting his gun, Jud Fry (David Stevens) gives Curly — and the audience — a bit of a scare.
- G. "Dream Curly" and "Dream Laurey" (Mike Below and Paula Copas) get awakened from their dream too soon.
- H. Mica Graber does an excellent song-and-dance routine as he portrays Will Parker.

"OKLAHOMA" CAST AND CREW — Front Row: Diane Carlo, Brian Walters, Valerie Keller, Micah Graber, Bill Price, Rick Kline, Tammy James, Ken Keckler, Kelly Kimmer, Tim James, Robin Keller, Joe Podach, Paula Copas, Dana Rice, Mrs. Barbara Stevens. Row 2: Linda Snyder, Jeff Stevenson, Dawn Rogier, Shelley Kiser, Desia Holcombe, Tom Boucher, Mike Below, Dave Stevens, Kerry Conrad, Danny Biddle, Malinda Null, Mrs. Gail Yount, Brenda Ickes, Mr. Christopher Brookes. Row 3: Mr. Gary Keller, Michele McClure, Eric Beam, Jolene Parks, Maria Lindstrom, Lorrel Mullholand, Troy Brubaker, Julee KaSavage, Mrs. Sherrie Adams, Amy Findlay, Wendy Litton, Ms. Marcia Redding, Rev. Row 4: Mrs. Dee Fleeman, Mrs. Alberta Babione, Mrs. Darlene Dennis, Stefanie Dennis, Lisa Roberts, Scott Bateson, Wendy Keller, Jim Schmidutz, Gary Holman, Adam Flanagan, Dave Carlo, Jerry Kimmer, Scott Snyder, Mr. Bill Snyder.

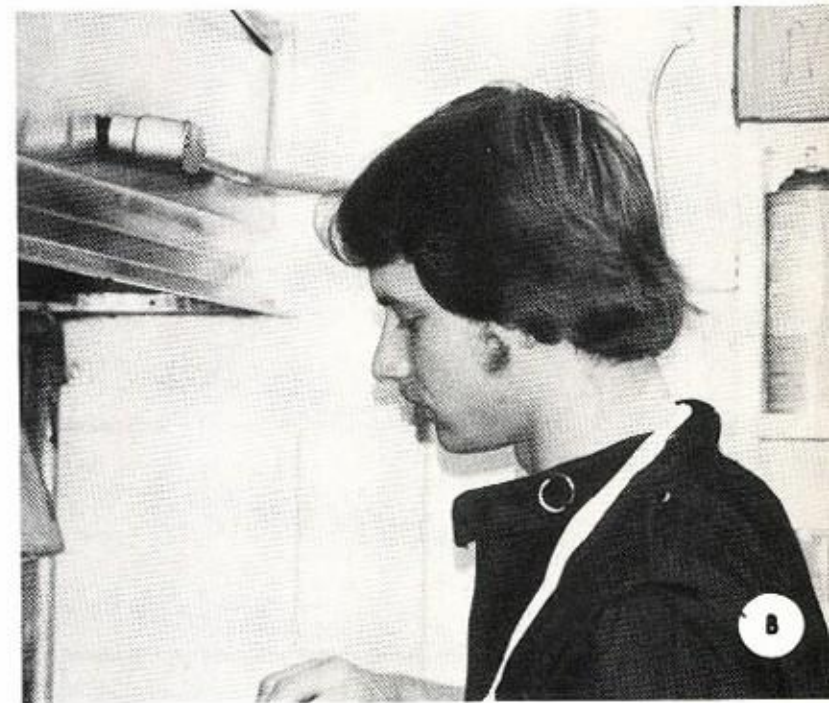

- A. Pumping gas may not be the most pleasant-smelling job, but for Dana Rice, the pay makes up for it.
- B. Chuck Papenfus spends his weekends in the kitchen of Sam's Family Restaurant washing dishes.
- C. Working many hours a week, John McGowan prepares buns for Hardee's sandwiches.
- D. Using her skills as a McDonald's cook, Chris Copas gets an order of Big Macs ready to go.

The Buck Is Worth the Hassle

Jobs this year were an item that was on the scarce list. With more people out of work than ever before in U.S. history, many students found it hard to get a job.

For some people, though, lady luck came through. Most high school students had to settle for the work shifts in fast-food restaurants. Some students did get better jobs, such as working in department stores, gas stations, or even creating their own business.

Working students often find their extra-activities schedule depleted because of their job. Most weekends are given up for work, as are several days during the week. This leaves little time for anything else. When that weekend off does come around, however, they at least have a few dollars in their pocket.

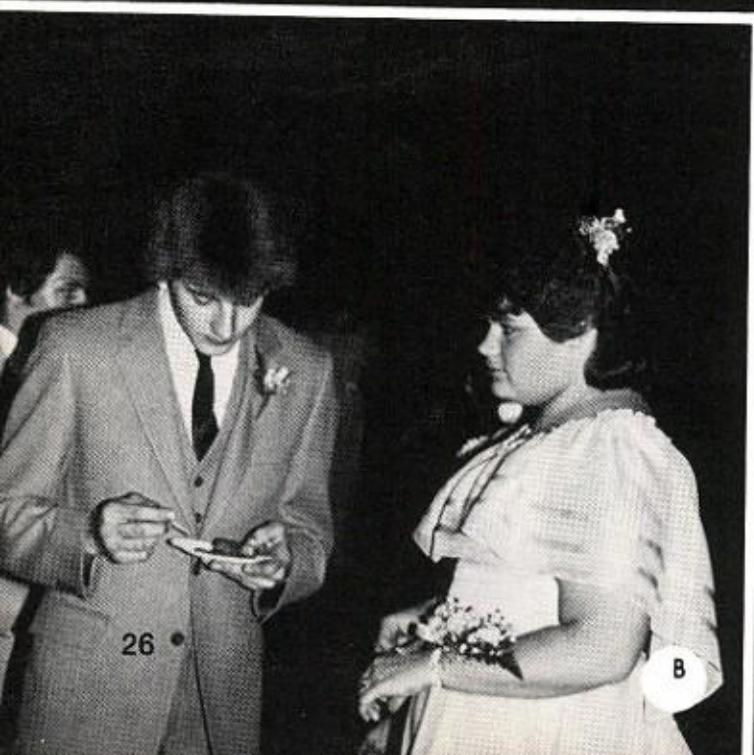

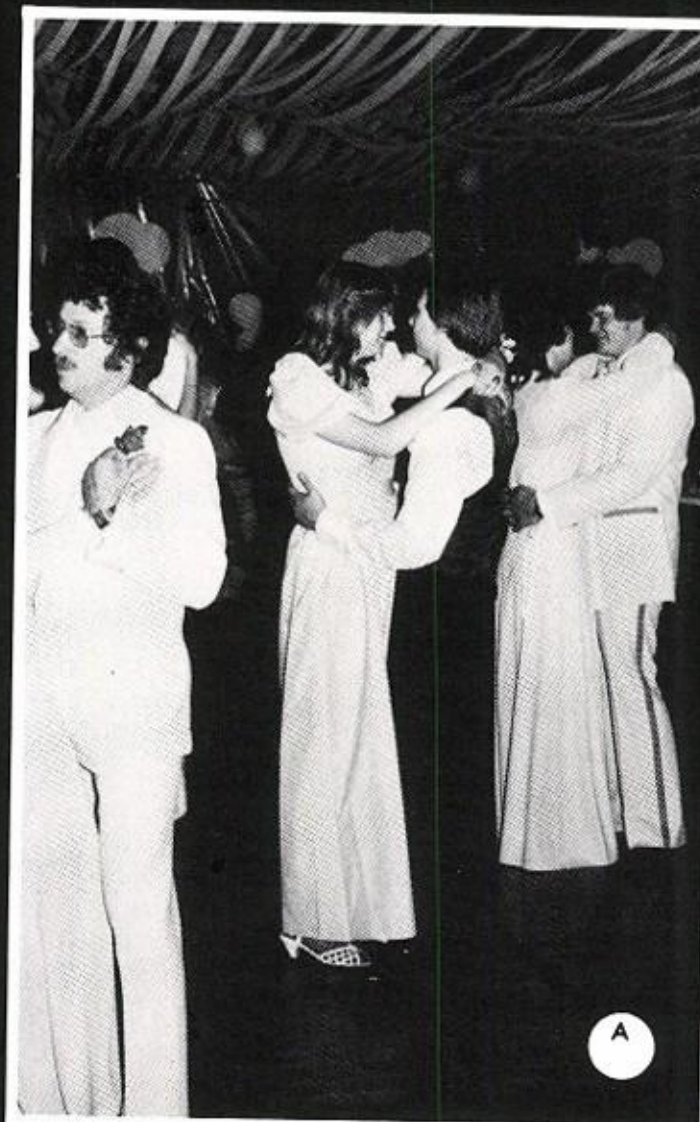

- A. Jerry Vitte uses his musical talents to earn some money on weekends by giving guitar lessons.
- B. Working in the kitchen of the Black Cat, Gary Holman cooks dinner for an awaiting customer.
- C. As stockperson, Greg Harman is kept busy stacking shelves at K-Mart in Fostoria.

THIS ONE'S FOR YOU

The Junior-Senior Prom of 1983 was held on May 7 with Dave Miller and Sheril Aldrich reigning the event as King and Queen.

The theme of the prom was, This One's For You. The prom was completed with a large mural and rainbow at one end, surrounded with clouds, and silver raindrops.

- A. The band, Nevermore, provided the music for the evening.
- B. Enjoying the refreshments provided are Brad Murray and Julie Kasavage.
- C. Earl Wyant, Laura Holman and Nancy Saalman enjoy sitting this dance out and watching the others.

- A The Sophomores provided servers to help out at prom
- B Prom King and Queen, Dave Miller and Sheril Aldrich, share their royal dance
- C Robin and Wendy Keller share their secrets of the evening
- D Rob McCachren and his date pose for pictures in front of a rainbow

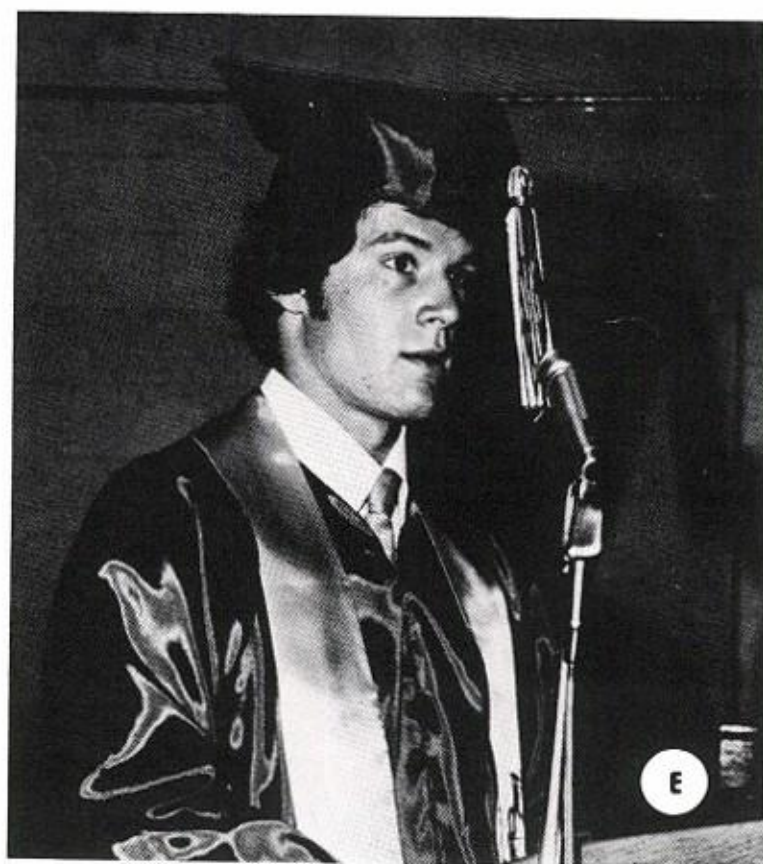

The Future of Today

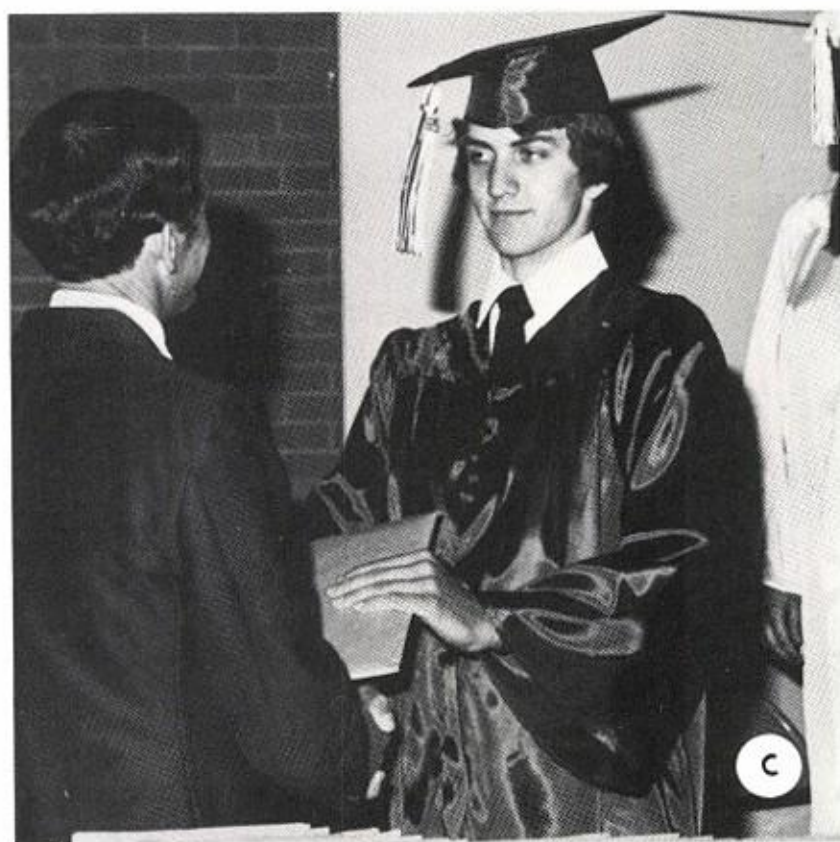

Graduation is a special time for each person in their own special way. Every senior has worked in their own way to achieve this goal in life.

Spending 4 years of our life together, we have all become the best of friends — working, playing, and learning many things. We all have special memories to take with us from here.

The class of '83' has been outstanding in the areas of academics, sports, and overall achievements through our four years here. We can only hope this ability will show through each one of us after graduation — if it does we will succeed in all we do.

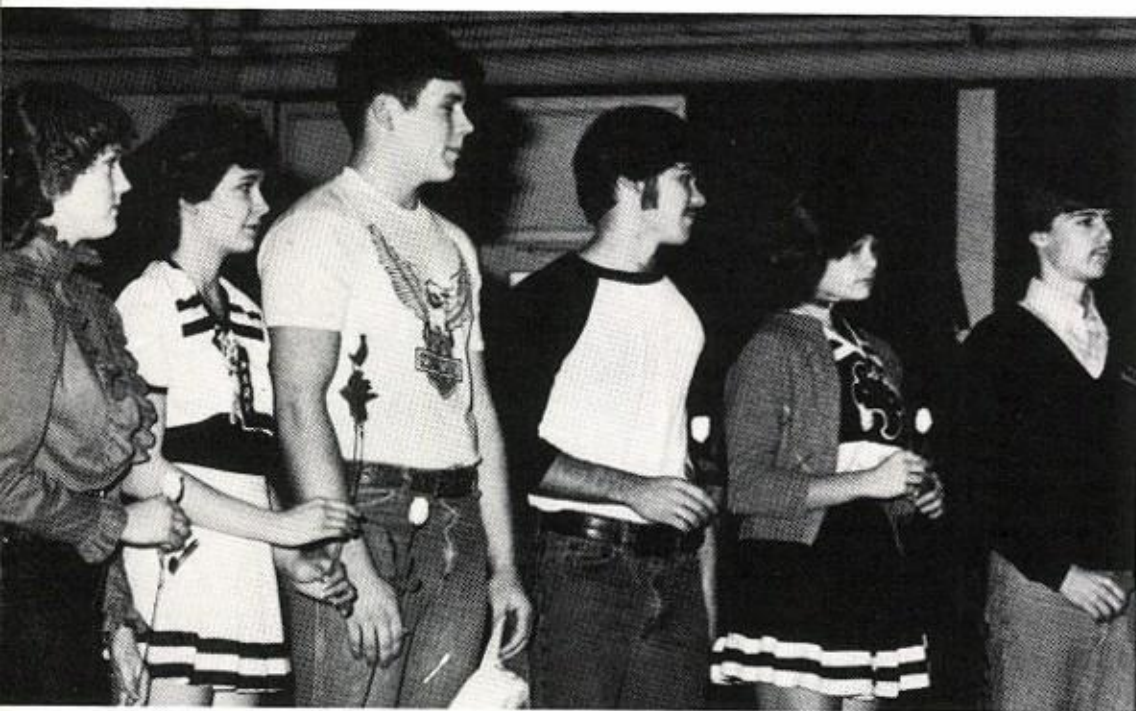

The highlight of every graduating senior is when they finally receive their diploma. It gives us a feeling of completion. It also makes us realize that our years together as Lakota Class of '83' are over. It is an emotional time, one of sadness because of departure. Hopefully it is also a time of happiness because of our ability now to go into the world now and leave our mark. If each senior can do that, working and sharing with others in life, our years here at Lakota have paid off.

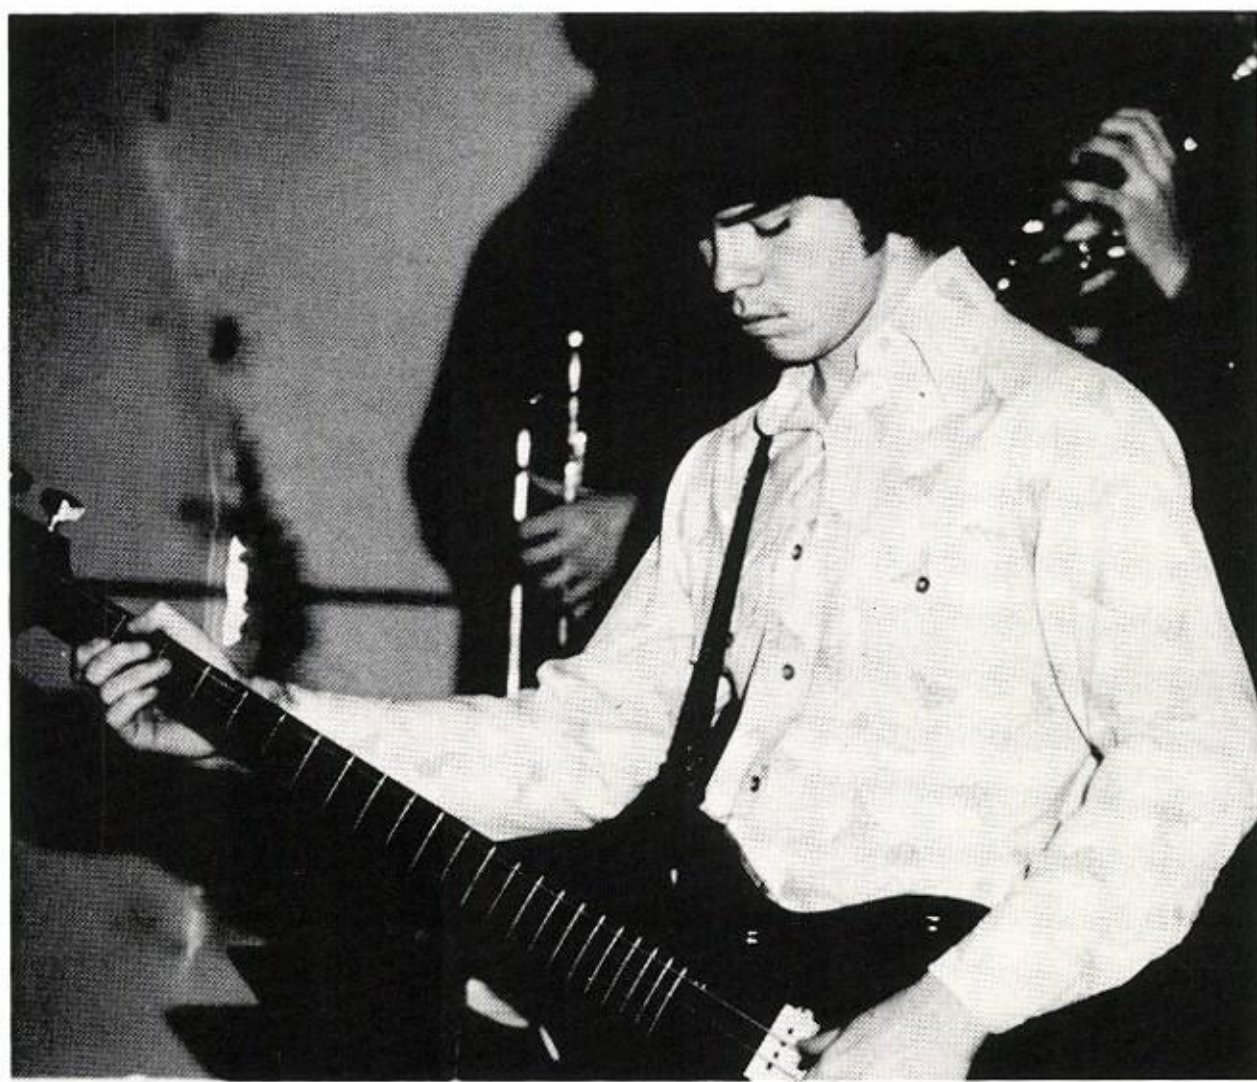

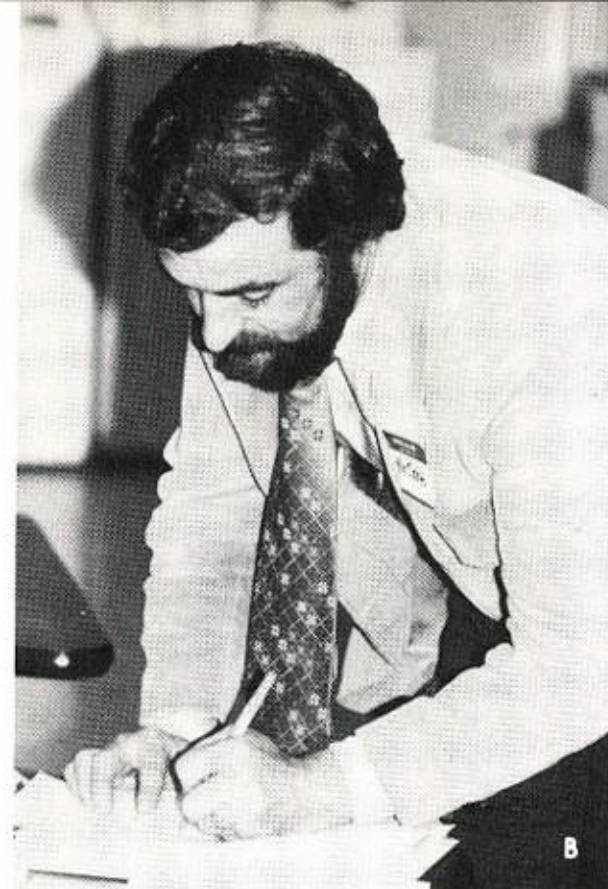

- A. Rick Miller begins his final march up the aisle.
- B. Seniors assemble in the cafeteria to discuss the last minute details of the ceremony.
- C. Final hat adjustments on Tim Cox is made by Lori Bowman.
- D. Board member Ned Fairbanks congratulates senior Jon Rosser.
- E. Pete Gibson offers the class of '83" their final farewell.

ORGANIZATIONS

Letting Their Leadership Shine

Being on Student Council fulfills a student's role as a leader in high school and sets a basis for leadership skills throughout a person's life.

Student Council offers all students a chance to actively participate in high school life through several projects and events. With homecoming, dress-up days, banquets, assemblies, and dances, every student has the opportunity to have some fun.

Everything that the Student Council does, however, is not fun. Their major goal this year was to receive the Honor Council Award. With every member working together, they accomplished their goal.

Another important part of Student Council is that of role setting — in any area. This year they did numerous projects to try and improve the school. With the restrooms painted, lines on the parking lot, and cleaning the welcome mats, they have set a good role in caring for our school.

Student Council is a very busy organization throughout the year and, in one way or another, it touches every student.

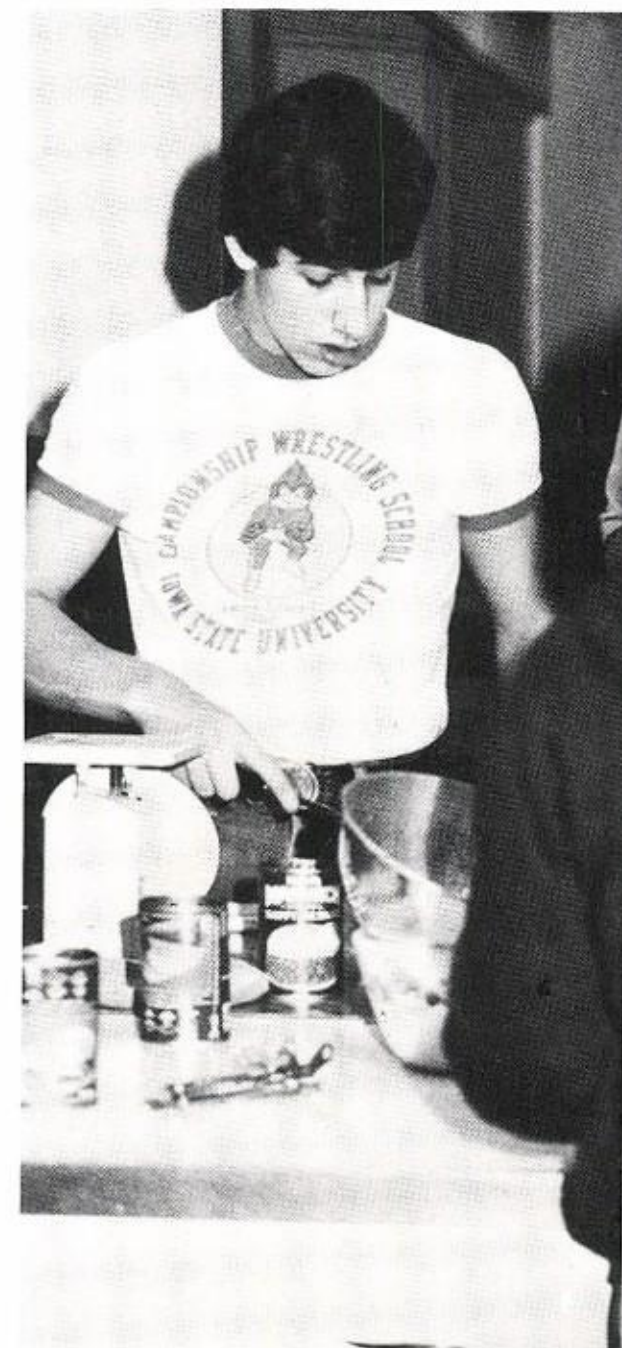

A. Pat Brickner listens closely to an explanation of what will be expected of him if he is selected to office.

B. Being advisor takes a lot of hard work and patience; even more so if it is the first year you've done it. Mr. Szabo handled the position very well and had a successful student council.

C. Miss Stoudinger and June Stevens seem to be enjoying the luncheon prepared for them.

D. Andrea Elchert pays close attention as the topics of importance are brought up at a meeting.

E. A lot of preparation goes into each event the Student Council plans. Shawn Cooley prepares sandwiches for the Teacher Appreciation Luncheon.

A. Student Council President, Gary Holman, has a lot of responsibility on his shoulders, but always manages to keep everything under control.

B. STUDENT COUNCIL — Front Row: Stacey Dennis, Eva Peeler, Amy Hollinger. Row 2: Jim Slick, Natalie Below, Lisa Redieck, Jolene Park. Row 3: Amy Findlay, Becky Meyer, Angie Clinger, Tammy James. Row 4: Mr. Szabo, Shawn Cooley, Jim Rader, Pat Brickner. Row 5: Stefanie Dennis, DeeAnn Farster, Mary Haubert, Karen Reinhart. Row 6: Charlotte Copple, Robin Wilson, Andrea Elchert. Row 7: Gary Holman, Dave Miller, Loren Bowe, Marlene Hoffman, Tonya Peters. Row 8: Ron Graber, Curt Richards, Rob McCachren, Pete Gibson.

C. Homecoming Spirit Week is always a big event during the year. After a lot of hard work, Student Council members Karen Reinhart and Charlotte Coppler sit down and enjoy the games.

D. Natalie Below and Lisa Redieck sit quietly as the minutes from the last meeting are read.

E. Each year a workshop is held for the people running for a new office. Becky Meyer explains what jobs she was responsible for as secretary of her class.

NHS

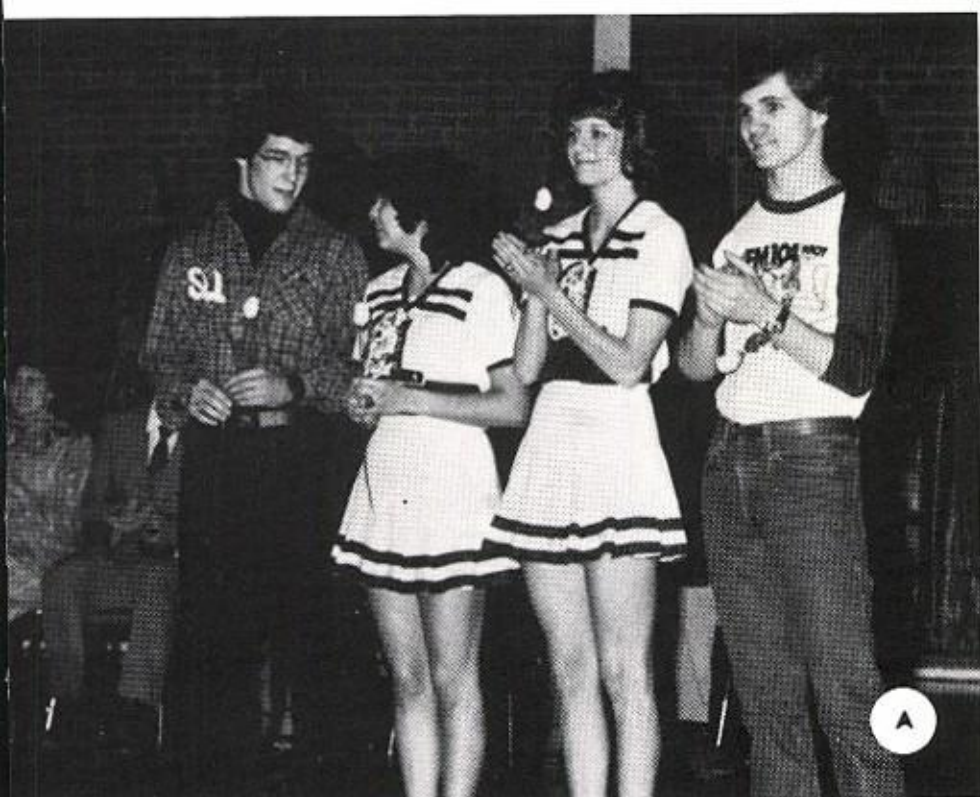

The National Honor Society consisted of 28 members this year. They were responsible for organizing and hosting the Annual Honors Banquet for all the students who made the honor roll for five six-weeks. The 28 NHS members had their work cut out for them this year. They did everything from sending invitations to each student to decorating Ole Zim's to preparing the program and arranging for a speaker. A lot of time is spent in planning and preparing for this event and it is always a special evening.

Mrs. Linda James deserved some special recognition. Though it was her first year as NHS advisor, she did a good job helping the group not only with the Honors Banquet but also with the NHS flower sale and the various other activities they were engaged in throughout the year.

- A. During the NHS induction, Lisa Watkins and Michele Timmons take part in the candlelight ceremony.
- B. NHS Advisor, Mrs. Linda James, makes the necessary introductions at the Honors Banquet.
- C. Beth Huth and Julie McClure find things to talk about during the Induction ceremony.

A. New NHS members Pete Gibson, Josie Garcia, Sheril Aldrich, and Loren Bowe applaud the other newcomers.

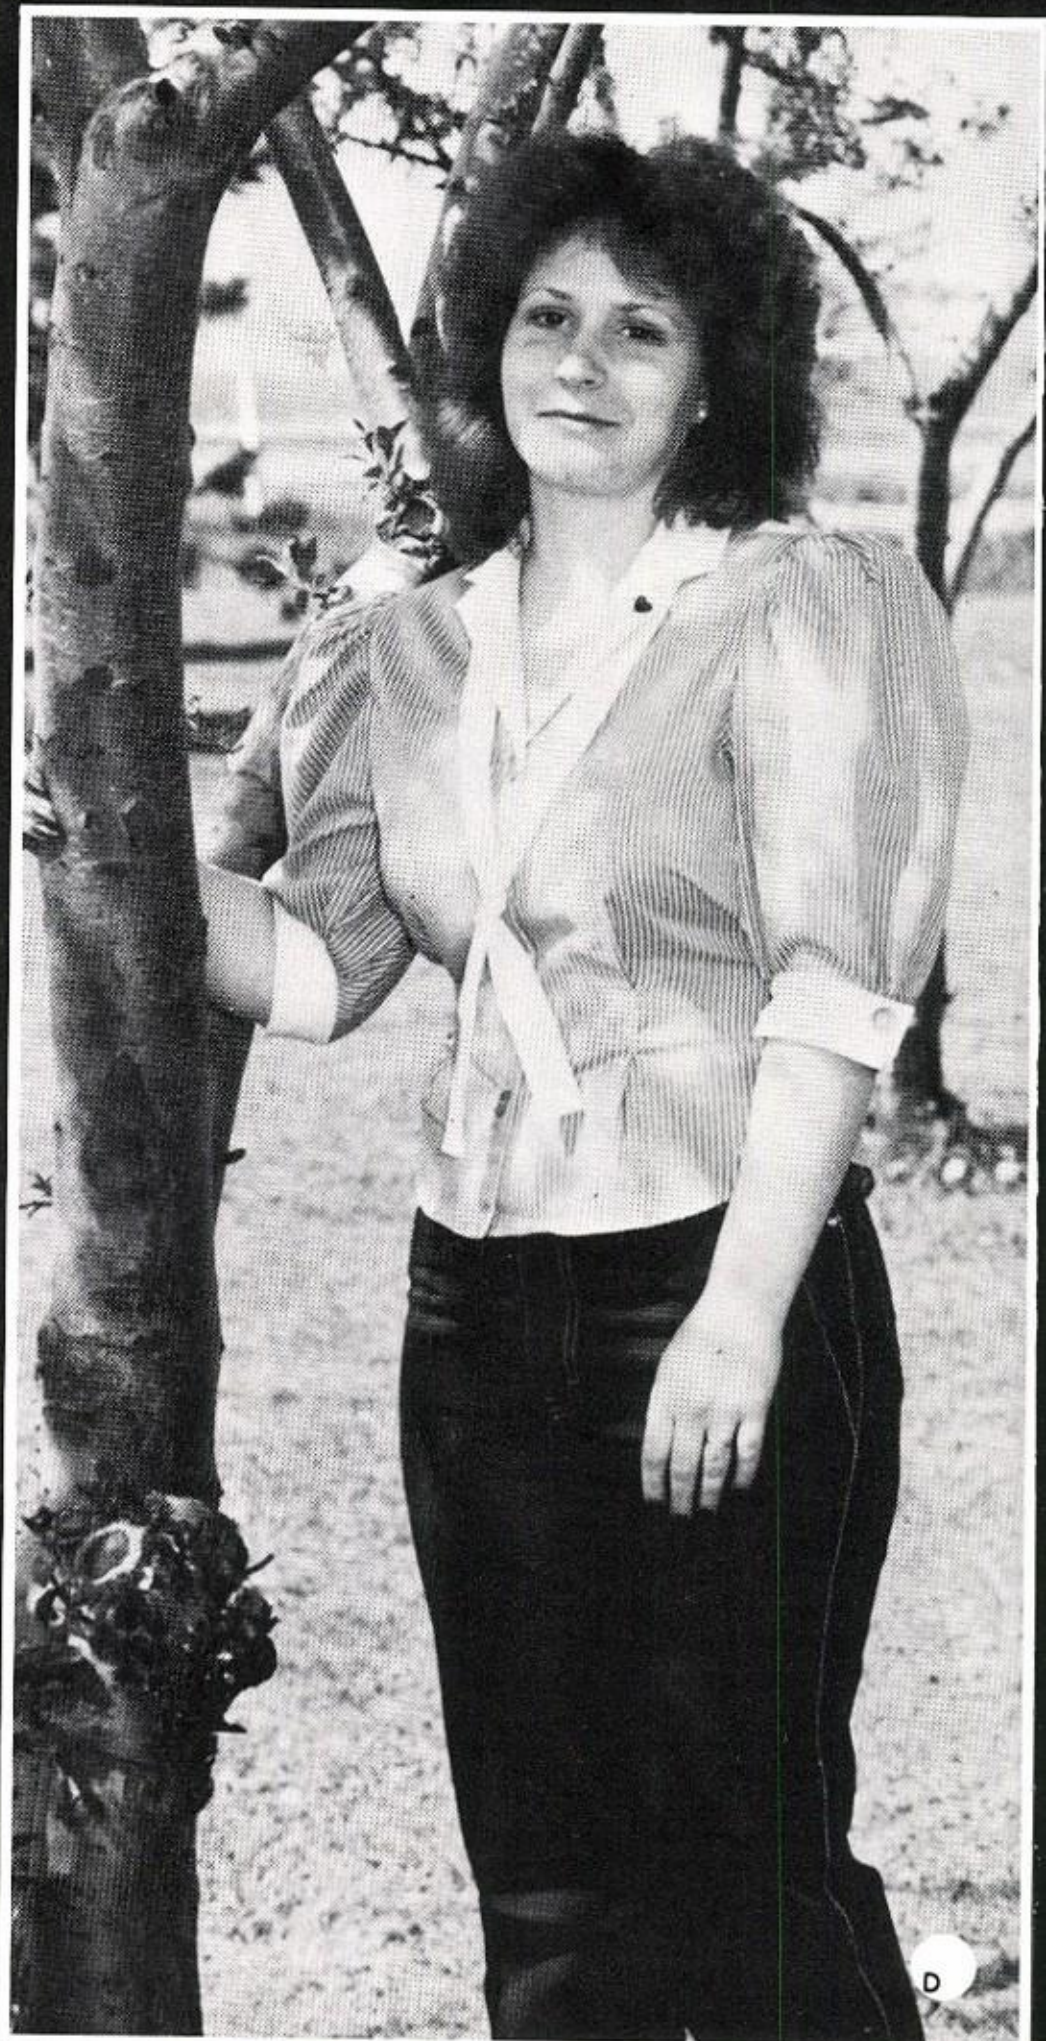

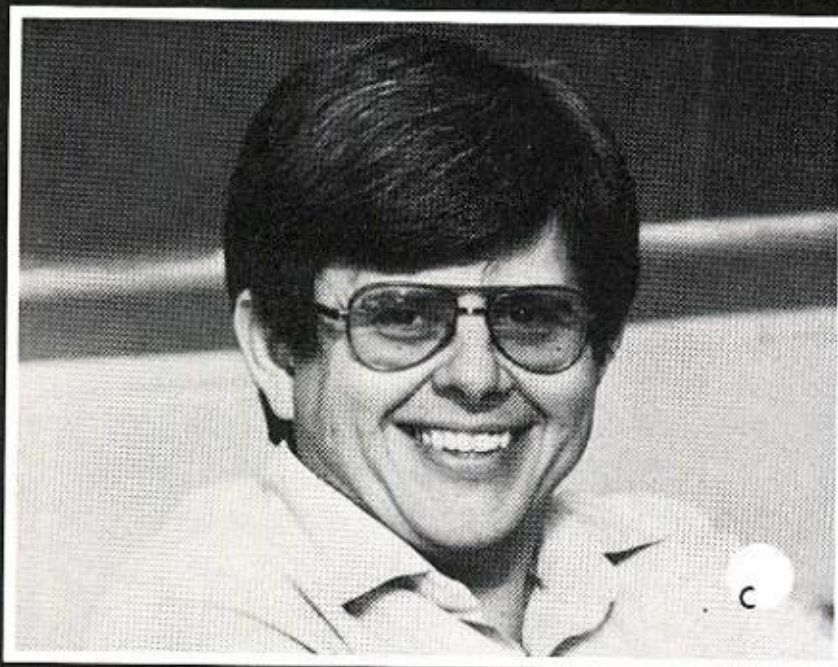

B. Mary Schade is congratulated by Doug Nieser on her new membership.

C. At the Honors Banquet, speaker Father Gorman keeps everyone laughing with his delightful humor.

D. President Amy Naderer explains the basic qualities that NHS members must have.

E. After her name was called as a new member, Sheril Aldrich is greeted with a handshake and a rose by Andy Garcia.

F. NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY — On Ground: Rick Miller, Bill Whersel, Andy Boice, Loren Bowe, Tim Wasserman, Andy Garcia, Doug Nieser. Sitting: Gary Holman, Lynette Timmons, Marlene Hoffman, Tanya Peters, Beth Huth, Julie McClure, Josie Garcia, Angie Holman, Sheril Aldrich, Lisa Watkins, Mary Schade, Karen Reinhart, Amy Naderer, Dawn Rogier. Standing: Rick Kline, Mrs. Linda James, Dave Miller, Mark Turpin, Pete Gibson, Dorothy Corbin, Marlene Hoffman, Mary Haubert.

A. Taylor Yearbook Representative, Tom Keiss, conducting theme workshop.

B. Brenda Rausher and Angie Clinger — Sophomore Editors.

C. Jim Wertz — Annual Staff Advisor and photographer.

D. Julie McClure — Editor-in-chief.

E. Gary Holman — photographer, copy writer, and countless other tasks.

F. Jon Otermat and Marlene Hoffman — Senior Editors.

G. Kara McGough — Junior Editor, Curriculum; and Beth Huth — Curriculum.

I. Gary Holman, Mary Haubert, Lorrel Mullholand, and Kara McGough brainstorm at yearbook workshop.

... this is it!

Every year it is done.

Every day someone is working on it.

Every fall many have one.

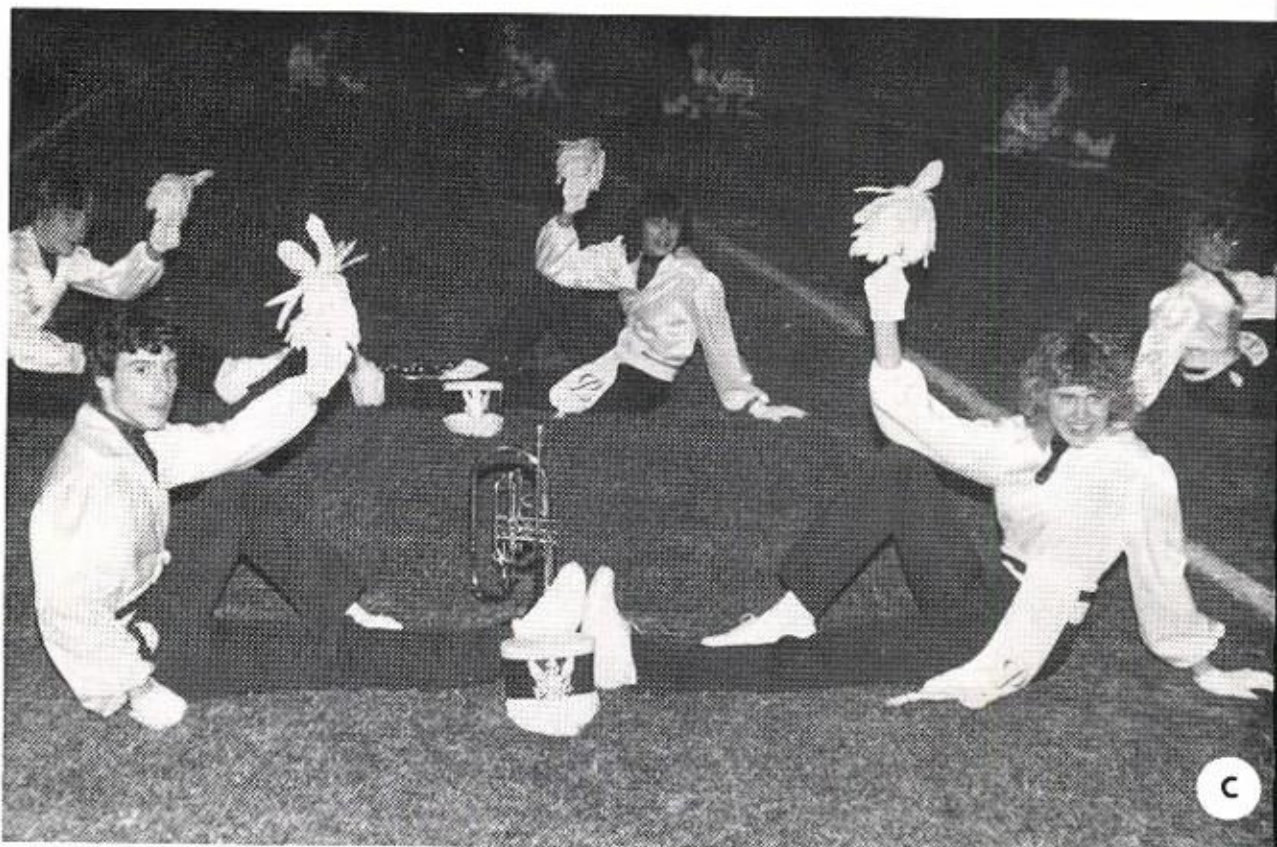

A yearbook is special to each person in their very own way. It is that much more special to those who put their time and effort into making it.

After several days of brainstorming for a theme, "this is it!" was finally chosen. A theme should say it all, and this one does. Once something is over, all that remains is memories. Through this yearbook, however, those memories can last and be fresh in your mind for years to come. This book is for you. "This is it!" and the entire annual staff hopes you enjoy it and treasure it always.

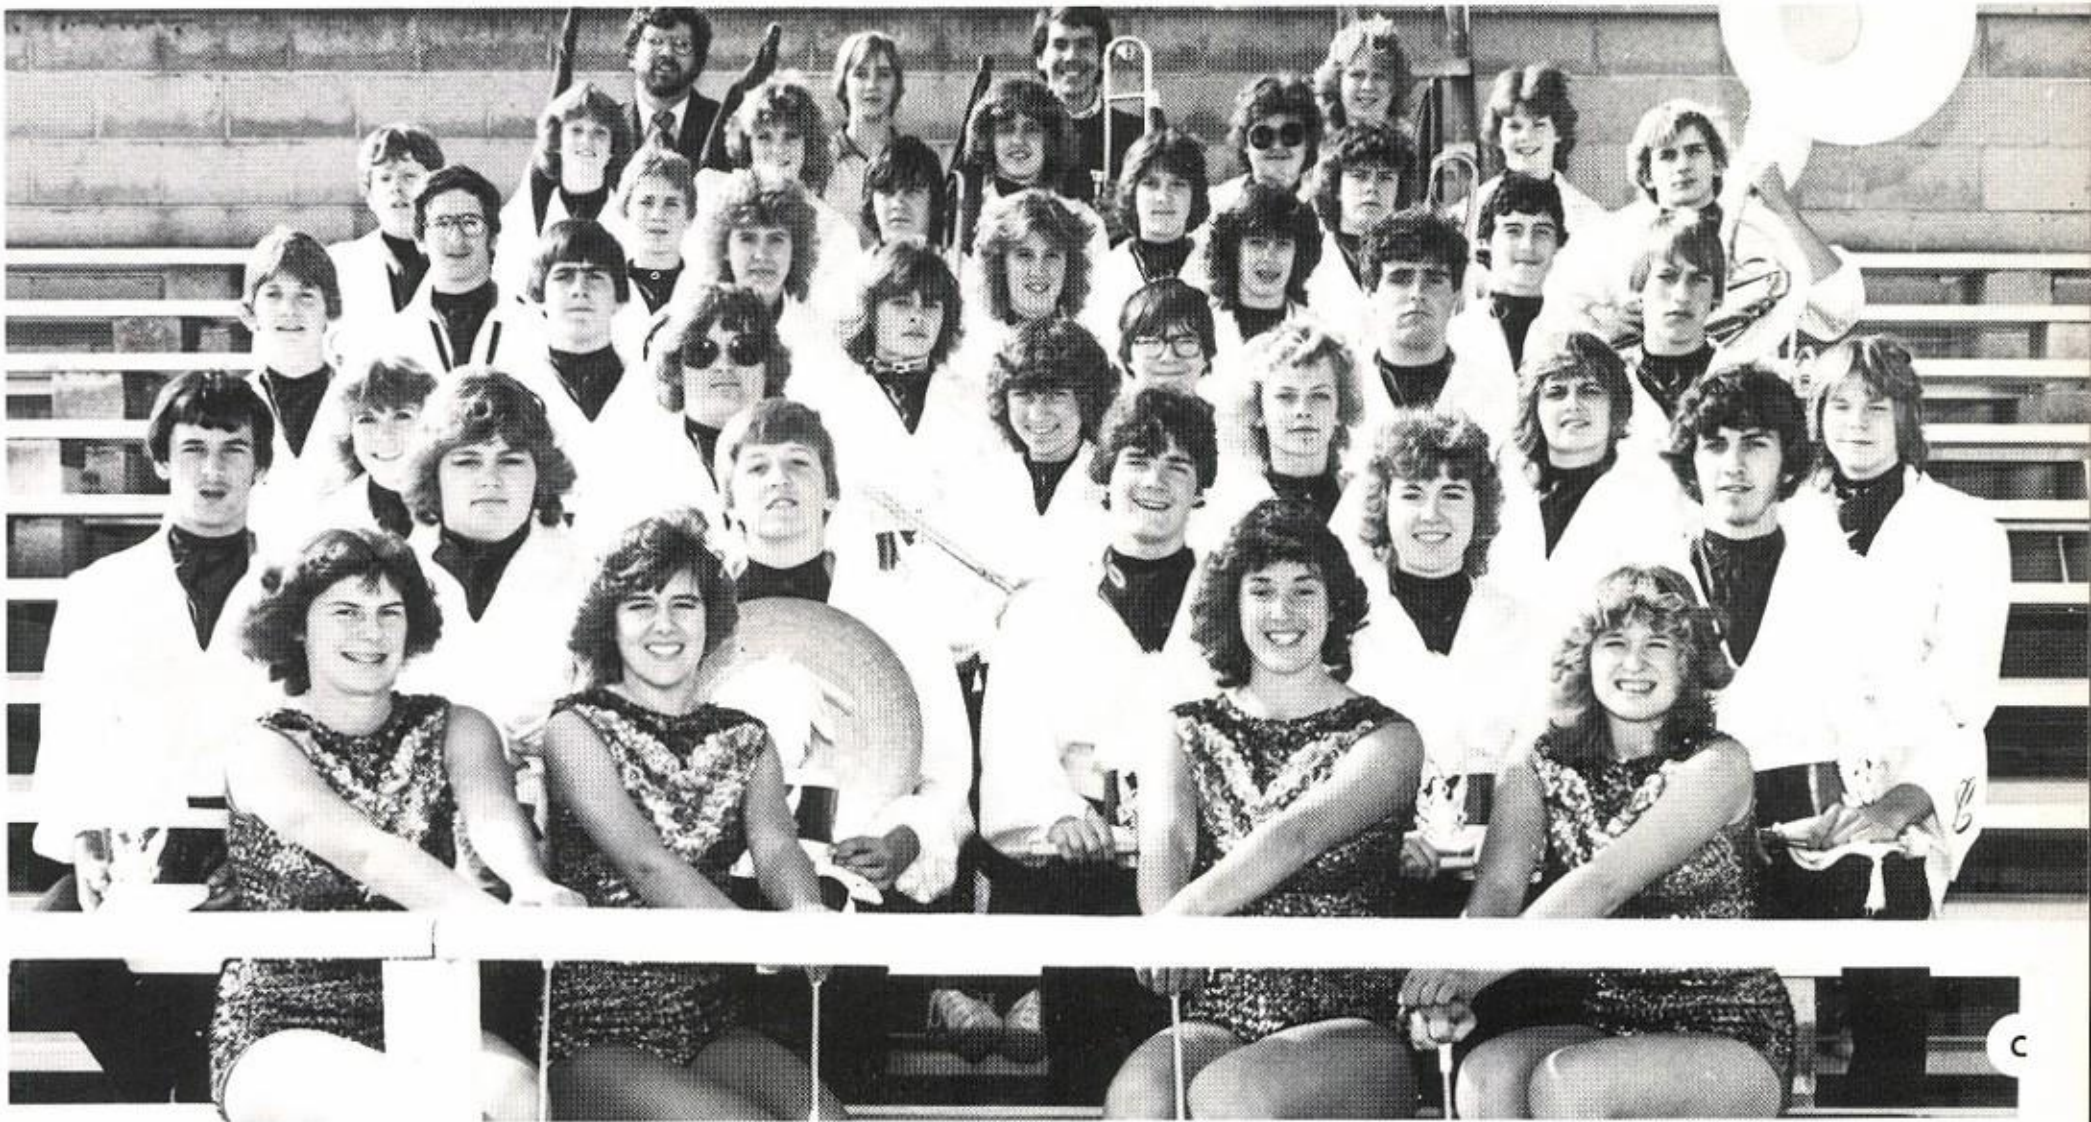

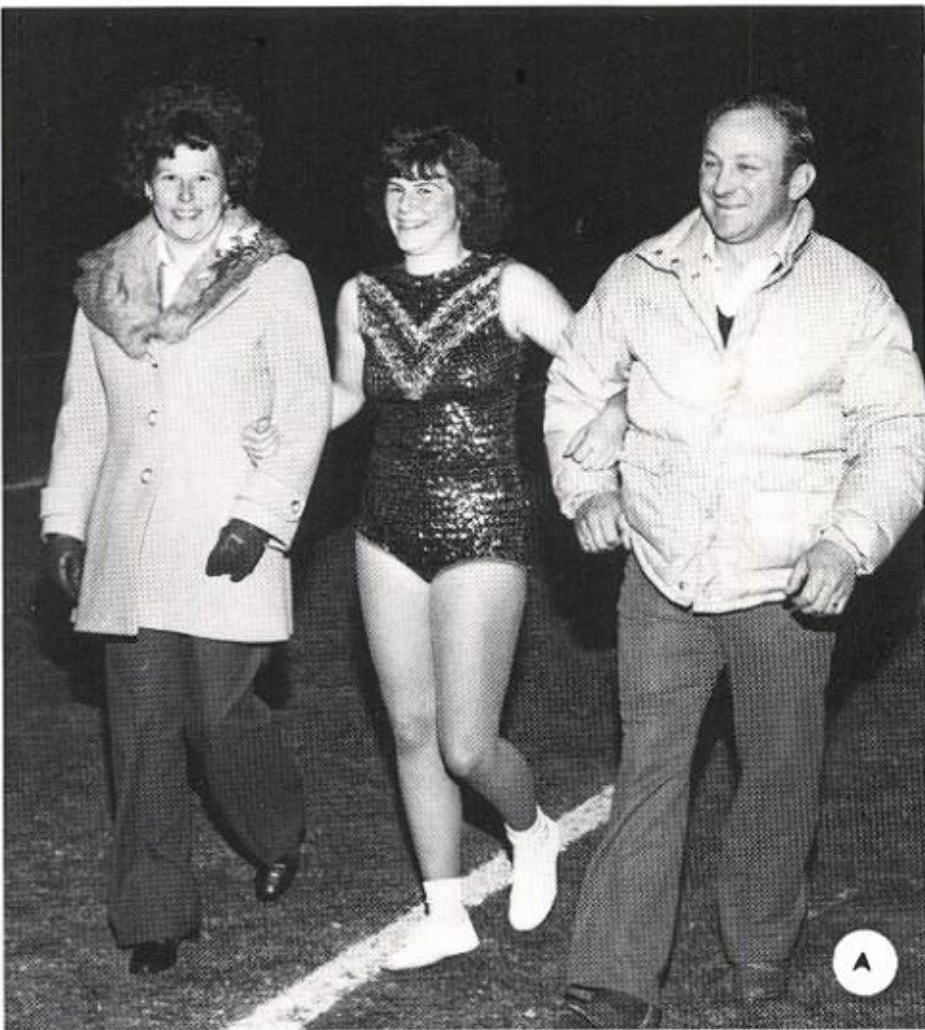

For Your Listening Pleasure . . .

The band engages in many memorable events throughout the year. It all begins in July when the band members, old and new, assemble together to get acquainted and begin practicing. Those hours put in during the summer are only a few of the many that are spent practicing throughout the year but most band members — and those who hear them perform — will agree that the time was not wasted. The band made excellent showings at Cedar Point and in the Secret Santa Parade this year, particularly with their new uniforms that were purchased in the fall. Lakota pride always illuminates from the band.

- A. Doing a routine to "The Stripper," Wendy Litton, Michele McClure, and Kerry Conrad demonstrate how to play while sitting on a friend's lap.
- B. While standing at attention, Scott Snyder gets ready to play the next song for the show.
- C. Marty Jakcsy and Wendy Keller demonstrate the last move to "Whip It."
- D. Micah Graber and Tina Gunder illustrate the importance of horn position and standing straight while playing the trombone.
- E. Having balance and coordination and still being able to play is tough, but looking at Paula Copas, you'd think it was easy.

A. On Senior Night, Michele Timmons is shown being escorted across the field by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Timmons.

B. Brad Murray contemplates which note to play next.

Dedication and Teamwork Play Important Roles

Choir is often thought of as an "easy A," but members of the choir realize this is far from true. To have a good performance, there must be a lot of work put into the practices.

Dedication is a very important part of this work. For a choir to perform at its best, each and every member of the choir must know what to do and when to do it. Teamwork also plays an important role. If the group isn't together, it lessens the quality of the sound.

When these two important qualities are combined, the result is a successful choir.

A. The Christmas Concert proved to be very successful this year. Kelly Kimmer and Kara McGough seem to have the Christmas spirit as they sing the songs.

B. FRESHMAN CHOIR — Sitting: Lisa Redieck, Lori Wollam, Kim Plouck, Michele McClure. Standing: Scott Bateson, Lisa Roberts, Jolene Park, Mrs. Adams, Shelley Kiser, Sylvia Spittler, Bill Price.

C. Being the only two guys singing in the Freshman Choir doesn't seem to affect the performance of Scott Bateson and Bill Price.

D. SENIOR CHOIR — Front Row: Desia Holcombe, Deb Braun, Bobbie Ruble, Kristi Hiser, Brenda Rausher, Paula Copas, Dawn Monroe, Lorrel Mullholand, Sonda Fouts. Row 2: Angie Clinger, Sharon Daghterman, Marlene Hoffman, Charlotte Coppler, Denise Foos, Shelly McGough, Kara McGough, Angela Fairbanks, Dawn Steving, Stefanie Dennis. Row 3: Amy Findlay, Kristi Huffman, Lori Hammer, Rose Mary Hille, Malinda Null, Nancy Haubert, Kelly Kimmer, Karen Bloemer, Joanna Roberts, Tammy James, Sandra Wallace. Row 4: Joanna Sheffel, Carla Shaferly, Theresa Hammonds, Don Kelbley, Tim James, David Stevens, Steve Plummer, Bill Langlois, Rodney Carver, Teri Stahl, Valerie Keller, Kerry Conrad. Row 5: Dan Wiseman, Mike Below, Amy Hunt, Candy Nieser, Scott Snyder, Connie Hammonds, Tom Boucher, Micah Graber, Ken Keckler, Julee KaSavage, Robin Keller, Jim Schmidutz, Mrs. Adams.

E. Watching the director is very important. All eyes seem to be paying close attention.

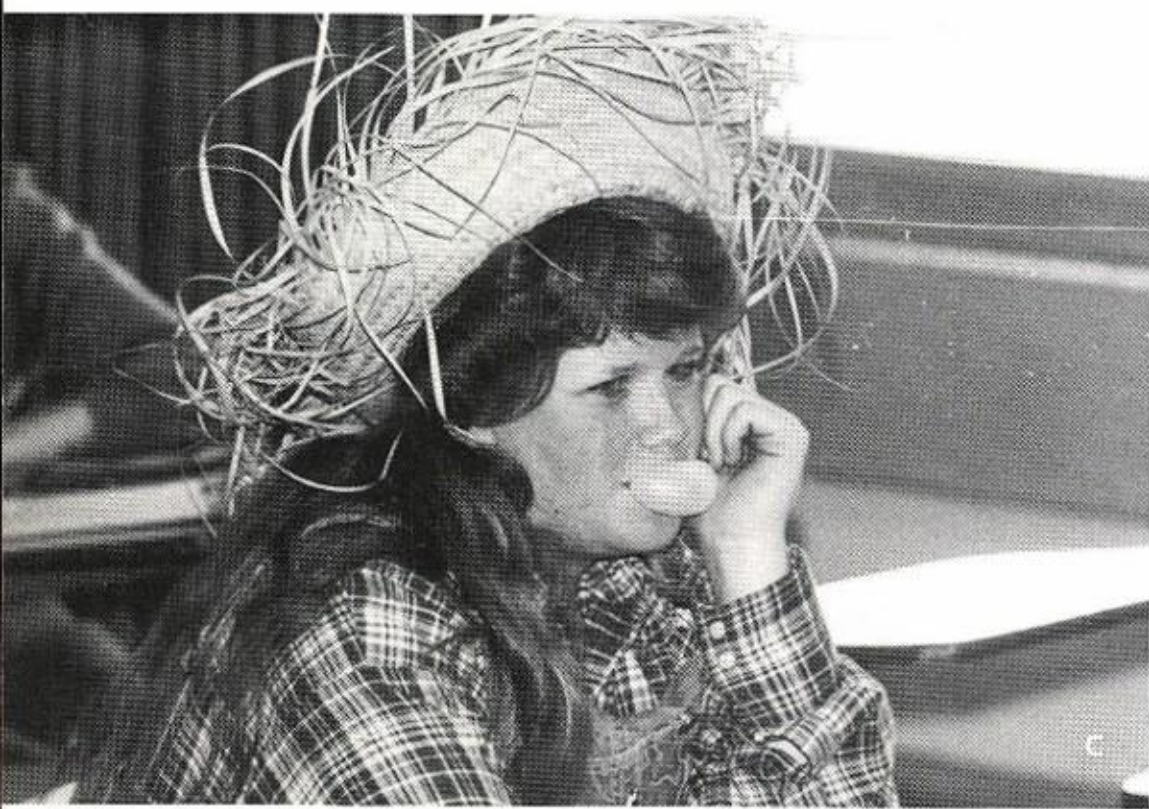

Show Choir Takes on New Style

As each year passes the Mixed Ensemble keeps trying new and different ideas. In the last few years choreography for the songs has played a large part in this group's success. This year, two students from B.G.S.U. were hired as choreographers. They taught the latest dance steps, and proved to be very helpful.

The Mixed Ensemble performed in several show choir performances, doing quite well in each. One of these was at Heidelberg College, another at Otsego High School. Several members of the group went to Columbus to watch a large show choir performance at Ohio State University. Many new ideas develop from these shows to help the group improve themselves.

- A. The expression on Ken Keckler's face shows how much concentration is needed to perform.
- B. Musical talent seems to run in the family. Both Tim and Tammy James use that talent as members of the mixed ensemble.
- C. Amy Findlay, Kara McGough, and Paula Copas, dance to the beat of the music, Body Electric.
- D. Front Row: Kara McGough, Kerry Conrad, Paula Copas, Mike Below, Stefanie Dennis, Carla Shaferly. Center Row: Amy Findlay, Tim James, Lori Wollam, Scott Bateson, Kelly Kimmet, Michele McClure, David Stevens. Back Row: Connie Hammonds, Micah Graber, Sylvia Spittler, Kristi Huffman, Ken Keckler, Robin Keller, Bill Price, Tammy James.

A. Pat Gosche is shown welding pipes together for the football field as an FFA school project.

B. Jeff Stevenson and Rick Elchert await their banquet meal.

C. A big part of becoming an FFA member is the initiation. Jolene Parks shows her spirit by dressing appropriately for the day.

D. Parliamentary procedure is taught in Vo-Ag. Joe Park displays his abilities in leading the discussion.

E. Leroy Billman, Ohio State FFA President, was the banquet speaker.

F. Surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Adams as they receive gifts for their baby-to-be from members of the FFA.

Down on the Farm

Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve is the FFA motto which each member uses as a foundation. Year round they show this by participating in activities throughout the community such as fixing the football field and painting Risingsun's ballpark concession stand. They support their activities by fund raising projects such as the Citrus Fruit Sale and the Chicken BBQ.

FFA members compete in various contests throughout the state and have won several awards in district competition.

One aspect of FFA is the individual student project which allows members to expand their knowledge about a specialized area in agriculture.

A. Mary Haubert shows her joy for just being crowned the 1983 Chapter Queen.

B. Joe Park receives his Outstanding Senior Award from donor David Ross of the Fremont Savings Bank.

SPORTS

Spirit of Lakota

A very important asset to high school sports are the cheerleaders. As a cheerleader, there are many responsibilities that go along with being part of the squad. This year the girls attended nationwide camp at Bluffton College. They spent four days working on chants, floor cheers, pom-pom routines, and getting new ideas to use during the year. Along with supporting girl's and boy's sports, they made spirit tags, decorated the locker room and gym, and had the tee-pee ready for every home game. A cheerleader knows she has done well by the response of the crowd.

- A. In hope of lifting the crowd's spirit, Becky Meyer never gives up.

Keeping the Tradition

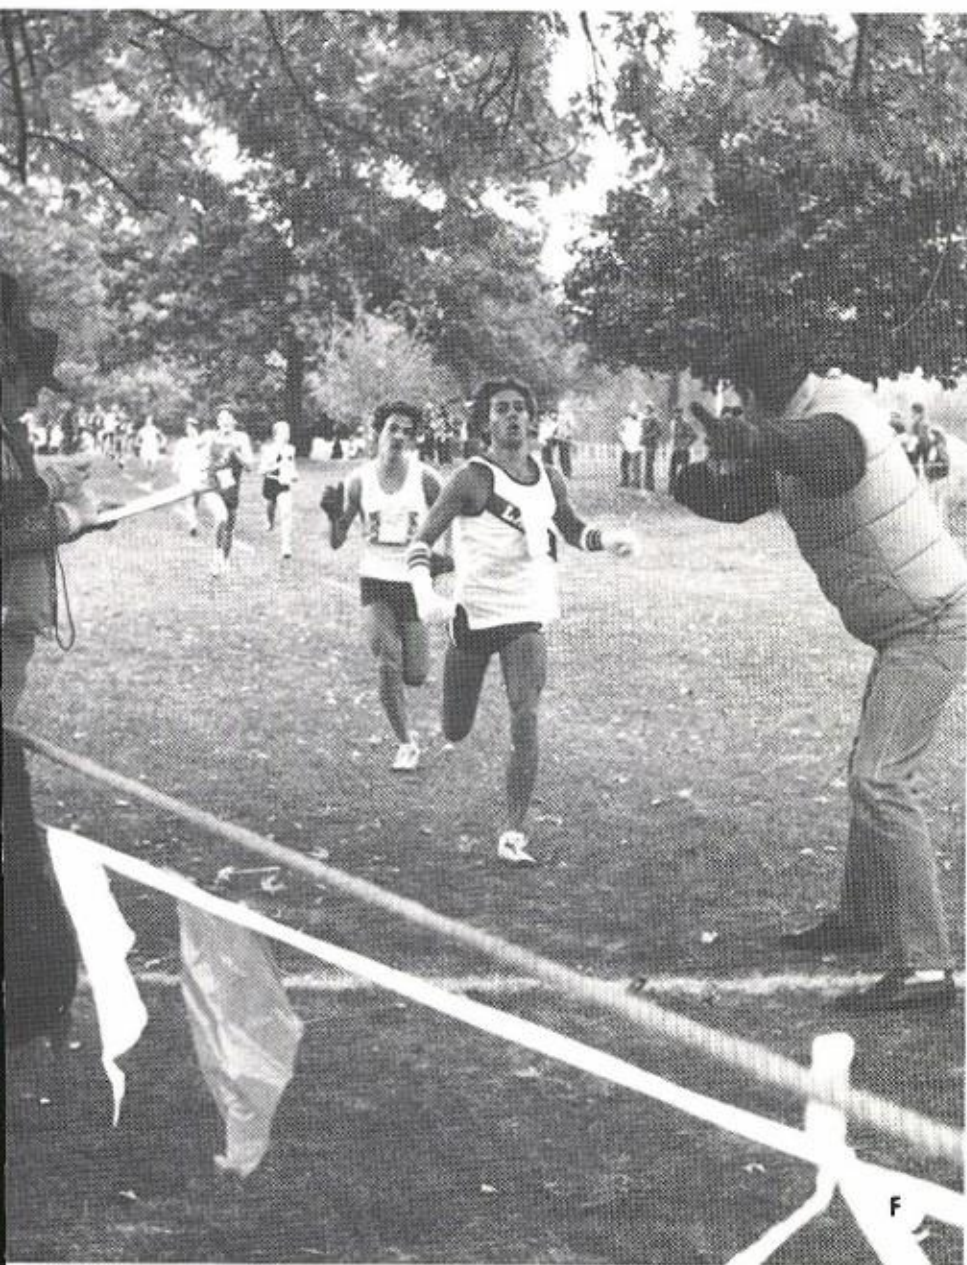

A successful cross country team is the one that works hard and is willing to make the commitment to be a great team. This year, the boys' and girls' teams definitely fit that description.

The boys' team, led by Doug Nieser, Duane Decker, Pete Gibson, Andy Garcia, and Jerry Long, completed an undefeated season with a record of 8-0. Their season was highlighted with a victory in the SLL. They also had excellent performances in the Lakota and Findlay Invationals and the Sectionals, placing second in all three. They ended the season with a sixth place finish in Districts.

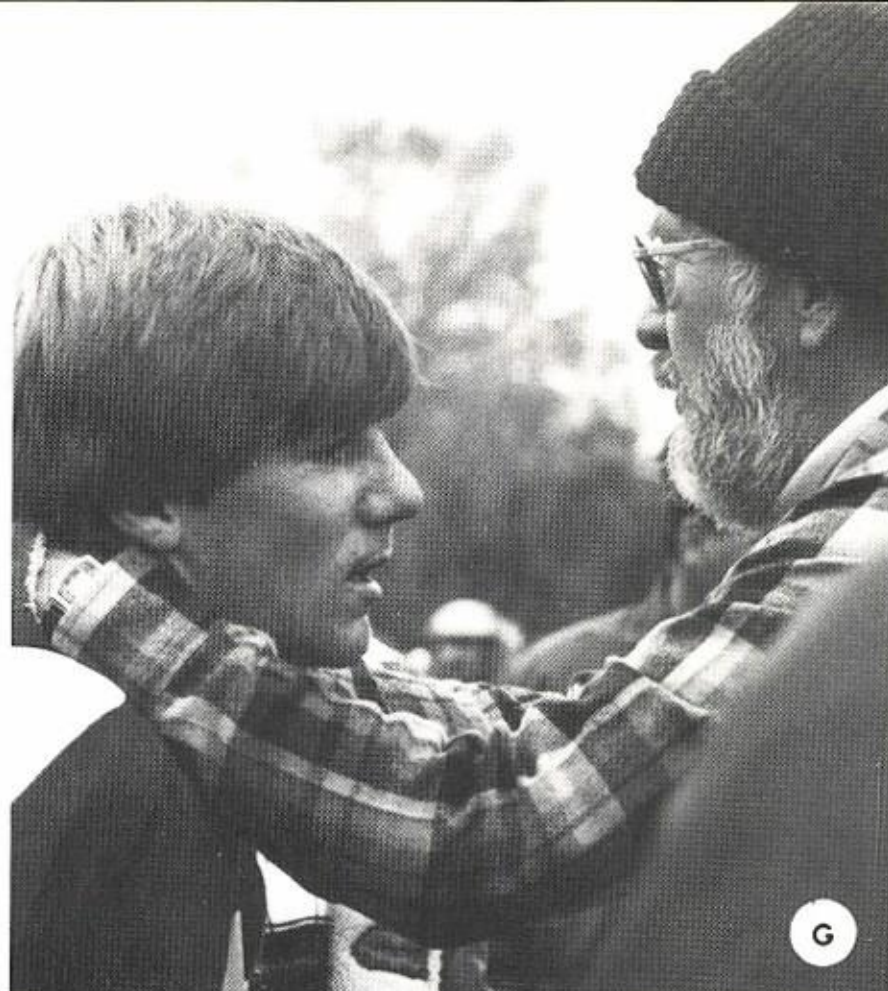

The girls' team had more than their share of injury and illness throughout the season but never gave up. In the latter part of the season, they showed their potential with a third place finish in a rough SLL race, and a fourth place in Sectionals. They came back to finish fifth in Districts. Although senior captain Amy Naderer will be missed next year, the team has a promising year to look forward to in 1983 with Amy Gabel, Karry Flinner, Cheryl Smith, and Amy Hollinger returning from the top five.

- A. With the finish line nearing, Amy Naderer gives it all she's got.
- C. Seniors Andy Garcia, Jerry Long, Pete Gibson, and Duane Decker enjoy their race as they easily defeat their opponent.
- B. After the district meet, Duane Decker waits to see his finishing place.
- E. Coach Cline consoles Cheryl Smith after a tough race at Sectionals.
- D. Rob McCachren displays the perfect form needed to make a good runner.
- F. Hard work and dedication pay off for Doug Nieser with a fifth place district finish and a chance to run in the State meet. Doug ended his career with a 21st place finish and a new school record at State.

Golf Team Looks Promising

The 1982 golf team finished the season competitively, taking sixth place in the SLL. They started slow but arrived at a dual meet record of 8-12. The team took fourth at the Old Fort Invitational and ninth at the North Baltimore Invitational. The team is young and looks for a promising season next year.

Service With a Smile

The 1982-83 volleyball season showed definite improvements over the previous seasons. The entirety of the league was very competitive and strong. As a whole, the team worked better together, verifying "responsible leadership." Of the awards that were given, Mary Scherger received Most Valuable player for Lakota and First Team SLL, which is quite an accomplishment. Two other senior girls were recipients of awards: Sheril Aldrich received Best Offensive Player and Kelly Lahman received the Coach's Award. Junior Mary Schade took the Best Defensive Player Award.

- C. Fans cheered on the volleyball team for their best season.
- D. Marlene Hoffman's constant serving helped the J.V.'s through a winning season.
- E. Don't chicken out, Kim Shull, go for the spike!
- F. Sacrificing your body is part of the game as Rhonda Slick finds out.
- G. Frustrated Coach Beaston tells her girls to "think, talk, and move."
- H. Jenny Gosche has the ball well under her control, a good tap would do it.
- I. Wow, those knee pads really do come in handy as Lesa Watkins tries them out.
- J. Eagerly awaiting the next serve, Sheril Aldrich concentrates in case it heads toward her.
- K. Teamwork gets the job done right, as Michele Timmons and Sheril Aldrich join forces.

- A. Parents' night was a night of surprises. Here Rick Kline is being escorted by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kline. We lost to the Woodmore Wildcats 28-0.
- B. Turning the corner Butch Kiser finds a hole and creates a 63-yard gain against Orsego.
- C. "Hurry up coach," replies Frank Pisoni as Coach Wright tapes his ankle after he returns from action on the field.
- D. "Surprise!" Ron Graber makes a perfect form tackle on Eastwood's 34 for a loss of five yards as Rob Cox (64) and Tim James (68) come in to help on the tackle. After beating the Eagles on Homecoming night 7-3 the dance was a pleasure.
- E. "Hold that line, Defense!" might be heard by the team as they make a tremendous goal line stand. Holding strong are Tim Cox, Tim James, Rob Cox, Ken Keckler, and Bill Whetsel.

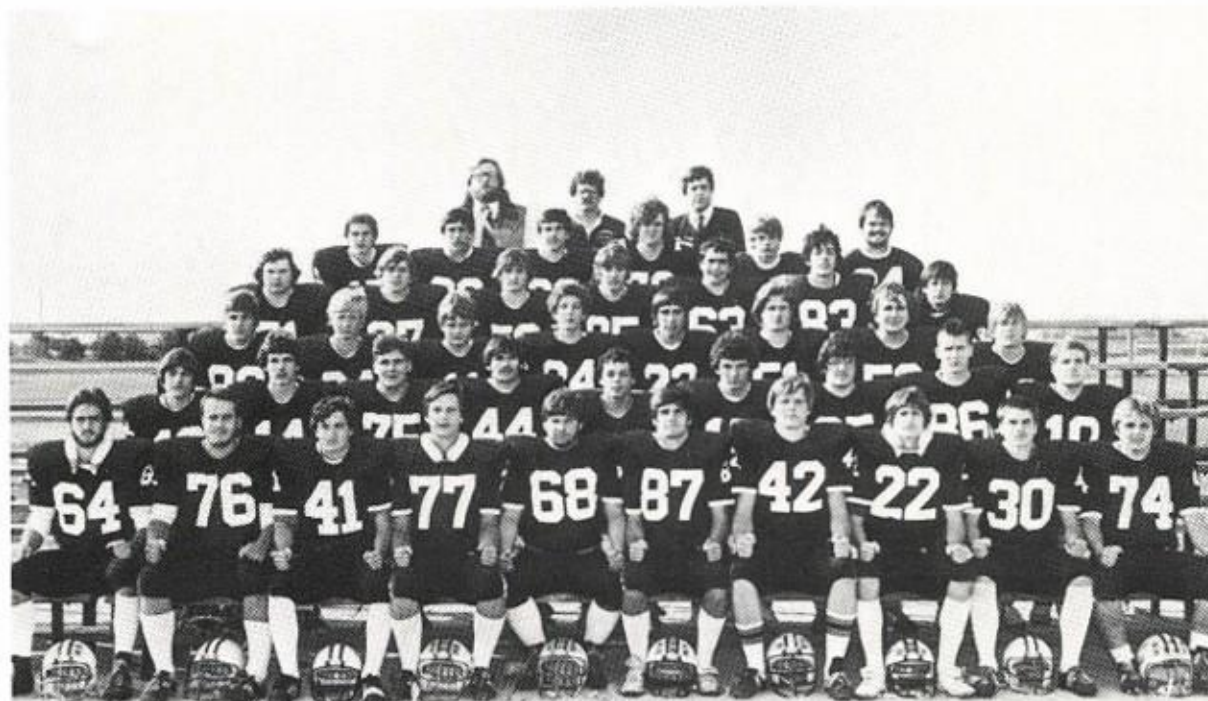

Dirty Laundry

The 1982 Varsity Football Team's season was not all they expected it to be. The team was predicted to be a very strong contender in the SLL at pre-season meetings but actually finished in the lower half. Although the team finished with a 2-8 record with victories over Hopewell-Loudon and Eastwood, they were strong opposition against Clyde and Orsego who were very strong teams. Coach Livoti may look forward to a promising and successful season next year if the team members follow their current philosophy of the three D's: dedication, desire, and determination. It's a combination with beneficial results in many areas of life.

A Little Bit Late

This year proved to be one of many mixed feelings for the Raiders. Throughout the season, each game ended with Lakota suffering the casualties. It always seemed that the Raiders would give it all they had but it was always just a little bit late. Ending their season under Coach Gnepper with a 0-20 record, the Raiders entered tournament action with merely hopes for a win.

After their first victory over Genoa, the Raiders faced Oak Harbor in the Sectional finals. In a well-planned game, the Raiders gave Oak Harbor a very strong test of competition. Playing the best game of the year they ended the season to Oak Harbor 23-16 for 1-21 overall.

- A. On the opening tip-off, Kurt Brewer seems to have things under control.
- B. The team looks on as the tension begins to mount.

Only Time Will Tell

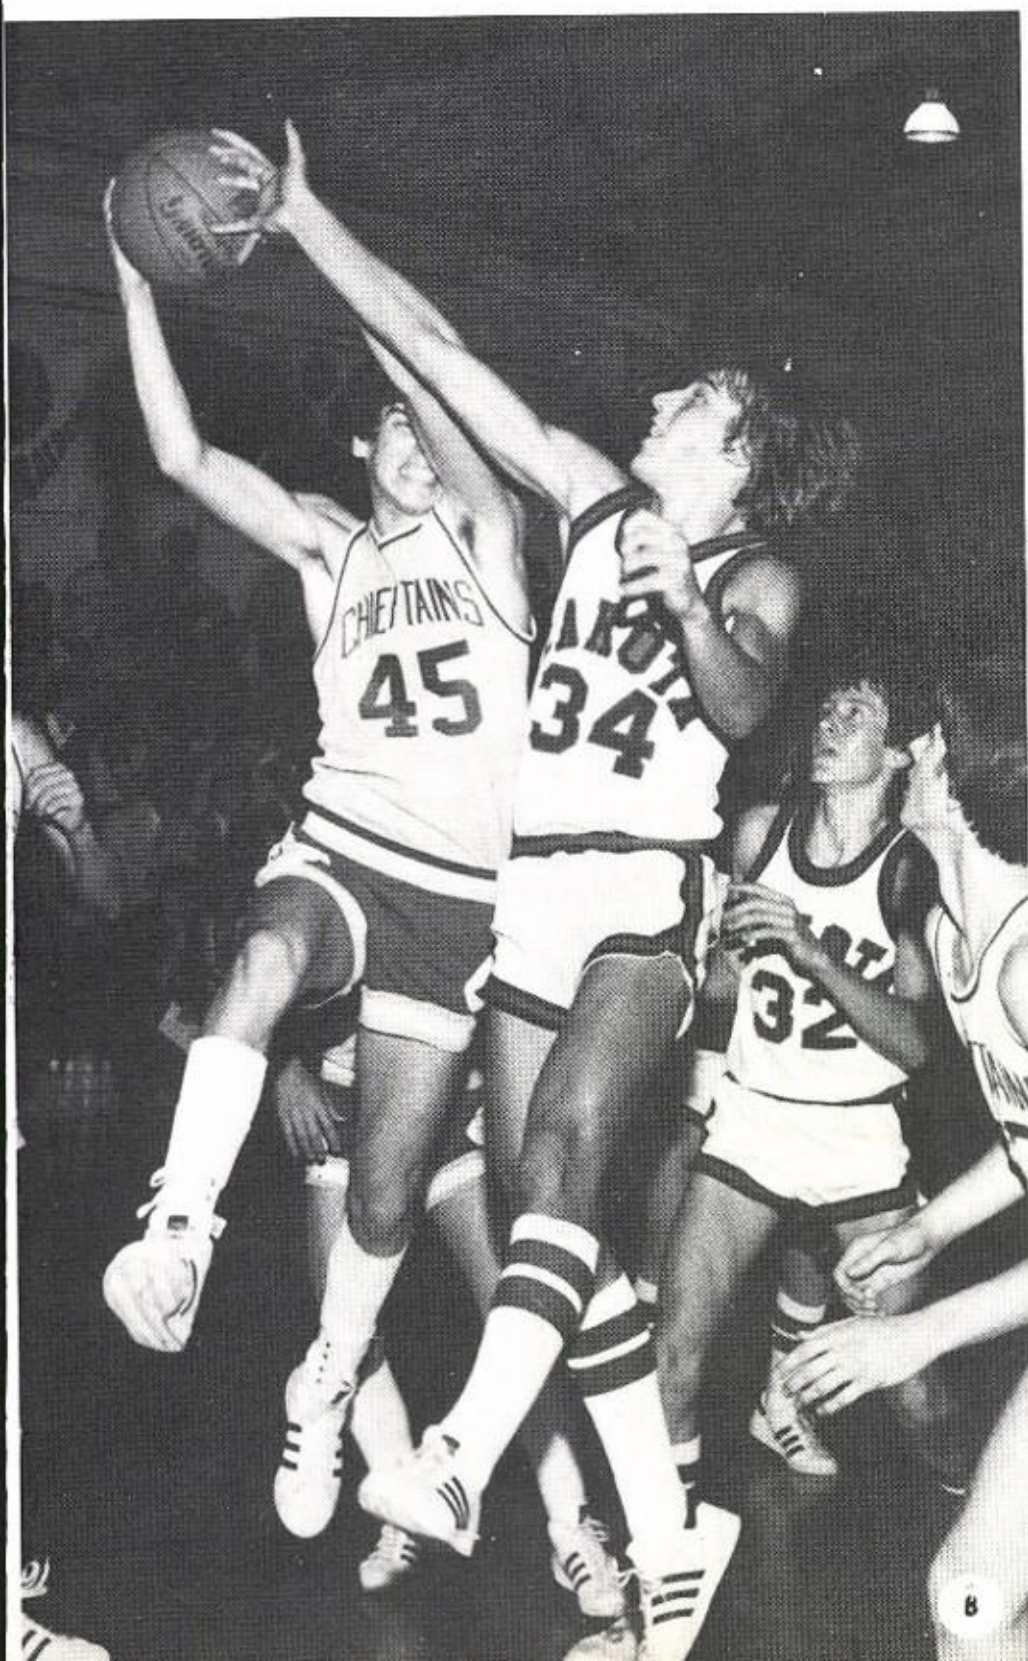

In a year of sports where things seemed to be all switched around, the J.V. Raiders found their spot and stood ground.

This team had the makings of a fine ball club: height, speed, and shooting ability.

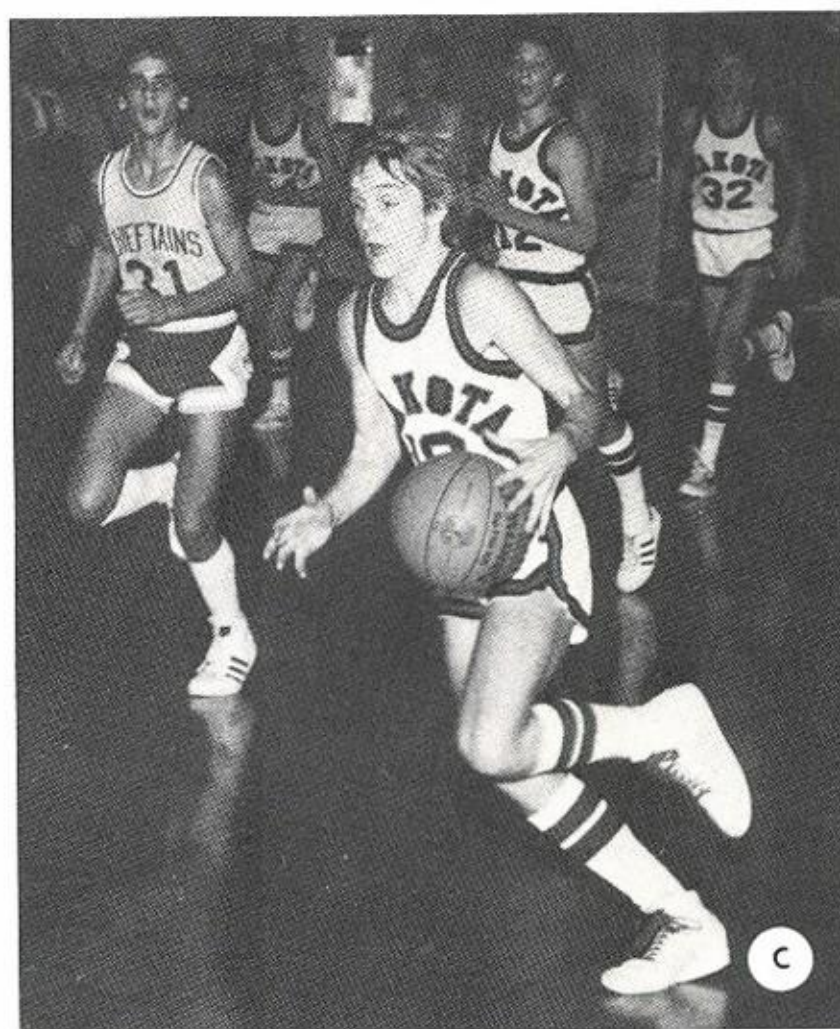

Under the coaching of Mr. Heller, they ended their season 17-3 overall and placed 1st in the S.L.L.

With a season like that it seems next year some of the J.V. players may be playing a varsity position or at least see some varsity action. All it will take is some hard work, patience and dedication.

However, as the saying goes, "Only time will tell."

E. Part of being a good athlete is having good sportsmanship as Jenny Gosche knows.

F. Doing her specialty, Lori Hammer goes for the layup.

Simply Awesome

If someone was to ask, "What's in a name?" when speaking of the Lady Raiders, the answer could only be — "simply AWESOME."

With only one loss early in the season, the Lady Raiders came back to win the remaining 18 games for a record of 19-1 in the regular season.

The team effort paid off when they were seeded number one for the sectional crown and went into the district semifinals facing off with Evergreen. In a turn-a-round game, the Lady Raiders won and came up against 2nd-ranked Swanton. In a hard fought and well played game the Lady Raiders ended their season by a 50-46 score to Swanton.

With a 21-2 record overall, they made Lakota history and brought back a renewed school spirit and pride.

However, a great team can't win alone, it takes an equally deserving and talented coach to make a team "simply AWESOME." The coach behind the Lady Raiders was Dave Worstein.

The J.V. Girls also had a good season by placing 3rd in the S.L.L. with a 14-6 record overall.

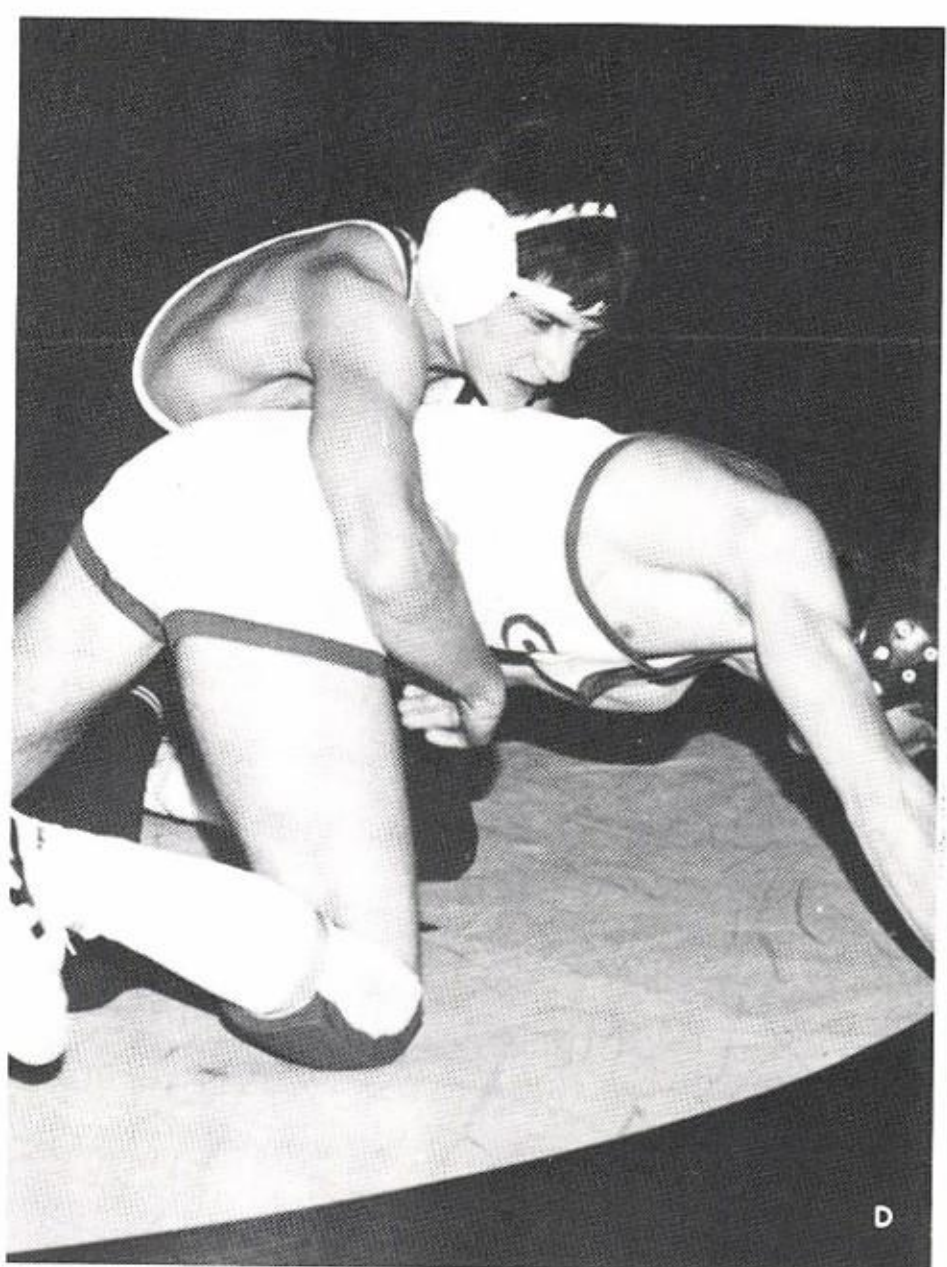

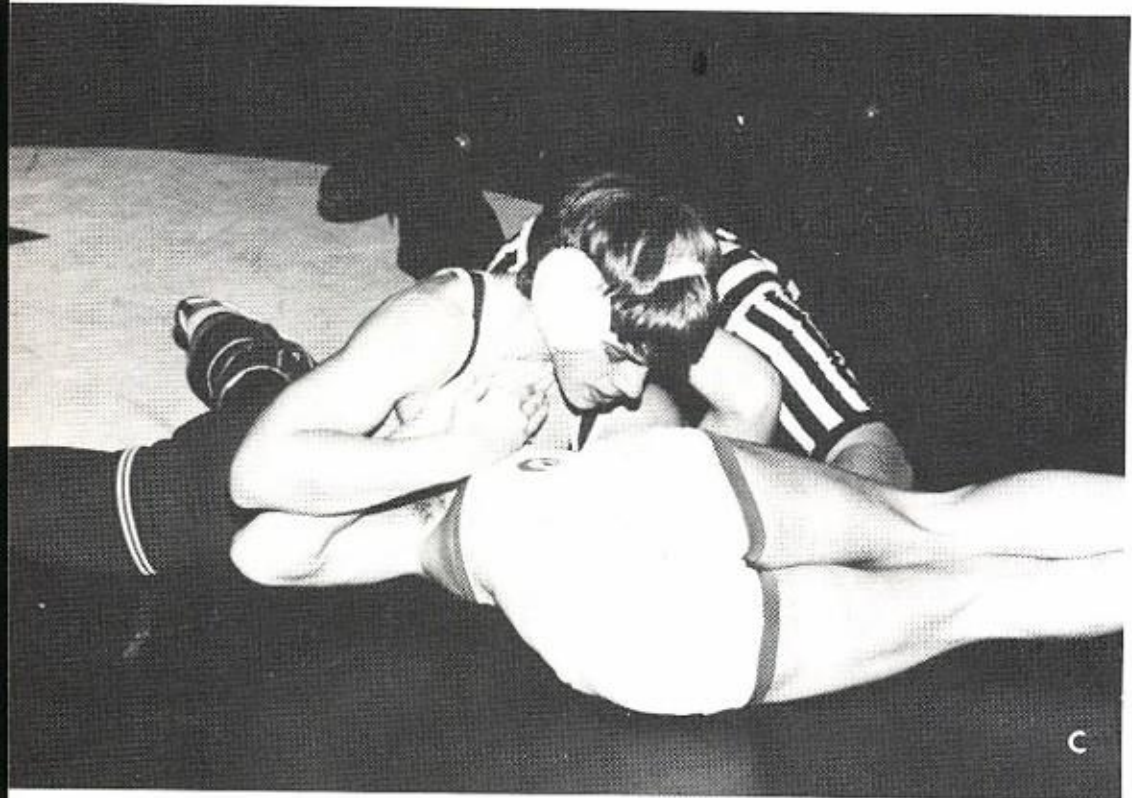

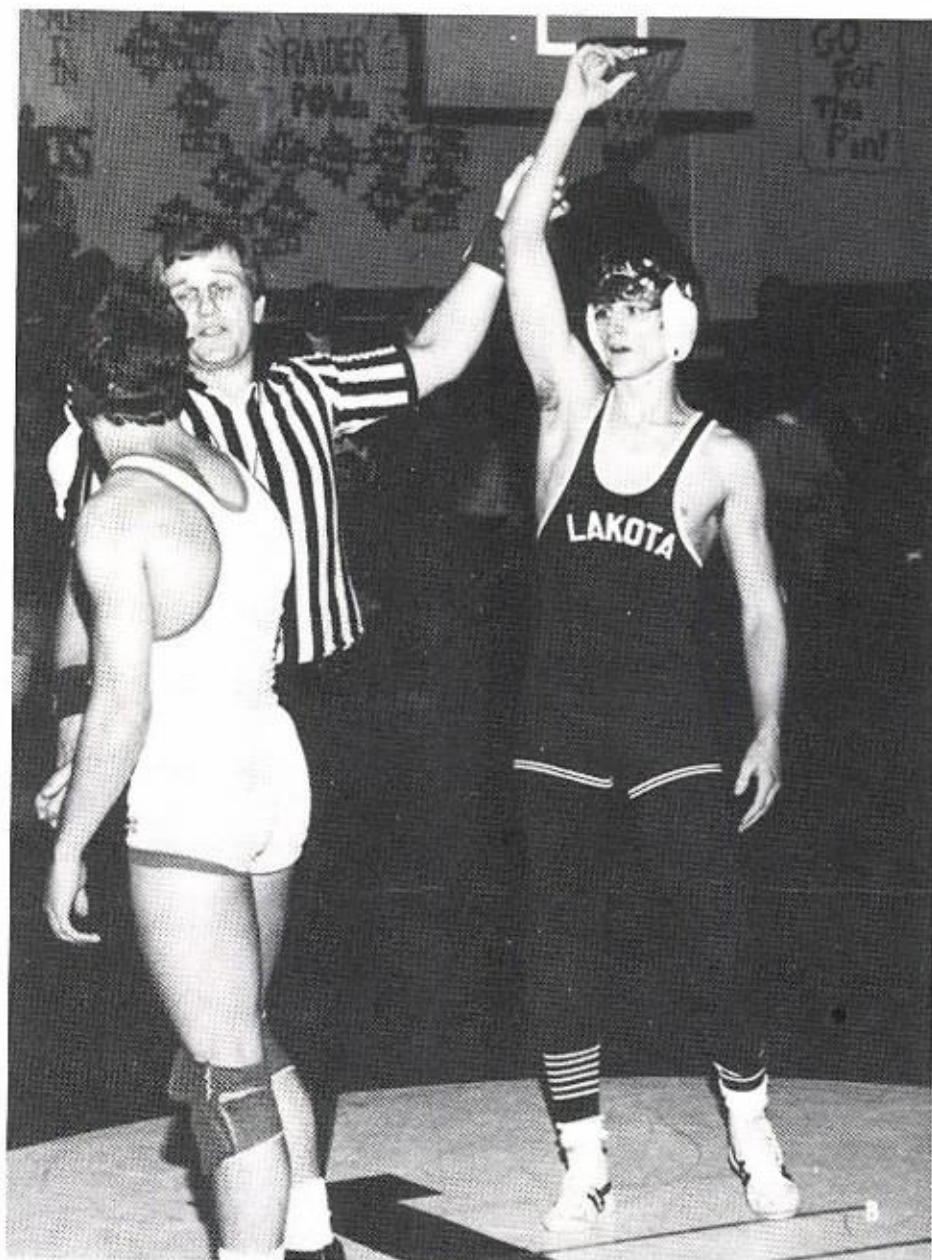

- A. Amy Gabel is giving it her all as she tries for the jump ball.
- B. Hustling is a major part of being on an awesome team as Michele Timmons finds out.

Going for the Pin

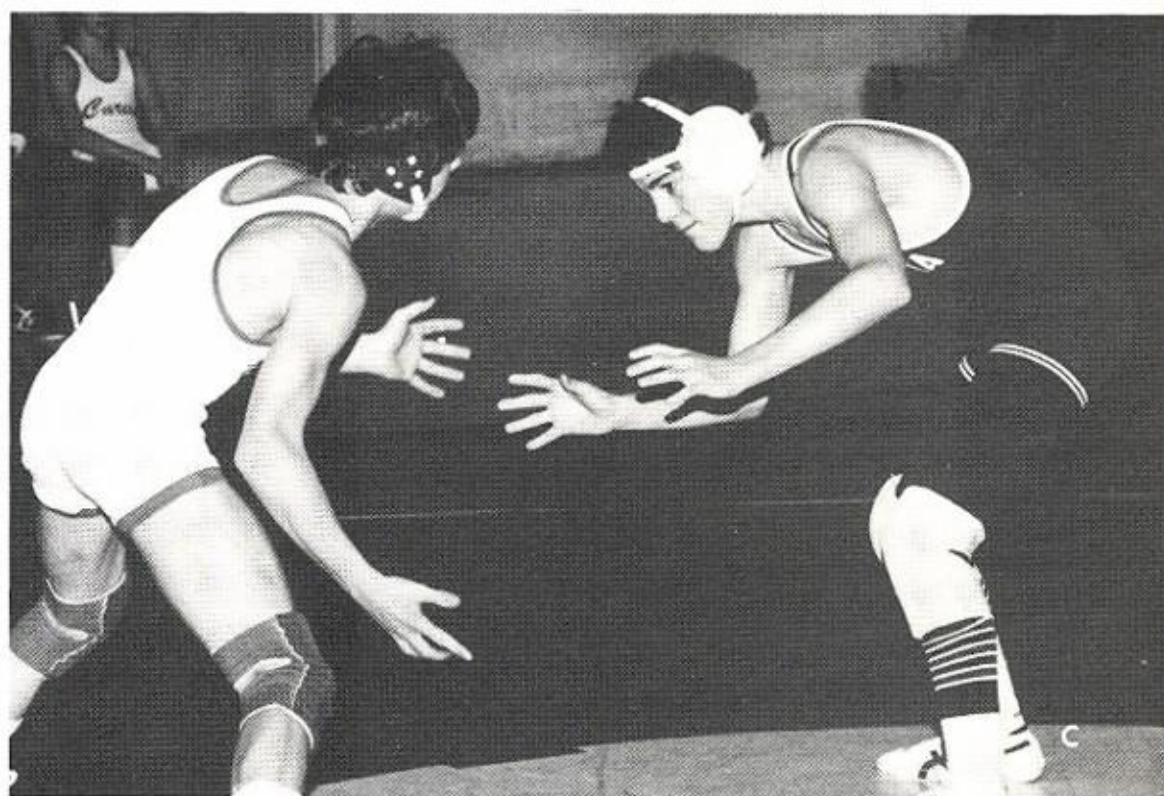

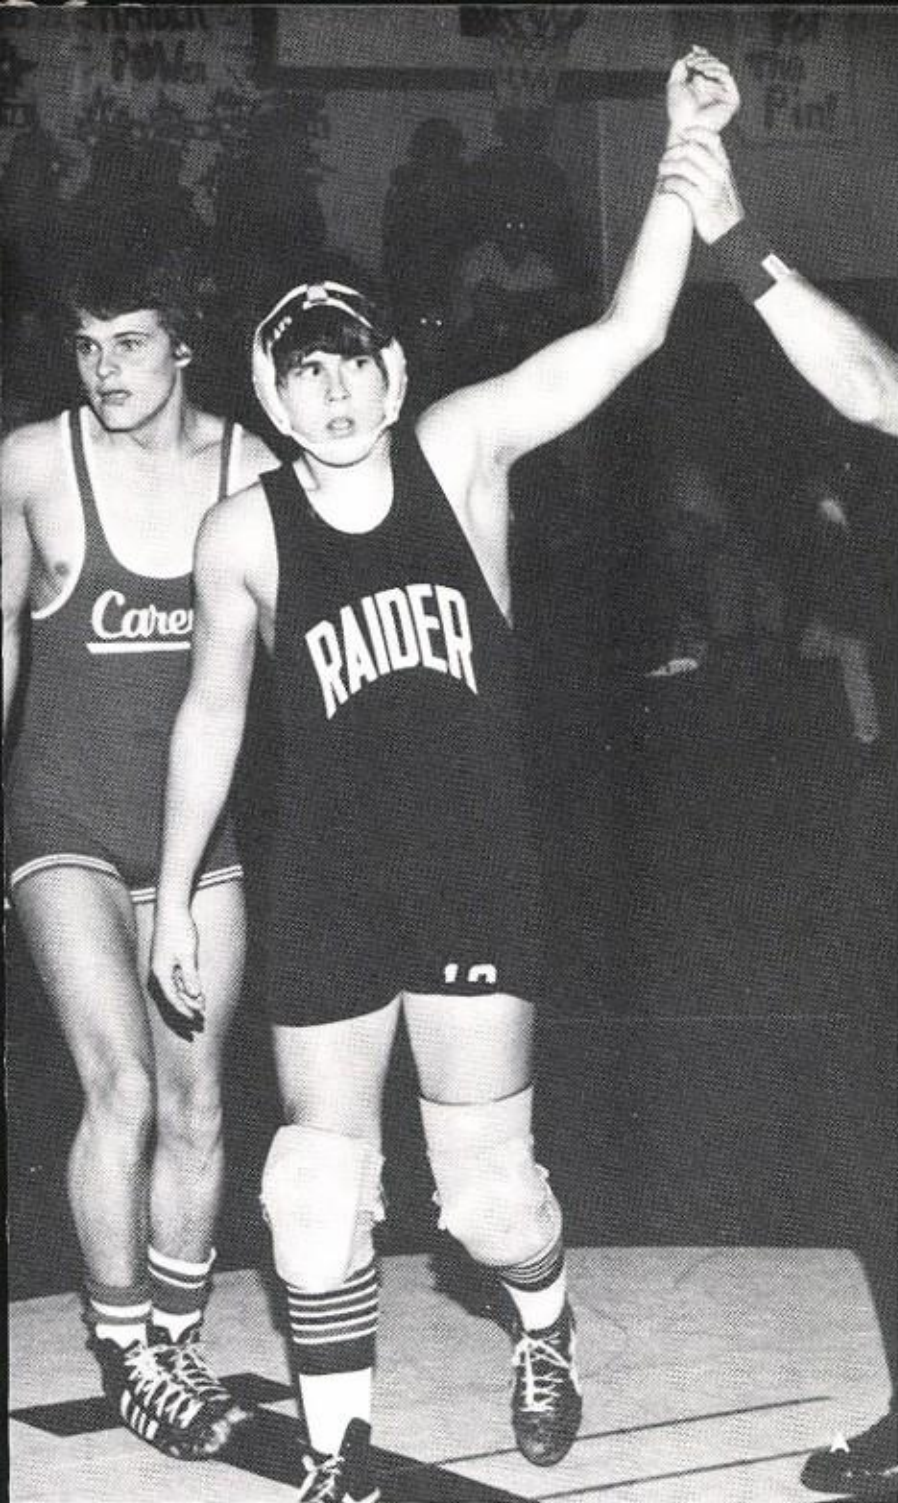

Wrestling is a sport in which each of two opponents try to throw or force the other to the mat. This year the wrestlers put the definition of the sport into practice with style.

With only two senior wrestlers, the team ended with a good season. Although they had to forfeit several matches in the heavy weight areas, the team still managed to make it through the meets scoring fairly well.

Ending their season with a fifth place in the league, both the varsity and the JV teams can look forward to improving their mark next year since most of the wrestlers will be returning.

- A. The cheerleaders give some encouragement to the wrestlers.
- B. Victorious again is Phil Rocherer.
- C. Giving it all he's got, Jim Rader goes for another pin.
- D. Working his opponent to the mat is Randy Fairbanks.

A. Raising his arm in victory is Mike Goodman after a fine match.

B. Giving instructions to Mike Goodman are coaches Young and Wyant while Lowell Litton listens to pick up a few tips also.

C. A shot for two is on Jeff Yount's mind during a rough match.

 G. Mark Nelson gets the baton from Bill Price in a close race.

Winning Tradition

When it comes to having a winning tradition, Lakota's track team can claim it.

The mens' track team finished the year 6-1 with their only loss going to a AAA school, Sandusky High School. They also held strong to their SLL title by taking first place once again.

The girls' team also proved to be a strong one as they finished their year 4-0. They placed third at the SLL meet but gave the top two teams a good fight. Their team is growing and will definitely be a contender for the title next year.

Together both teams stand as one and assure others that they are not and will not be defeated without giving it their very best.

Hit and Run

The 1983 Varsity Baseball team had a fine season with 10 wins and 8 losses. Under the leadership of Coach Phil Boze, they won the first sectional game against Fostoria but lost to Genoa in the sectional finals. In the SLL, they went 6-7. The team consisted of seven seniors this year and finished fourth in the SLL. Three players got league honors: Dan Baker, second team SLL, and Tab Bickford and Kirk Mintz with honorable mentions.

Key to the Future

It's not every year that a high school gets a freshman class that has the ability to be winners in the game of basketball. This year, however, Lakota had a freshman team that totally dominated the court during their regular season. Ending the season with an 11-0 mark, the freshman Raiders turned in an S.L.L. championship with Andrew Fairbanks as their coach.

With some more development in skills and hard work, the freshman team may just turn out to be a J.V. team that is just as dominating.

- A. A time out brings a well-deserved rest for the freshman basketball team.
- B. Ball movement is important as Gary Smith demonstrates here.
- D. The freshman cheerleaders do their thing at the break.
- E. Showing the zone defense is Jim Slick.
- F. Gary Smith goes up for the tip-off.

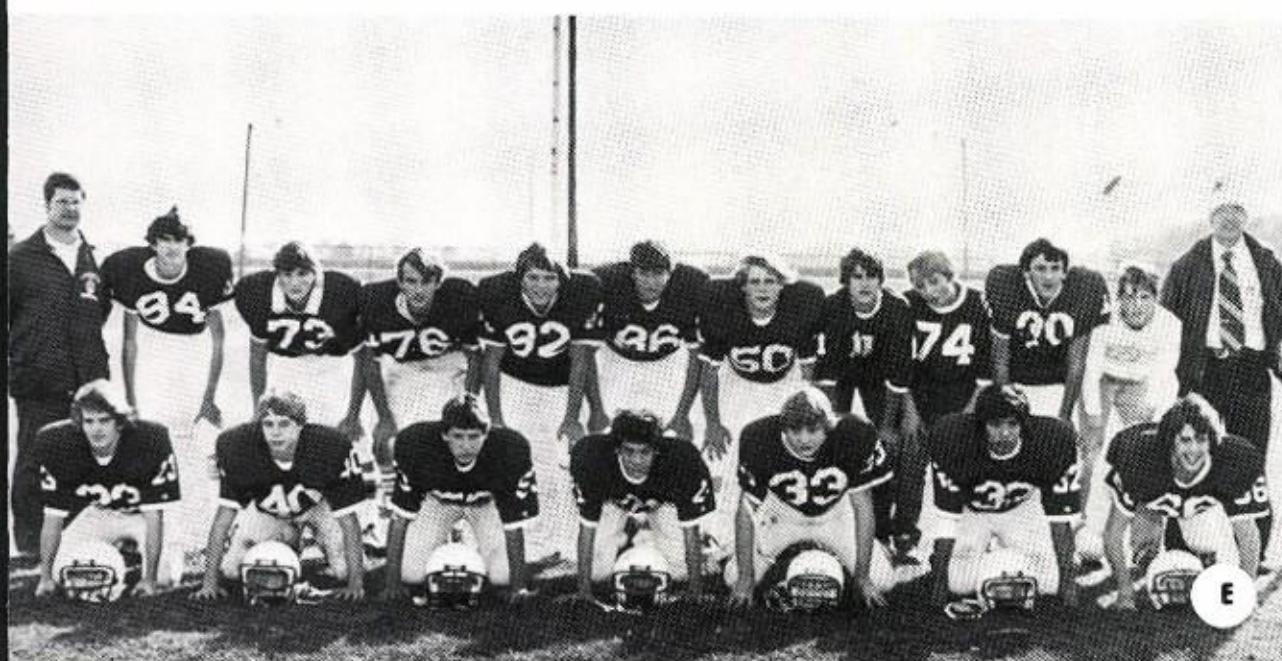

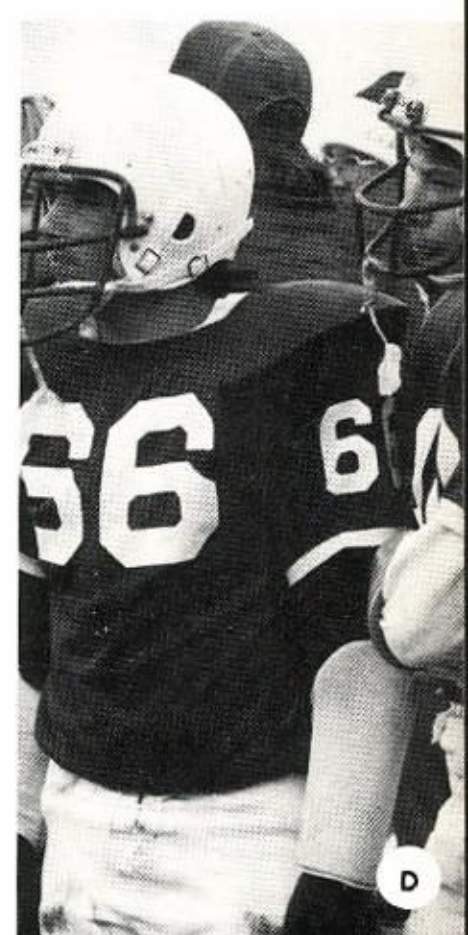

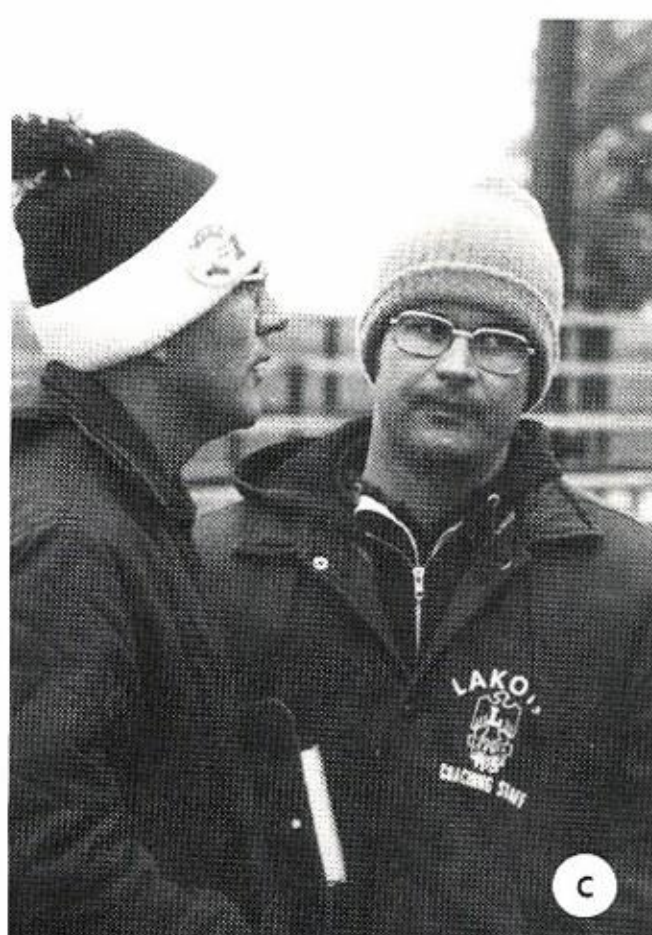

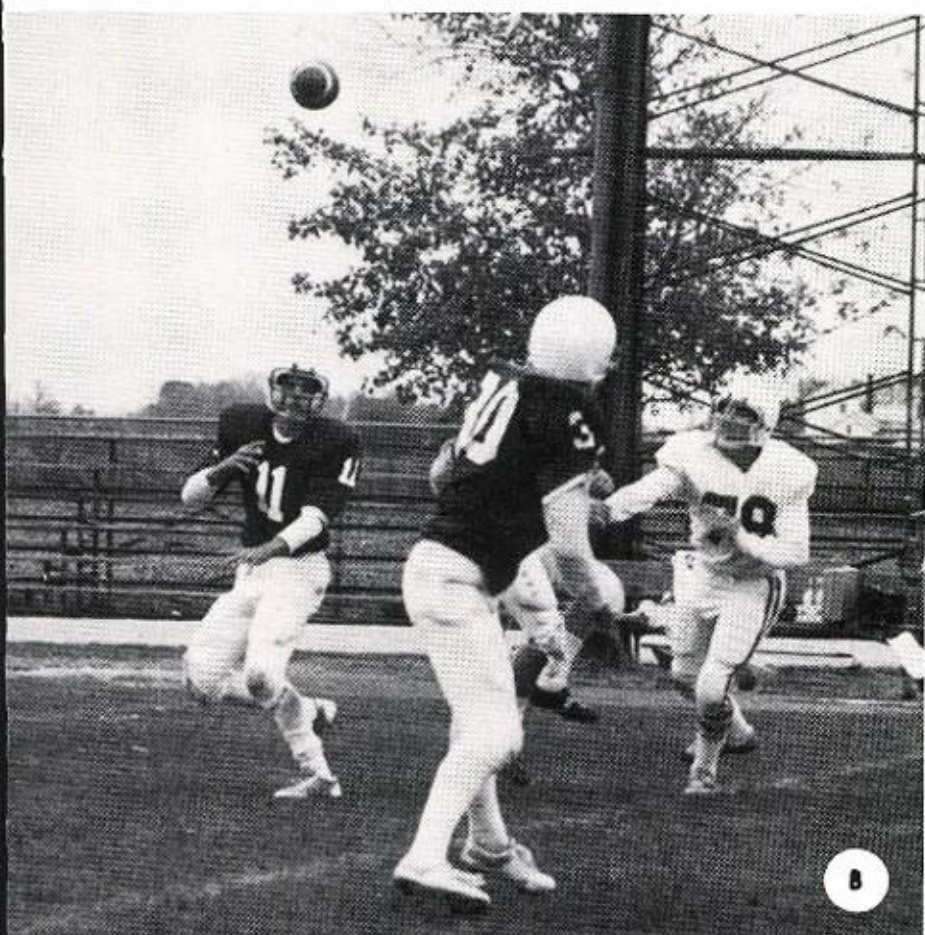

Power Packed Freshmen

This year, as the freshman football season began, many of the guys were ready to get rough and tough on the field.

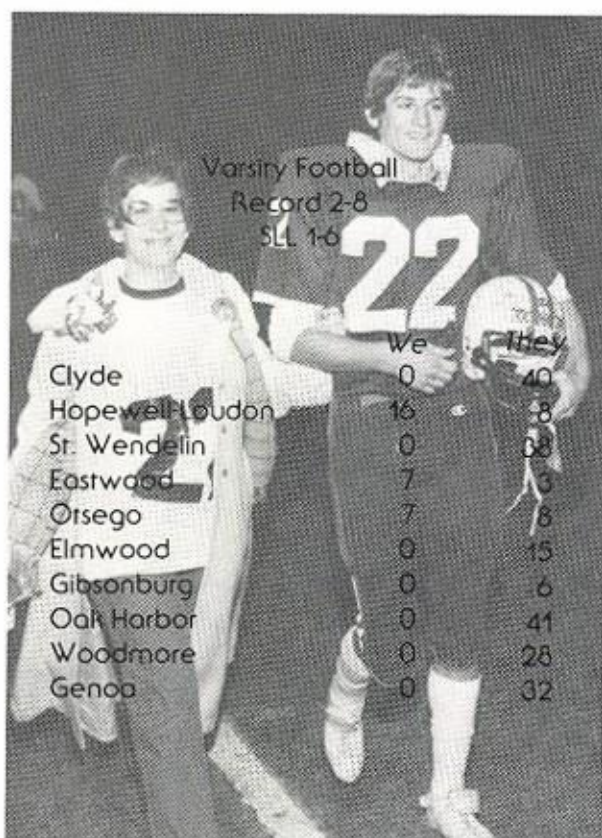

Their ambitions were held to a minimum because of the lack of freshman teams in the league. With only four teams to play, it limited their action to a bare minimum.

Coach Worstein, however, put together a team that played well on the field this year. With a 4-1 seasonal record, the freshmen took second place in the SLL.

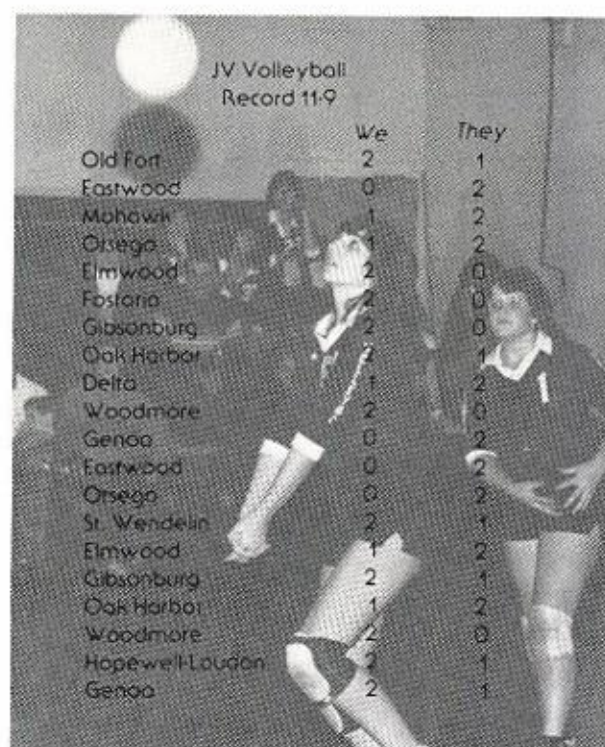

- A. The Raiders head downfield as Mike Ramirez punts the ball.
- B. Nick Gabel sends a fine pass to Scott Bateson.
- C. Coaches Dorr and Worstein talk about what they need for a first down.

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATION

Gary Keller, B.S., M.A., Superintendent.

Nicholas Ezzone, Jr., B.S., M.Ed., Specialist in Education, LHS Principal.

The 1982-83 school year began with a running start. Following state funding cuts and the need to trim costs, the extracurricular programs' future was seriously in jeopardy. To insure that these fine programs which serve well over half of the students would go on during the 1982-83 school year, students and parents organized to raise some money. The result was people from all over the district working together throughout the summer to sell popcorn, repair driveways, gather fireflies and organize and hold the first Lakota Festival including the first Lakota 1K and 5K runs. Once again, the wonderful people of Lakota came through to show how much they care. Although the money came through from conventional sources, the funds raised were used to benefit every activity serving Lakota High School students.

A Career With Variety

When asked why she chose teaching as a career, Mrs. Beaston said that she took quite a long time arriving at that decision. "After trying several that turned out to be less than perfect, including eight years at Whirlpool Corporation in Clyde, I decided I wanted a career that offered more variety." Mrs. Beaston has always enjoyed being both a spectator and a participant in many sports and activities, so physical education was a logical choice for her. She added health to her major, but only because the opportunities for employment were much greater with both fields. However, Mrs. Beaston has grown to almost prefer health over physical education because of "all the positive changes that have taken place in the field."

Skills for a Lifetime

Why do you teach? "I teach because I enjoy working with young people. It gives me a good and satisfying feeling to be able to teach skills that can be useful for a lifetime," replied Mr. Gasteier. "If I hadn't become a teacher, I probably would have become a landscape architect, as this is a career which I very seriously contemplated before selecting Industrial Education." Mr. Gasteier still enjoys working outside. He has a small landscape and lawn maintenance business during the summer months.

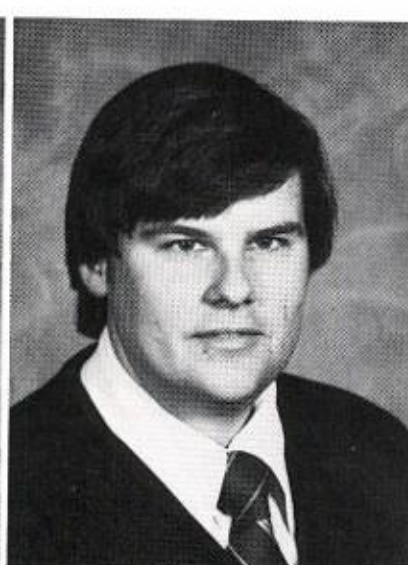

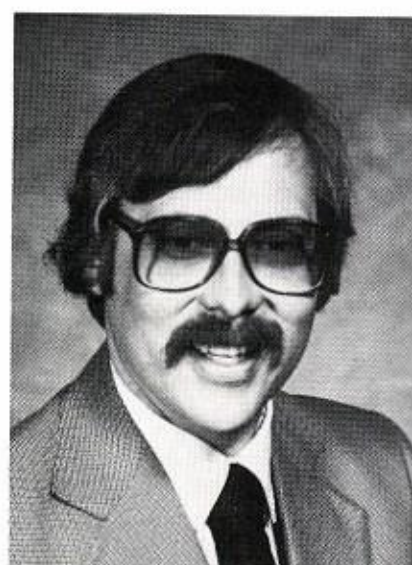

The biggest reward in teaching for Mrs. Krol is when a student takes the time to let her know that they learned something new in her class. "I am a teacher because of the positive influence I have on the development of young persons." If Mrs. Krol had to choose a career other than teaching, she would like to supervise a day-care center or go into interior decorating.

A Little Bit of Orneriness

Dead cats, chemistry experiments and biology lab. "What do I like in students? I like intelligence, cooperation, some fire, happiness — I like to see them smile — curiosity, and even a little bit of orneriness." Mr. Scherger relaxed and responded to the questions enthusiastically. He even took the question a little further by adding, "What I don't like in students is a lack of determination, failure to follow directions, pouting and cry babies."

View From the Driver's Seat

During the summer months, Mr. Wertz has plenty of hobbies to occupy his time. He takes wedding pictures and does other small photography jobs. He often spends the summer months taking trips to various places around the country. "One summer, my wife and I took a camping trip across the western states for six weeks." This summer, Mr. Wertz has plans to visit Washington, D.C. When he's not traveling across the country, he enjoys woodworking, fishing, and gardening at home.

A very unfortunate experience befell one of our finest teachers this year. Mr. Don Steen, a business and social studies teacher, suffered a stroke that temporarily halted his teaching profession. Mr. Steen was also the J.V. Baseball coach and National Honor Society Advisor. We only hope the best for Mr. Steen on his road to recovery and will be anxiously awaiting his return.

After 30 years in the teaching profession, Mrs. Elizabeth Waitman plans to retire this year. She is looking forward to traveling, resuming her hobbies, and spending time with her granddaughter. When asked to summarize her years here at LHS, she simply replied, "Interesting."

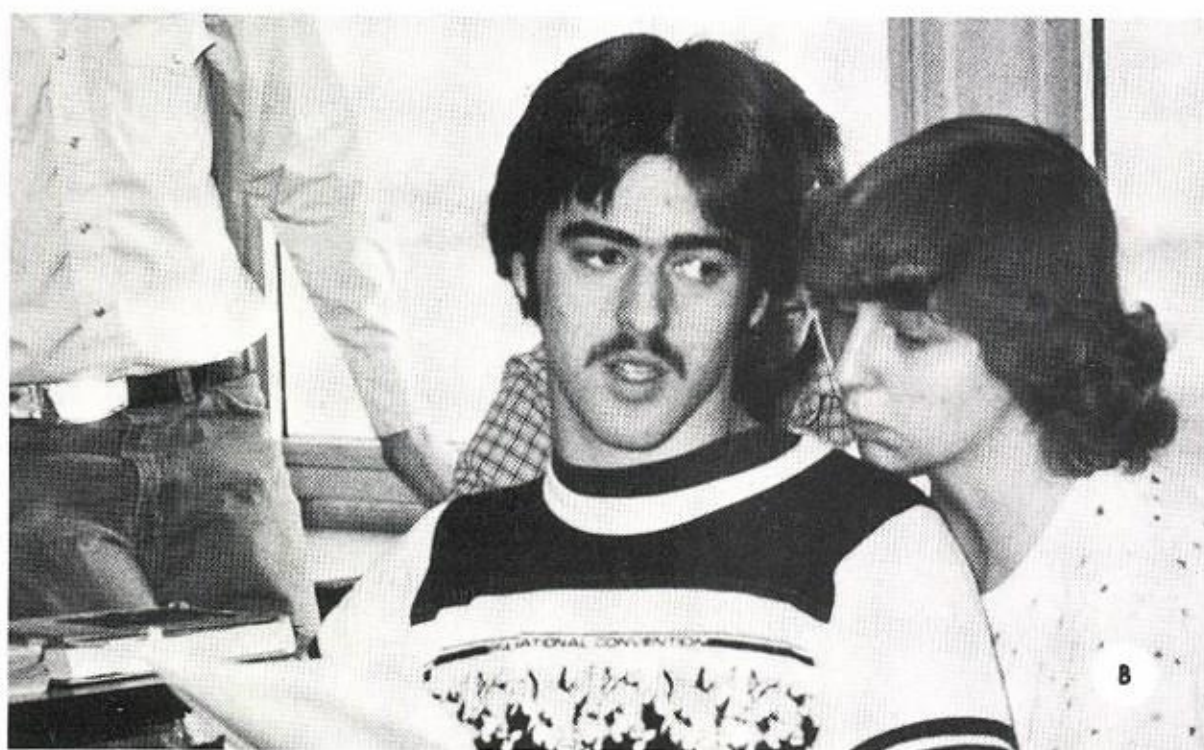

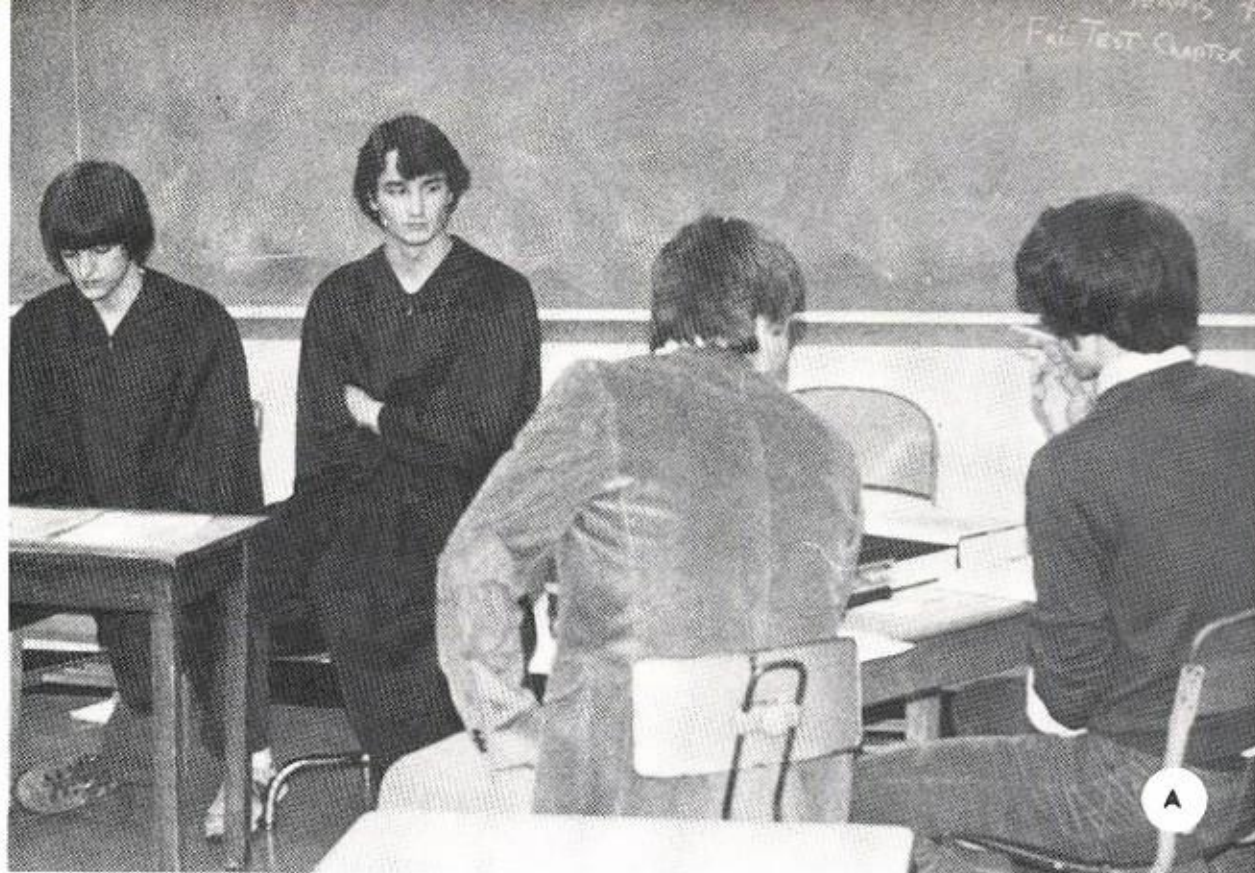

CURRICULUM

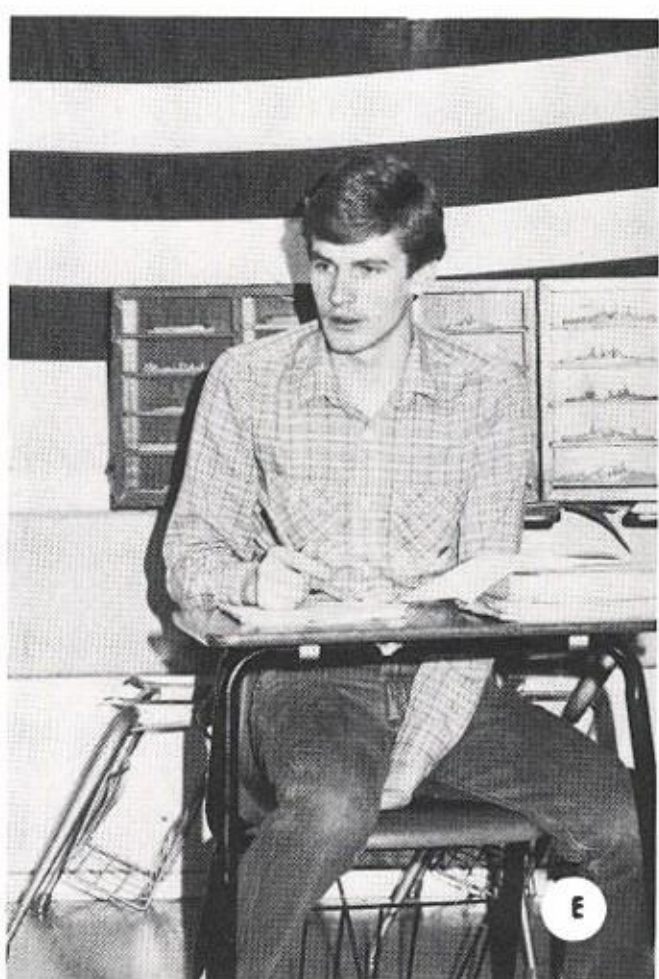

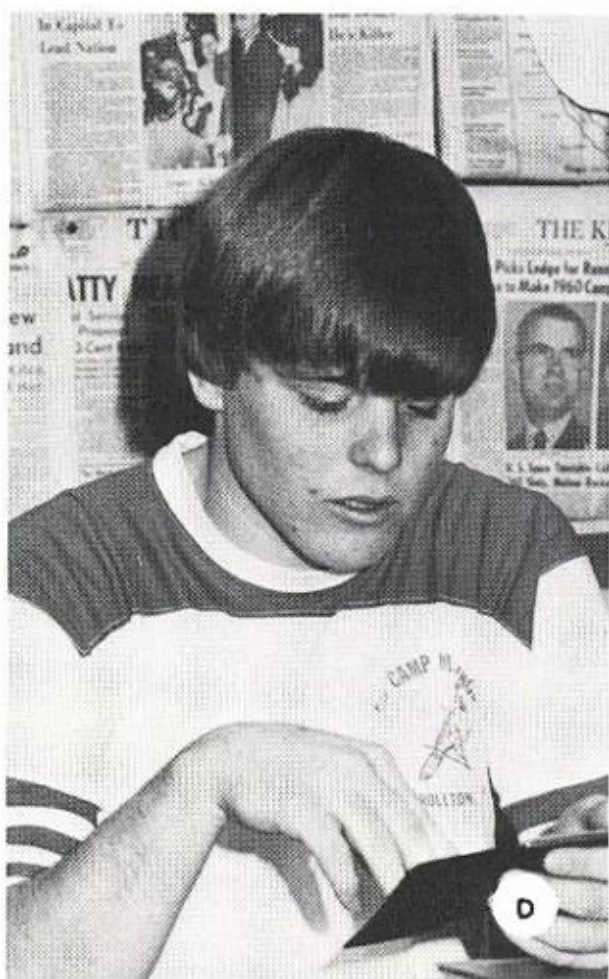

Class-y Countries

Senior government class is one that everyone seems to look forward to. Perhaps that is because it doesn't quite follow the traditional guidelines that most other classes do.

Each government class has the opportunity to form their own country and govern it in the way they choose. This is to provide students with some knowledge and experience as to how the American government is run. Some classes were aggressive and got things accomplished in their countries while others merely let them run their course. At any rate, the criminal element seemed to abound in all countries this year which kept all the judges busy and the jails occupied quite frequently. Micro community is a year-long simulation that gives you the opportunity to be a sheriff, a congressman, or even President.

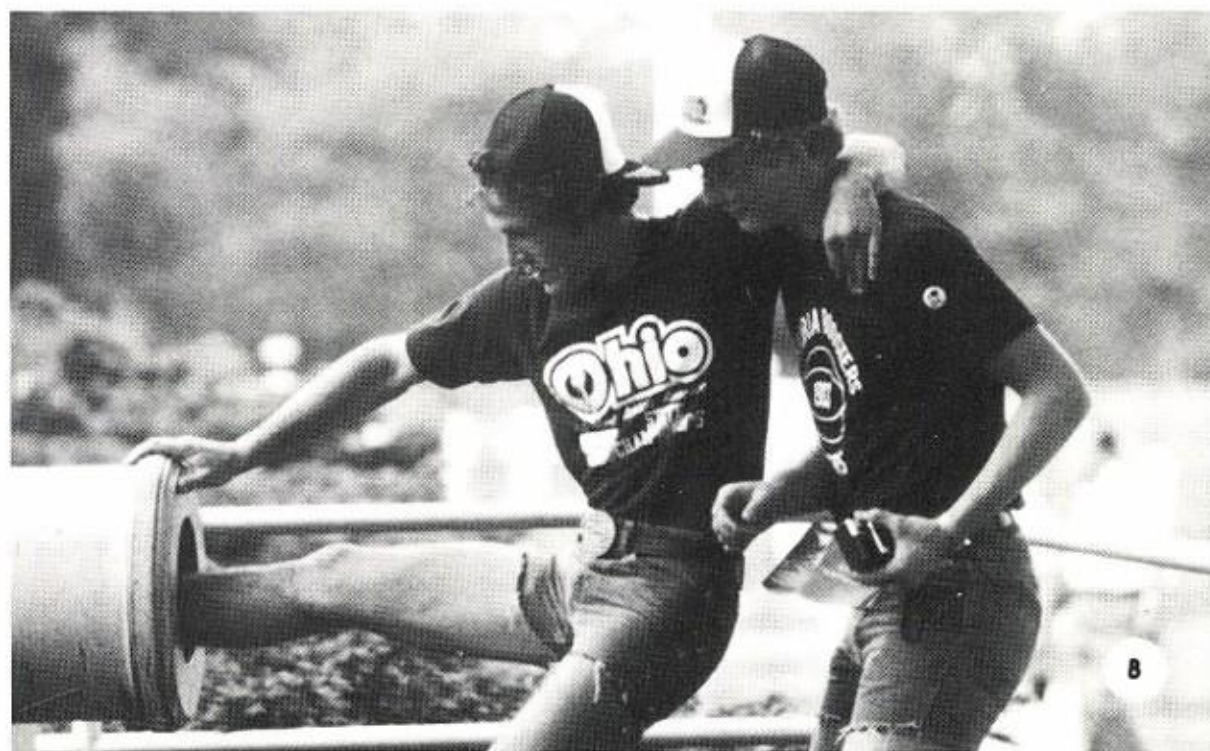

- A. Judges Duane Decker and Rick Miller are kept busy throughout the course of Micro Community with numerous civil and criminal cases.
- B. Rob Cox and Marlene Hoffman try to plan their next move in the Presidential Primary Convention.
- C. After much planning and scheming on his part, Jamie Biddle is happy with the results of the Primary Convention.
- D. Jerry Hoffman tallies up the votes for his candidate.
- E. Government class is not all play. Troy Haar shows that it often takes a lot of work and research to be prepared for the various activities.

D.C. Delights

Bag ladies to traffic jams. Schools to grocery stores. At first glance, Washington, D.C. may seem to be a blueprint of any other American city, but eight seniors had the opportunity to spend four days there this year and discovered that it isn't so commonplace after all. It abounds with a constant stream of tourists, numerous foreign embassies, and many prominent people. Though the group didn't get to catch a glimpse of President Reagan, they did tour the White House and had a personal meeting with Ohio Senator John Glenn. The Capitol Building, the Washington Monument, and the Smithsonian Museum were a few of their many stops. Though they probably had as much fun in their hotel rooms and riding the Metro (Washington, D.C.'s mass-transit system) as they did everything else, the group came back with a better understanding of how the national government is run and the people behind it.

- A. The Capitol Building.
- B. In Arlington Cemetery, Pete Gibson and Dave Miller seem to have a little problem.
- C. The whole group together: Wendy Keller, Robin Keller, Candy Nieser, Rick Kline, Lynette Timmons, Gary Holman, Pete Gibson and Dave Miller.
- D. The Lincoln Memorial.
- E. Par Stahl, Clair Yount, and Dave Worstein were chaperones for the D.C. trip.
- F. Would you believe Rick Kline ever saw a camera before?

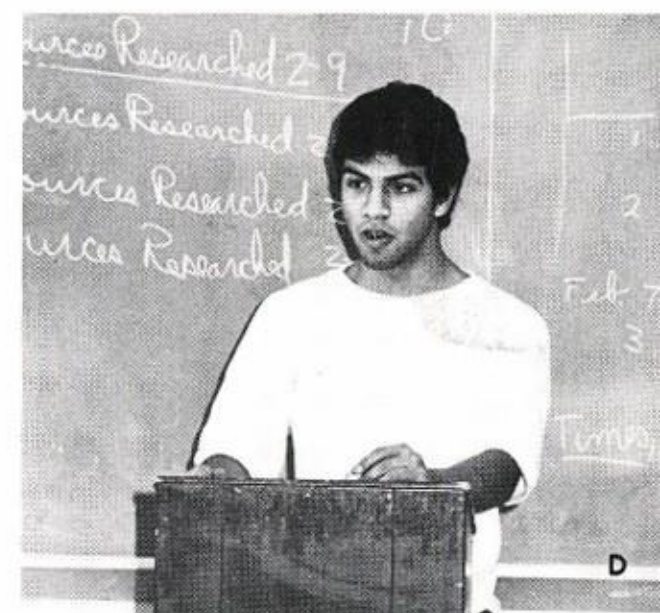

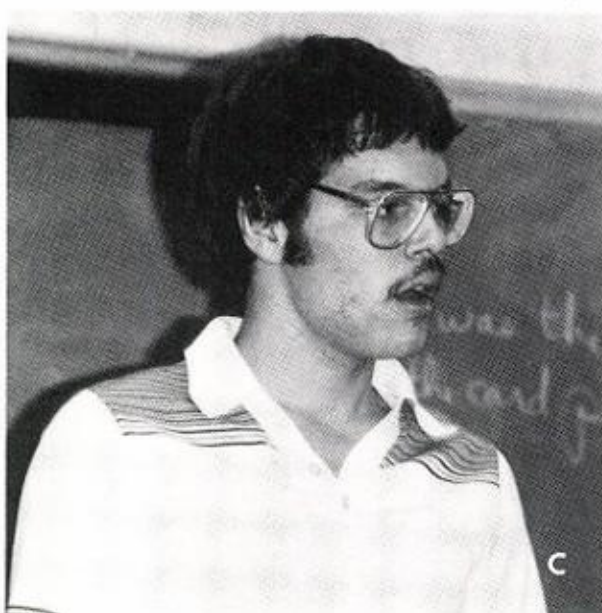

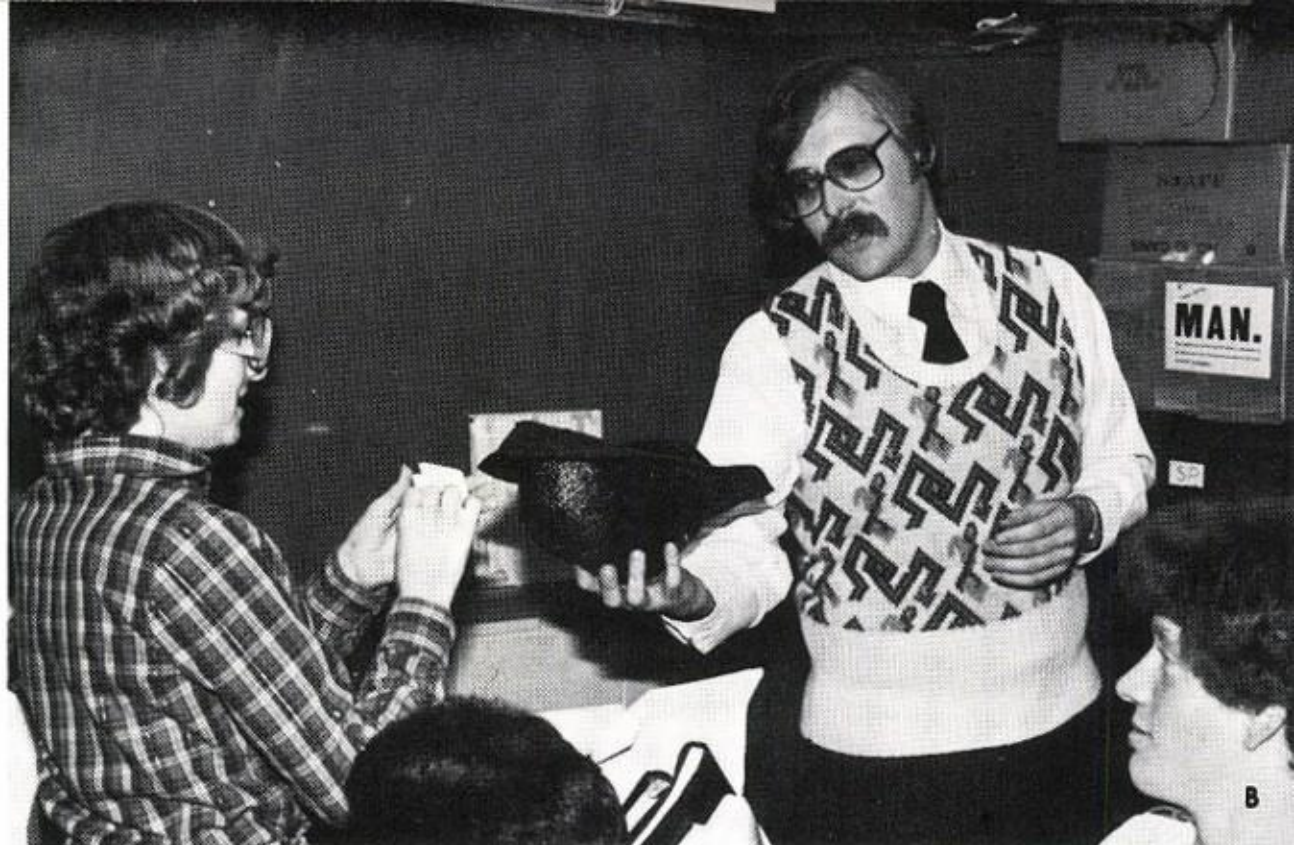

Communi- cations

Our language department consists of many classes. Since English is part of everyday life, it is important to spend time outside of the classroom as well as in; such as the library. English is a required course for three years of high school, so the teachers try to add a little excitement. Making speeches, helping to act out parts of a Shakespearean play, and working together in Journalism to create a school newspaper is a break from the regular spelling and grammar.

- A. Spending time in the library helps increase Sharon Newman's vocabulary.
- B. Who will go first is the question in Mr. Steve Doty's Speech class.
- C. David Stevens makes sure he has his eyes on the audience instead of his speech paper.
- D. It is not that easy to stall on a speech, as Ruben Martinez finds out.
- E. Mr. Jeff Szabo has to check for accuracy when he is grading the Senior English class' homework.
- F. Spending time in the library is part of learning about different types of sources. Andy Garcia tries out the comics while Jerry Long and Dave Miller get down to serious business.

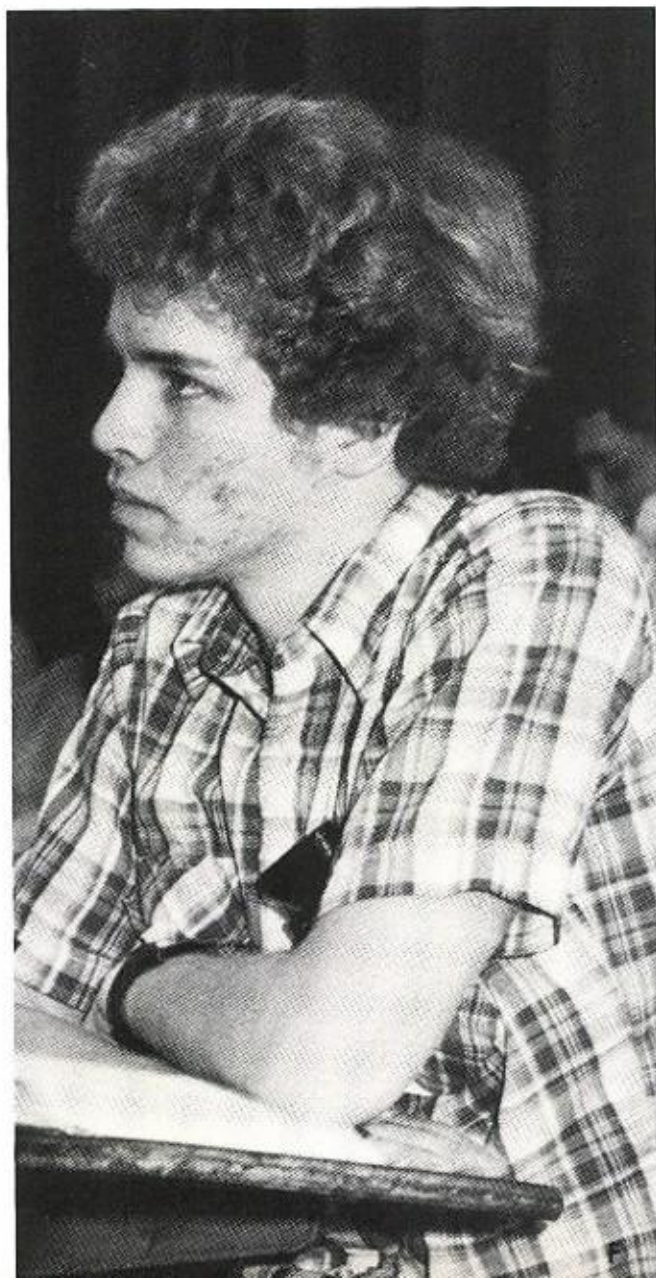

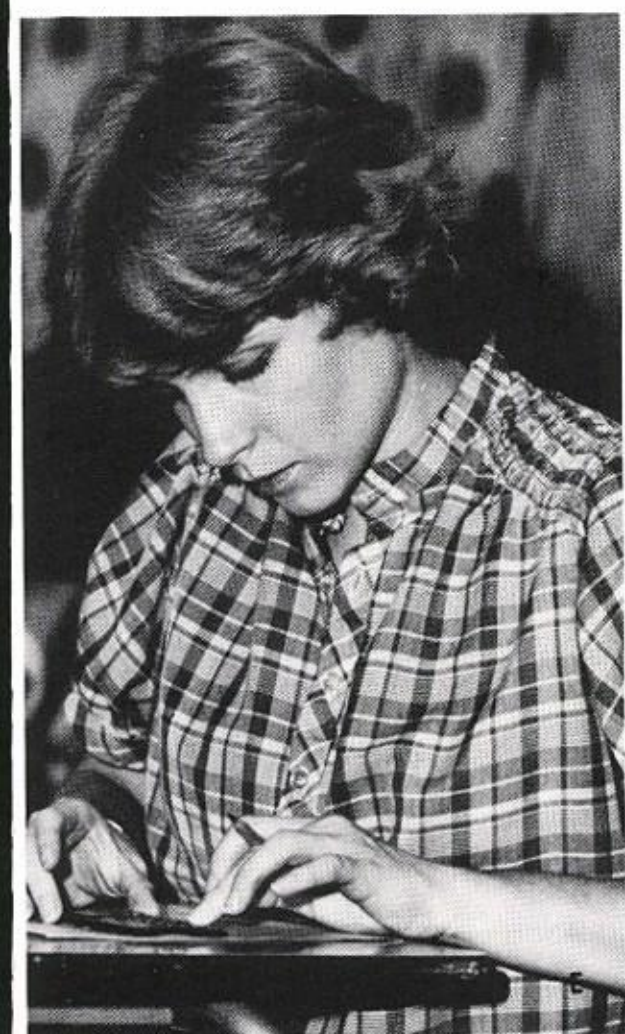

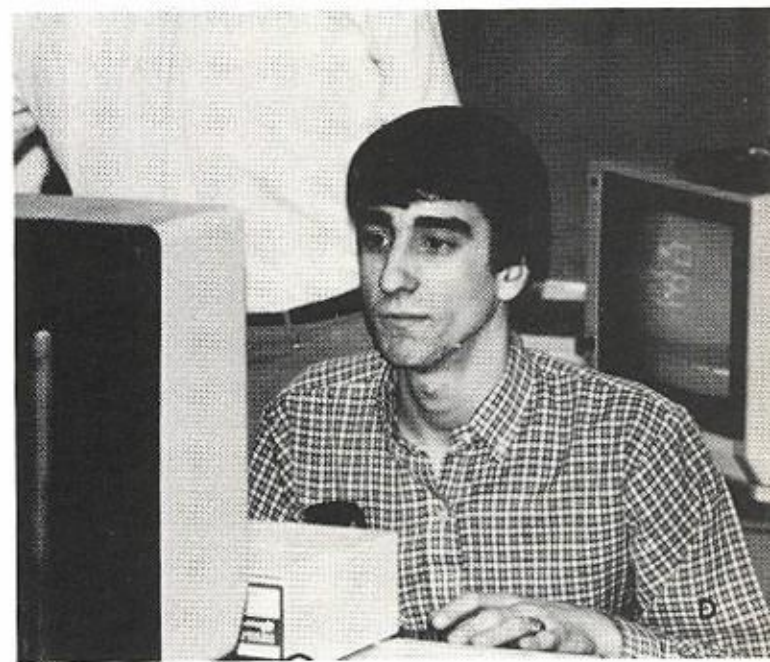

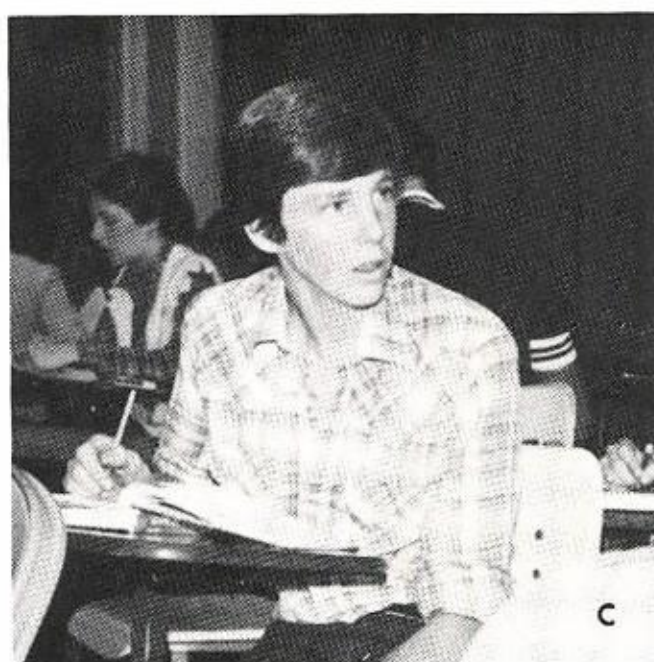

It All Adds Up

Mathematics is a very important part of everyday life, for many people. Almost any career that you may choose concerns math. Whether you choose to be a doctor, teacher, businessperson or just plan to get married, you will use skills in math to achieve many goals. Because of this, a background in math is very important.

The Mathematics department here at Lakota teaches students the many basic skills needed for later life. As a Freshman entering high school, you have the choice of Intermediate Math, General, or Algebra I. After the first year, if the student wishes to continue their study of math, there is Geometry, Algebra II, and Senior Math to choose from. The teachers of these courses are Miss Stroudinger and Mr. White.

The courses offered help students to prepare themselves for the future, whether or not it contains college.

A. Kelly Kimmet proves that deep thought and concentration are needed to complete her Senior Math homework.

B. Geometric figures have many different parts to them. Miss Stroudinger explains this to a class.

C. Listening to an explanation from another classmate is often helpful. Dan Ginnever seems to be trying to figure out just what is being explained.

D. Computers are very useful to someone in the Mathematics field. Tim Wasserman uses his skills on the computers shown to students at the school.

E. Many times, Mathematics can be helpful in other classes. Lisa Strawman uses math to figure out a problem.

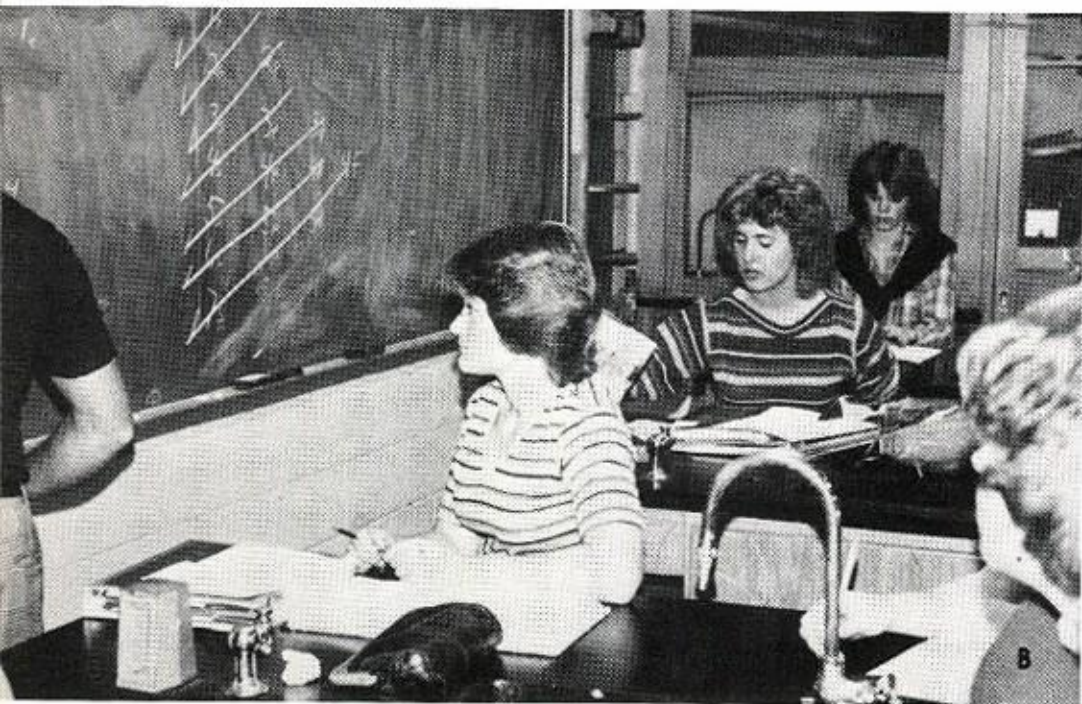

F. Dan Baker listens closely so he doesn't miss a thing being explained.

Discovery

Science is a unique word describing one nature of life and everything that goes along with it.

Mr. Rick Brinkman introduces freshmen to the world of science. For the upperclassmen who are more interested in Science, Mr. Gary Scherger offers four different, more detailed courses. Biology is the study of living organisms. For a detailed study of the body there is Anatomy. Dealing with the chemical make-up of our world, is Chemistry. Physics, offered to the seniors only, is a course which studies the how and why of the laws of nature.

The course that you choose to take will help you to better understand the world around you.

A. Shawn Cooley appears to be very interested in the organism that is preserved in the bottle he is studying.

B. There are many formulas that have to be memorized in chemistry. As Mr. Gary Scherger puts a few on the board, Andrea Elchert starts taking notes.

C. Every year in anatomy, cats are used to show the different organs and how they relate to each other. Dorothy Corbin looks like she really enjoys cutting her cat up.

D. Karen Reinhart uses a microscope so she can get a close-up look at the slides she is examining.

Girl Stuff??

Anytime it is socially acceptable for guys to take a Home Economics course as well as girls. Since marriage and raising a family require both male and female roles, it helps to gain understanding in class of potential problems and conflicts.

Family Living provides, through the course of the school year, a chance for students to "get married, have babies, and get a divorce." These pretend experiences allow opportunities for students, under the guidance of Mrs. Linda James, to learn about some of the major occurrences in life.

The Home Economics classes, with Mrs. Linda Krol, specialize more in such areas as child development, consumerism, household interior decorating, and sewing. The students also spend a great deal of the year developing very practical to extremely creative skills in culinary art. Both courses enlighten students on some of the expectations and responsibilities they may encounter in life.

A. In Home Economics, Peggy Walters tries to help a little girl overcome her shyness.

B. Guys always seem to understand boys better. Jeff Bickford watches a little one water color.

C. On Back-to-School Day, Ned Sleek took the place of his daughter, Annette. Anita Allen and Lynette Timmons do their best to help him out in the kitchen.

D. Since almost everyone plans a future that will include marriage and a family, for Beth Nye it may come in handy to be a good cook.

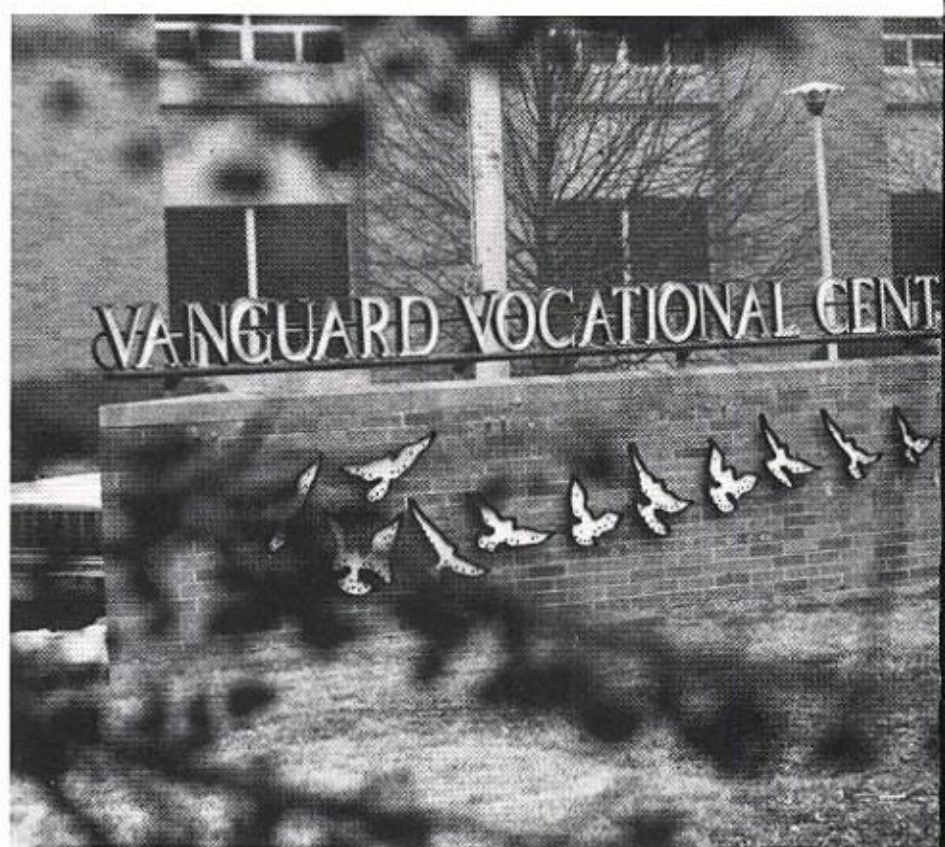

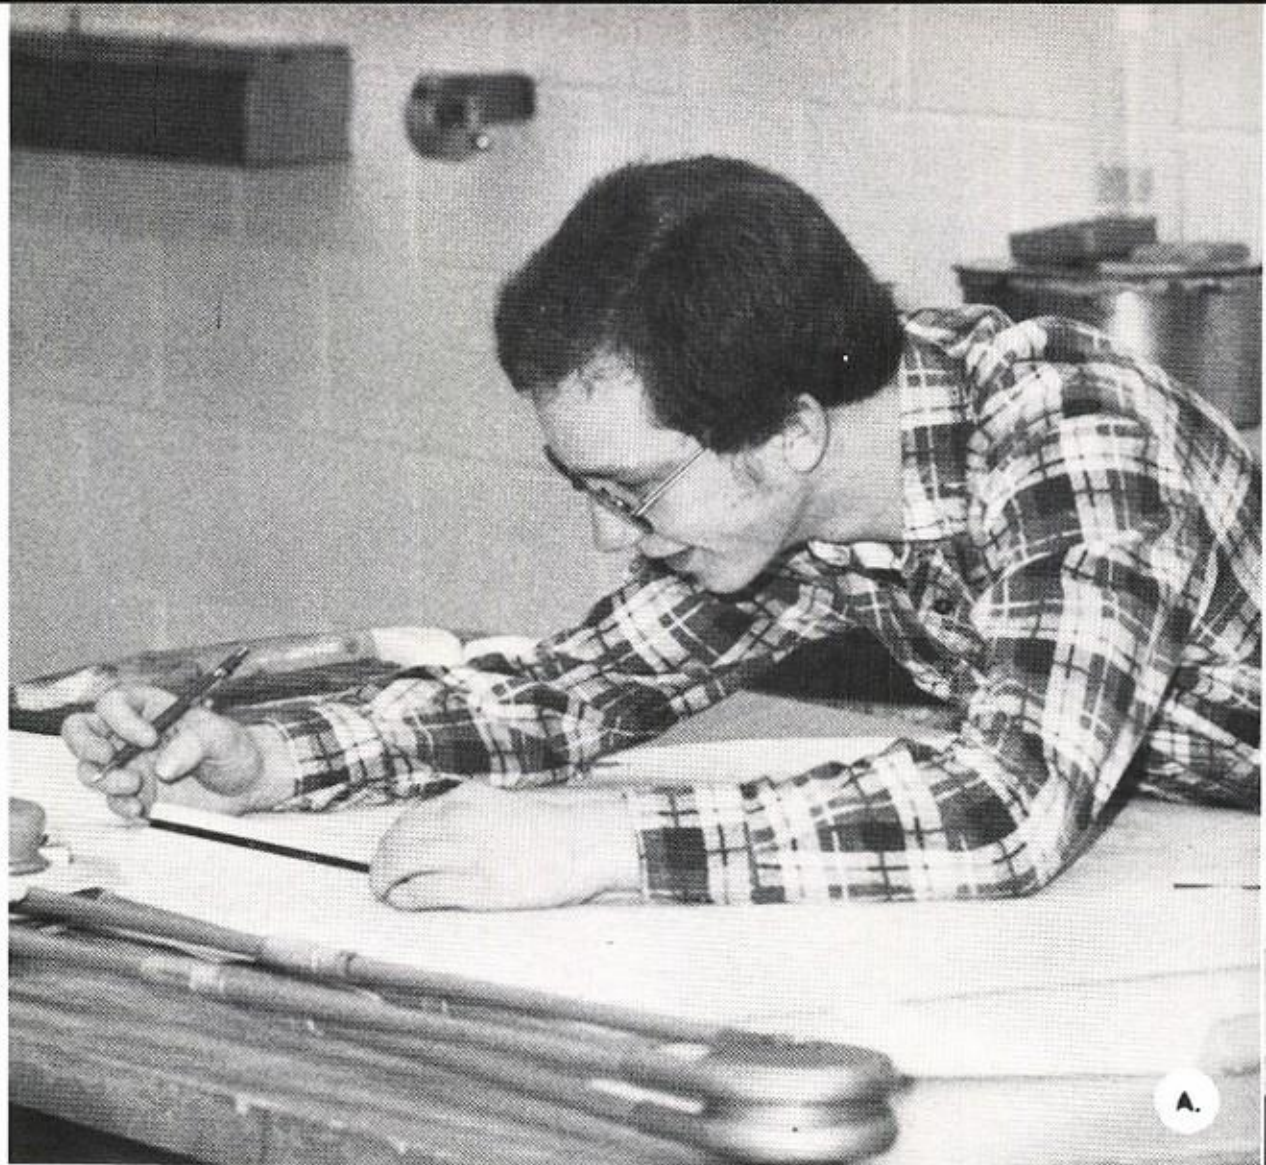

E. Pat Brickner patiently works to improve his sewing skills.

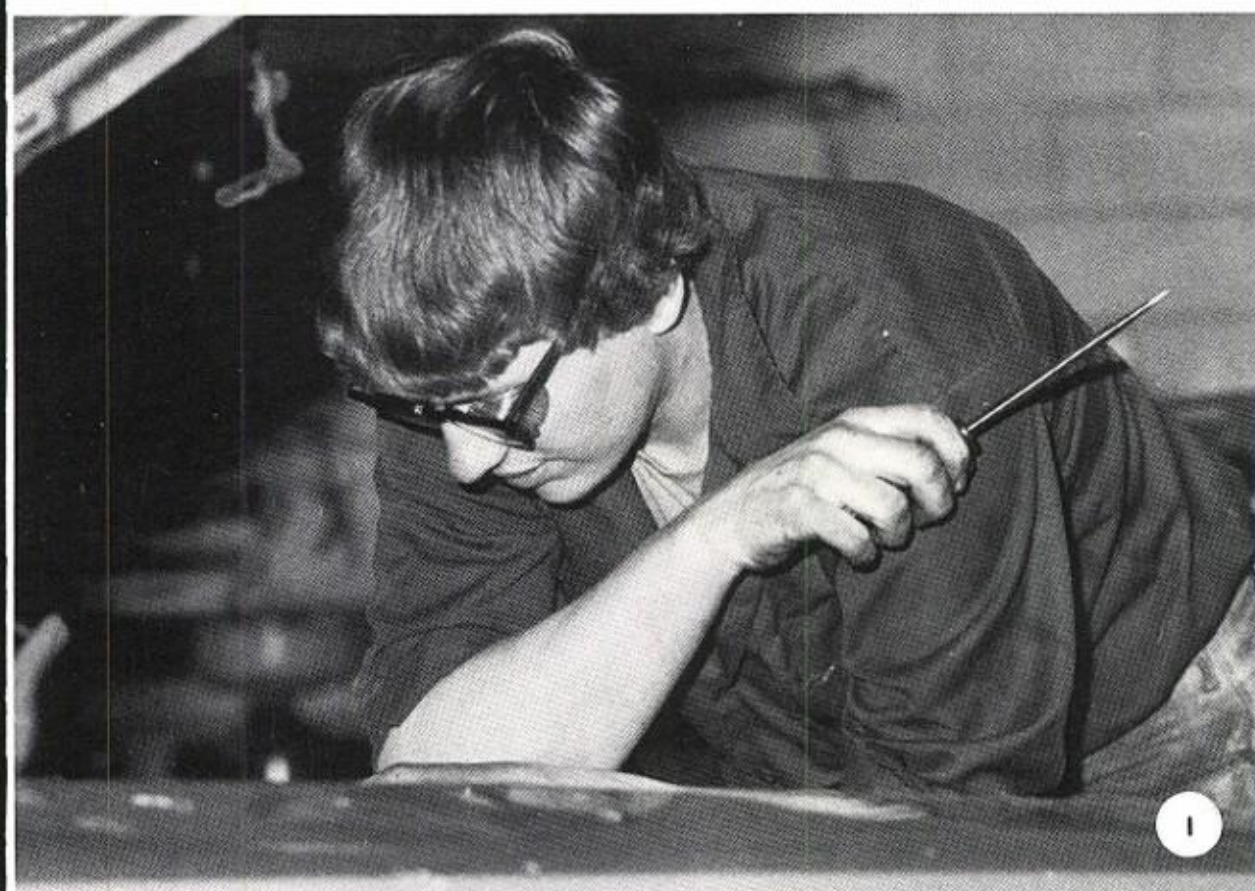

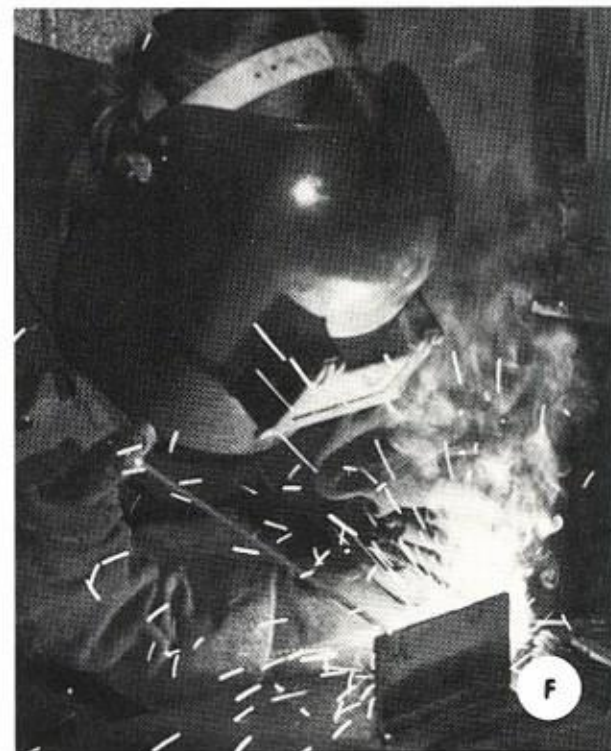

F. Karry Flinner is cutting vegetables up in preparation to make stew.

VVC Prepares for Future Careers

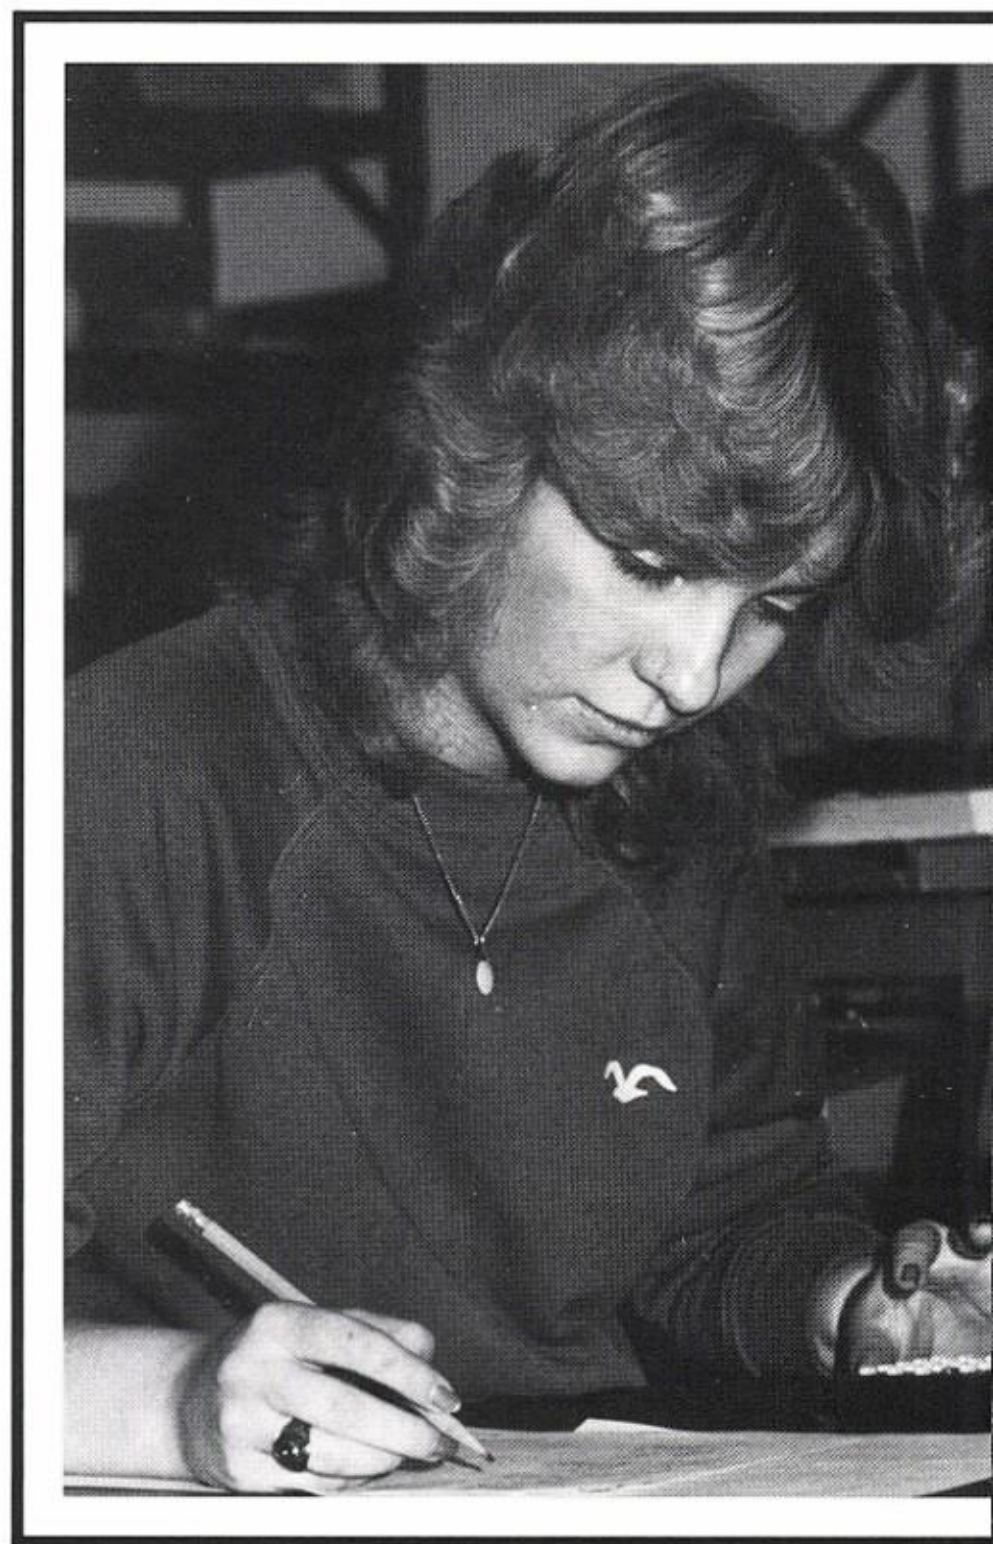

Vanguard Vocational Center enrolls a total of 92 students. Many different courses are offered and these students are taking advantage of the career knowledge and experience they can receive while still in high school. They know where they are headed and this enables them to enter the work force directly out of high school.

VVC offers 21 different programs that are open to any LHS student with junior status: Accounting Data Processing, Agriculture Mechanics, Auto Body, Auto Mechanics, Carpentry, Community Care Specialists, Cosmetology, Diversified Cooperative Training, Distributive Education, Diversified Health Occupations, Drafting, Executive Secretarial, Food Service, General Office Specialist, Graphic Communications, Horticulture, Industrial Electricity, Machine Trades, Marine Maintenance, Occupational Work Experience, and Welding.

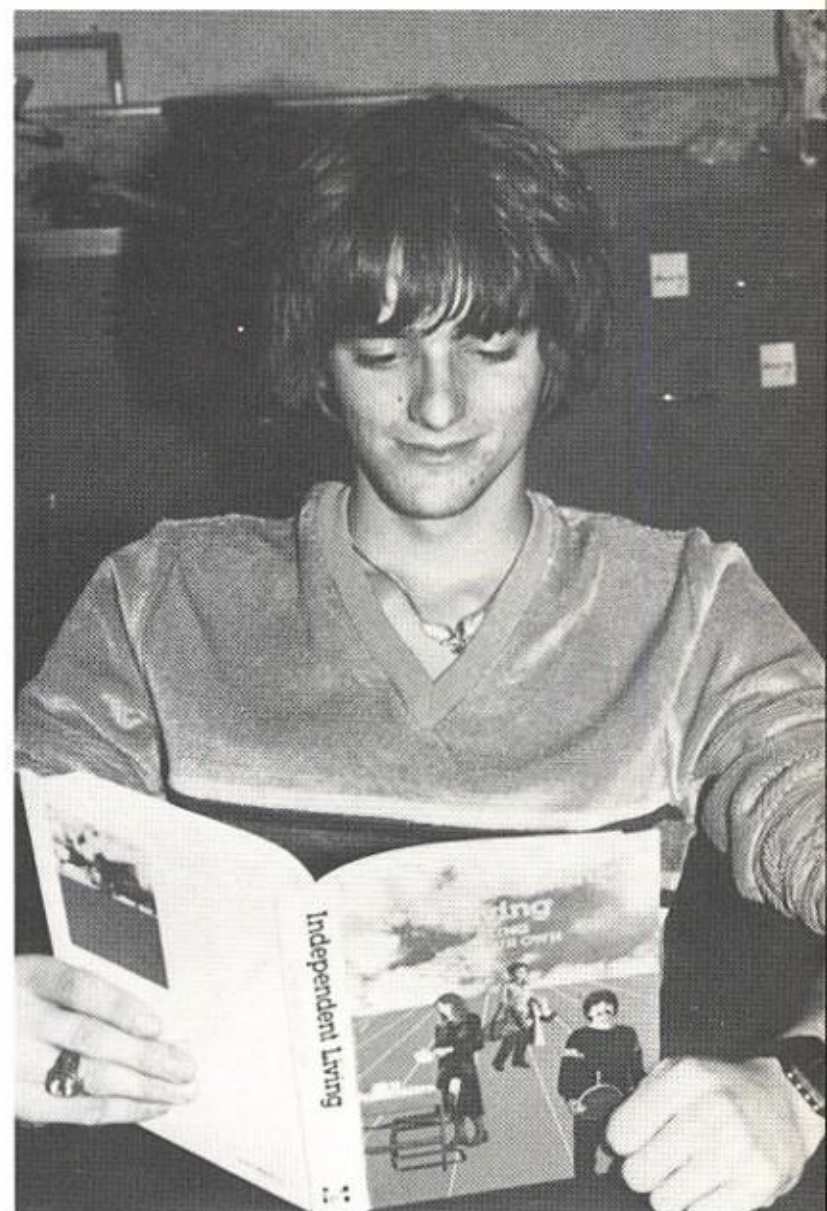

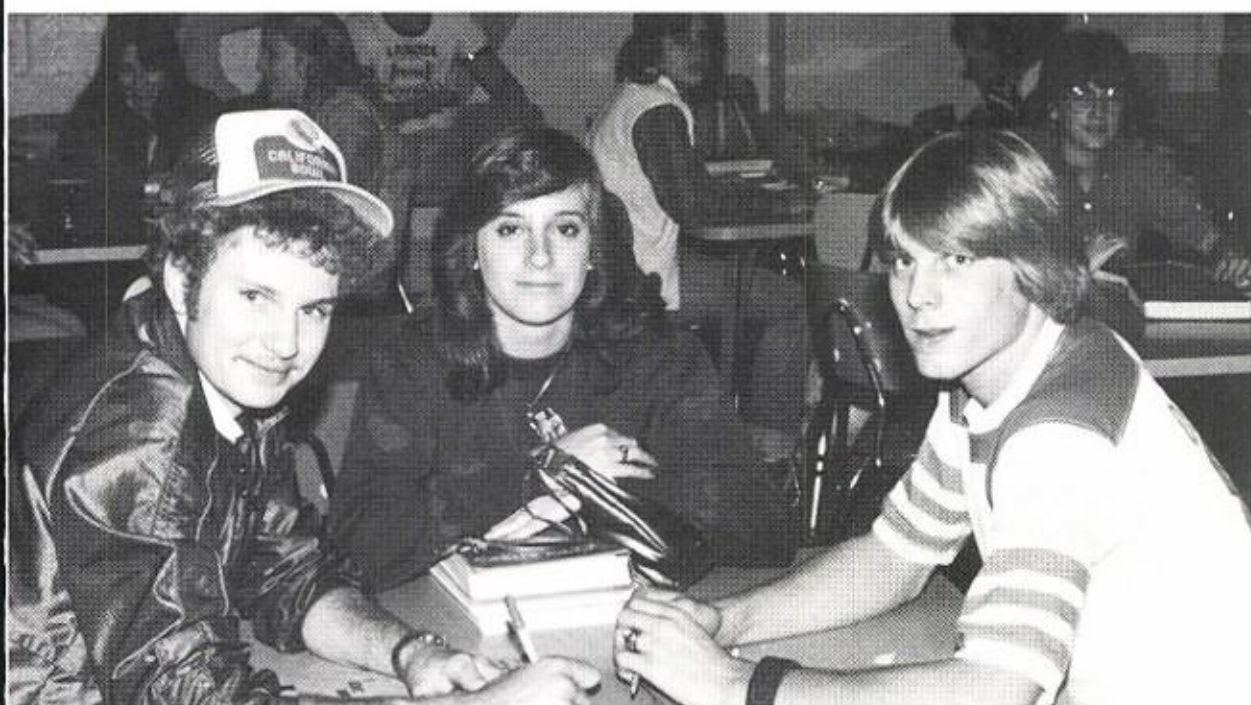

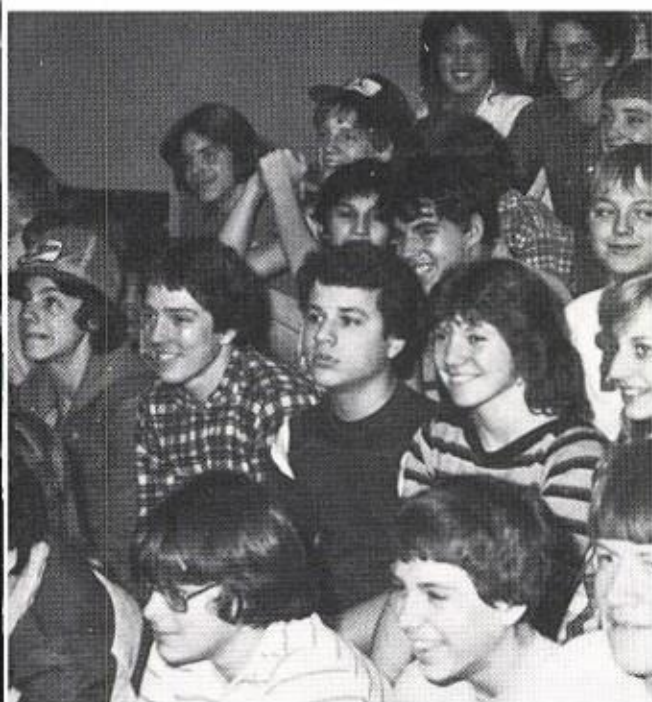

- A. Evan Shultz prepares a three-dimensional drawing in junior Drafting.
- B. Green thumbs Tressie Dolan and Jim St. Clair examine one of the many plants they grow in Horticulture.
- C. Bob Gosche engages in one of the favorite pastimes at VVC.
- D. Penny Krais enjoys working with the morning nursery children in senior Child Care.
- E. Senior Cosmetology gives Becky Mullholand the chance to learn and also experience.
- F. Safety masks are an important part of senior Welding, as shown by Destery Jones.
- G. Using her typing skills in junior Graphics, Ella Everetts designs a layout.
- H. Working on lawn mowers is one of the many tasks Jim Kelly performs in junior Machine Trades.
- I. Thad Little examines the car engine in junior Auto Mechanics as he prepares to fix it.

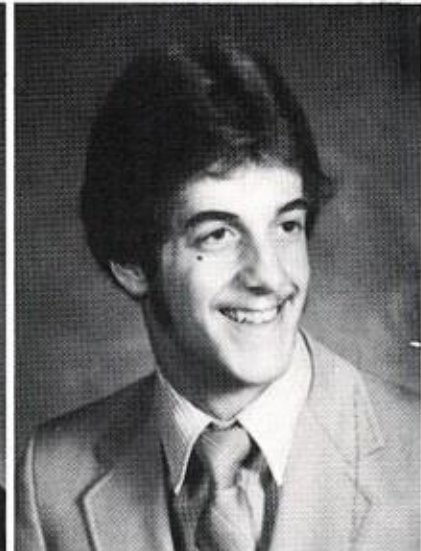

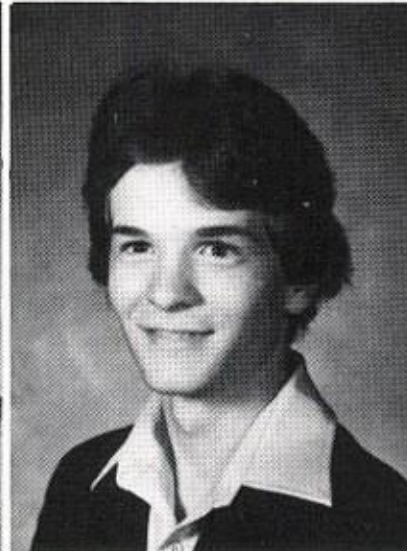

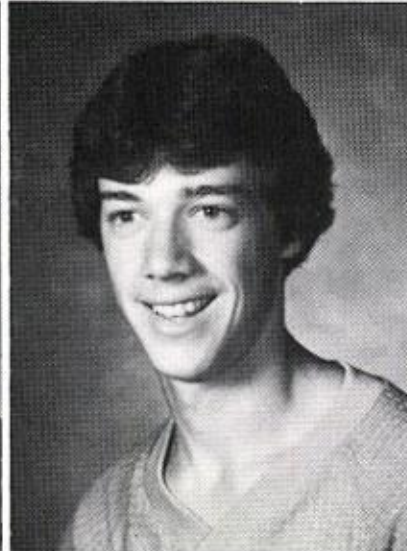

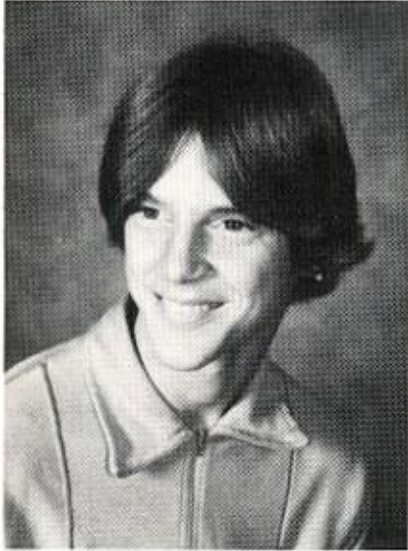

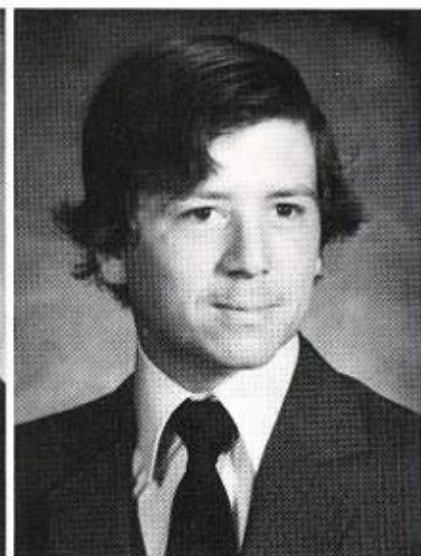

CLASSES

Politics Come to LHS

One of the highlights of the year for the senior class was the appearance of two candidates for the State House of Representatives. All the seniors congregated in the cafeteria while the candidates delivered their speeches and answered questions from the audience. John Myers of Bellevue and Dwight Wise, Jr. of Fremont presented their platforms with the hope of influencing those seniors who were able to vote. This was a fantastic opportunity for the seniors to see politics at work.

Adults in School

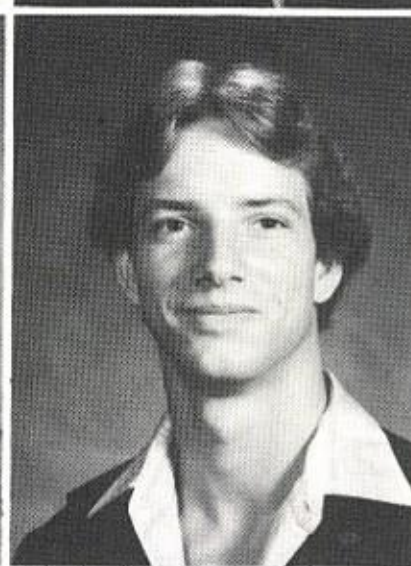

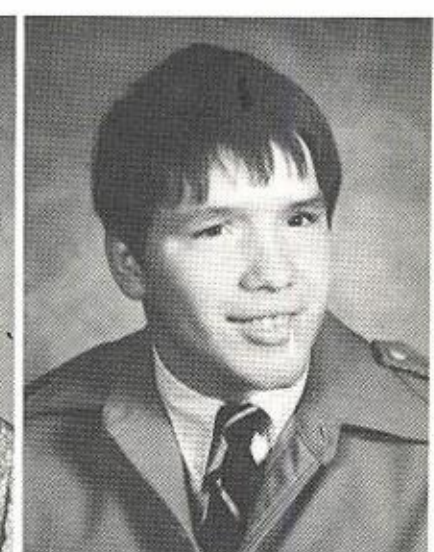

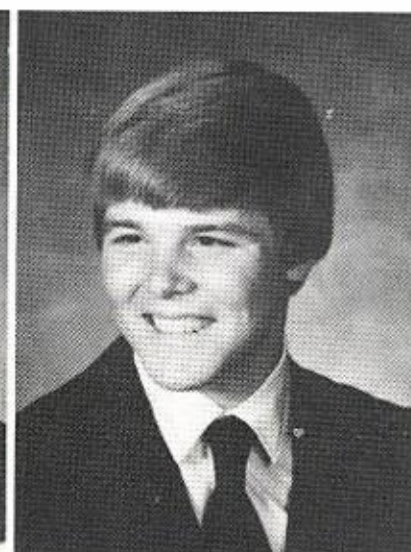

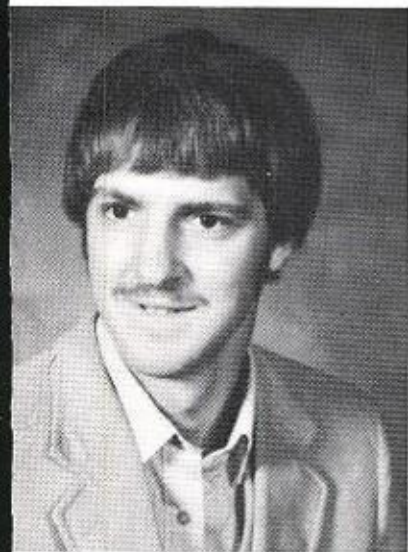

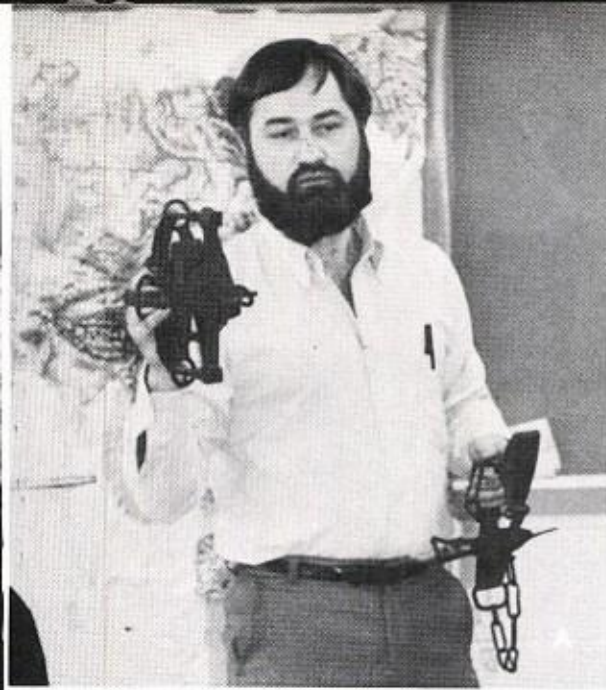

The third annual Back-to-School Day was held at LHS on November 17. Every student could have an adult relative or guardian attend classes in their place. There was confusion over locker combinations and schedules and laughter during lunch. At a reception after school, parents and teachers compared notes with new appreciation for "a day in the life of a student."

Another chance for adults to participate in the life of LHS came the day Wayne Keller, local store owner, gave a presentation to Mr. Yount's government class. Mr. Keller brought in various traps and guns in an effort to illustrate how the Indians in this area survived. The students had the opportunity to see how the traps and muzzleloaders actually worked. All the items were replicas of the ones used by Indians in this area.

A. Mr. Wayne Keller speaks to students about the different kinds of traps and guns.

B. Jon Rosser examines the Indian beads that were a part of Mr. Keller's presentation.

C. On Back-to-School Day, Lynette Timmons gives Mr. Ned Sleek a helping hand in Single Survival.

May the Best Party Win

Mr. Capell's two government classes staged a political convention in the school's cafeteria. The two presidential candidates, Lynette Timmons and Tim Wasserman, gave their speeches as they tried to convince the Junior Class to vote for them.

The Juniors played the part of the American people, the two government classes symbolized the two major political parties. The activity went over well with Tim Wasserman winning by a two-to-one margin.

- A. Tim Wasserman expresses his views on controversial topics to the Junior class.
- B. Lynette Timmons tries to convince the juniors that her views are the best.
- C. Amy Fairbanks listens to the candidates speak.

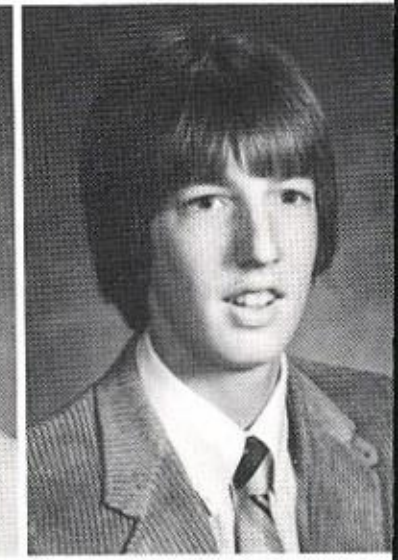

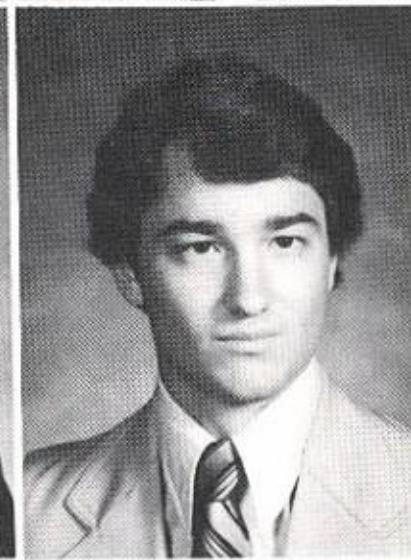

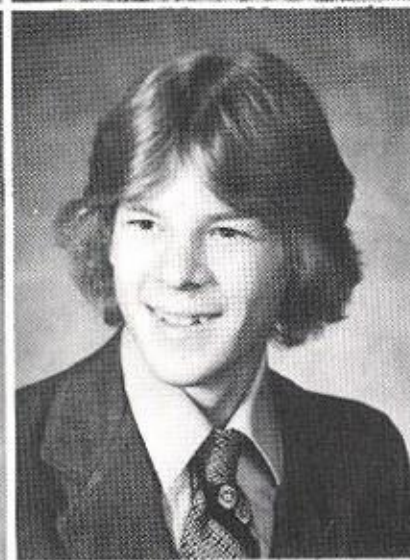

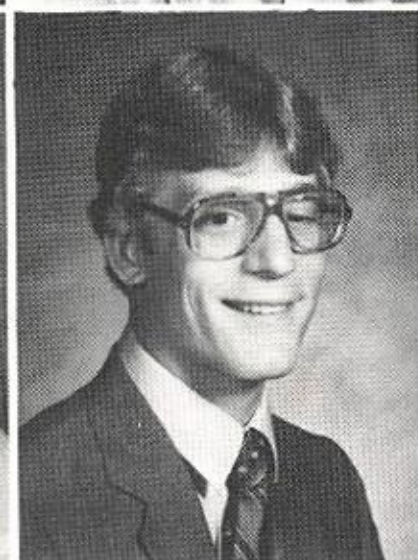

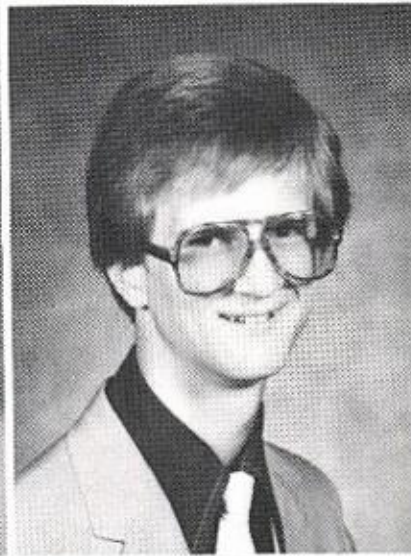

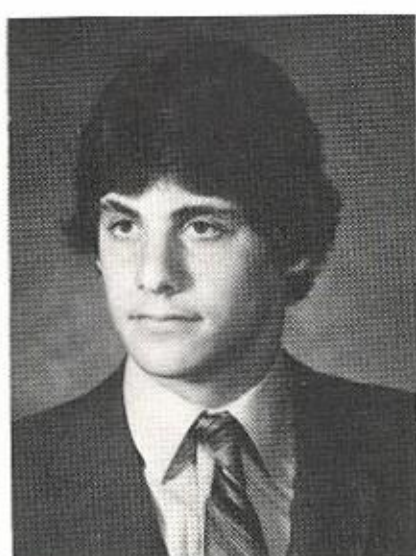

Swedish Import

Holmsund, Sweden, and Kansas, Ohio, are several thousand miles apart but they are now connected through the heart and mind of Lakota's YFU exchange student, Maria Lindstrom. Holmsund is a town of about 6,000 in the northern part of Sweden. Maria's hometown is about as far north as Fairbanks, Alaska, but she says Holmsund isn't as cold, thanks to the Gulf Stream.

Maria left the hospitality of the Dennis family July 14, 1983 to return to one more year of prep school in Sweden. She plans to then enroll in the University of Umea and study broadcasting. Maria said that before she begins actually working in broadcasting, she plans to do much more traveling.

While Maria attended LHS, she became an enthusiastic participant in school activities. Cast members of Oklahoma found Maria invaluable as she acted and sang, designed sets, and worked on props. One cast member said, "You name it; Maria helped with it."

We hope that someday during a cold Swedish winter Grandma Maria will be telling stories to her grandchildren and saying nice things about us. You can be sure that we will say nice things about Maria.

It's graduation and it's unbelievable that I'm here. They'll call my name in a few minutes, and I'll walk up to receive my diploma . . . where do I go from there? I've always had the security of the school routine and its activities, surrounded by the friends I was so familiar with. Now we'll all be going in different directions, and I wonder how long it will be before the memories that meant so much start to fade. After twelve years of this you would think I would be ready to move on, but I feel like I'm leaving a part of me behind. Maybe that's good though, because I really have changed in the four years I've been here. Well, pretty soon they'll get to my name. Then I'll be up there, and it'll all be over. In a way, I guess everything's really just beginning.

JUNIORS

The Juniors are eagerly looking forward to our last year of school, but with regret that next year will be our last at L.H.S. We look back on our past eleven years with both happy and sad memories, both helped us to grow up.

During those years, sometimes we've succeeded and sometimes we've failed but that's all part of learning. We have gained pride in ourselves and in our school.

College Plans Grow

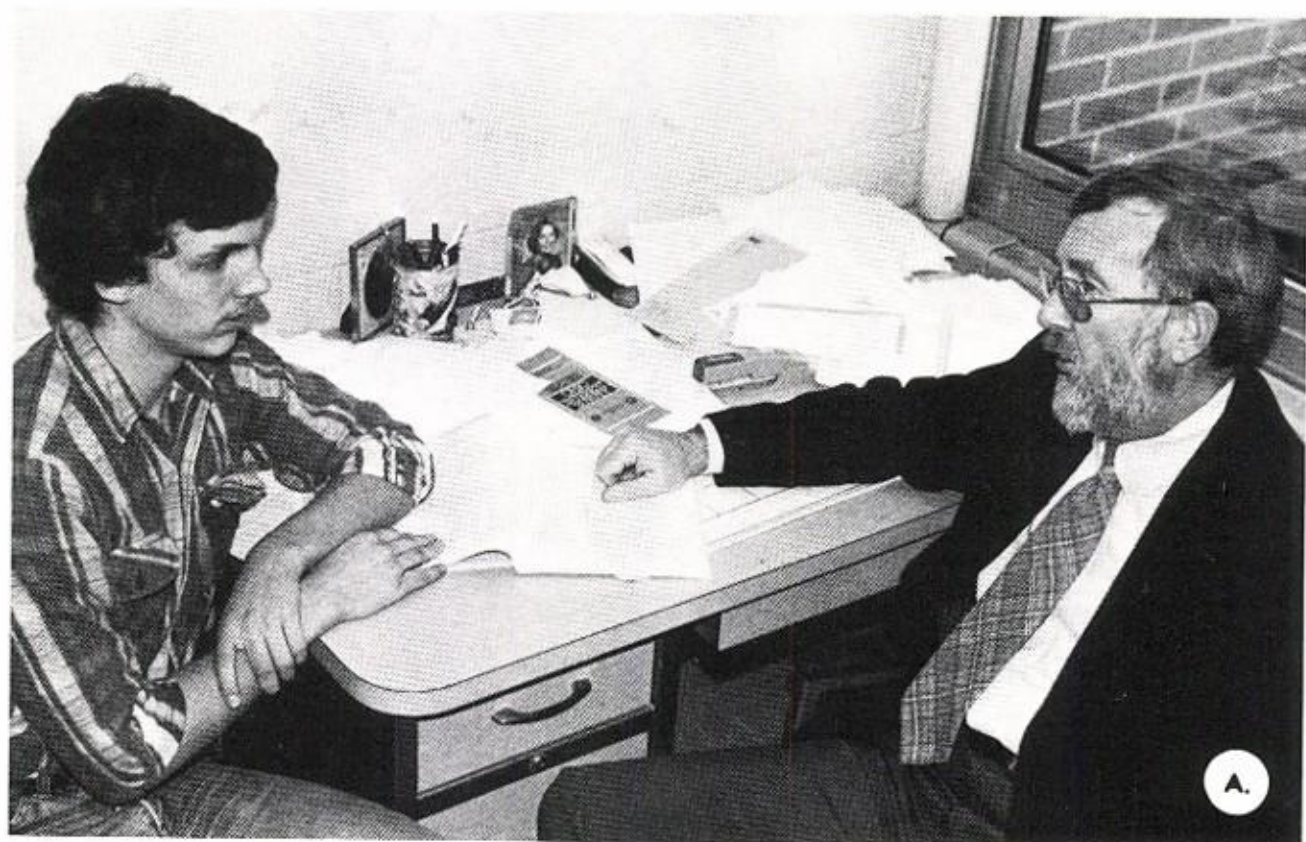

Tomorrow, what does it hold in store? This is a very popular question for the Class of '84. With only one year left, future plans become an important part of life. College is in the minds of many. Where to go, what to major in, how long to go, these are just a few decisions to be made.

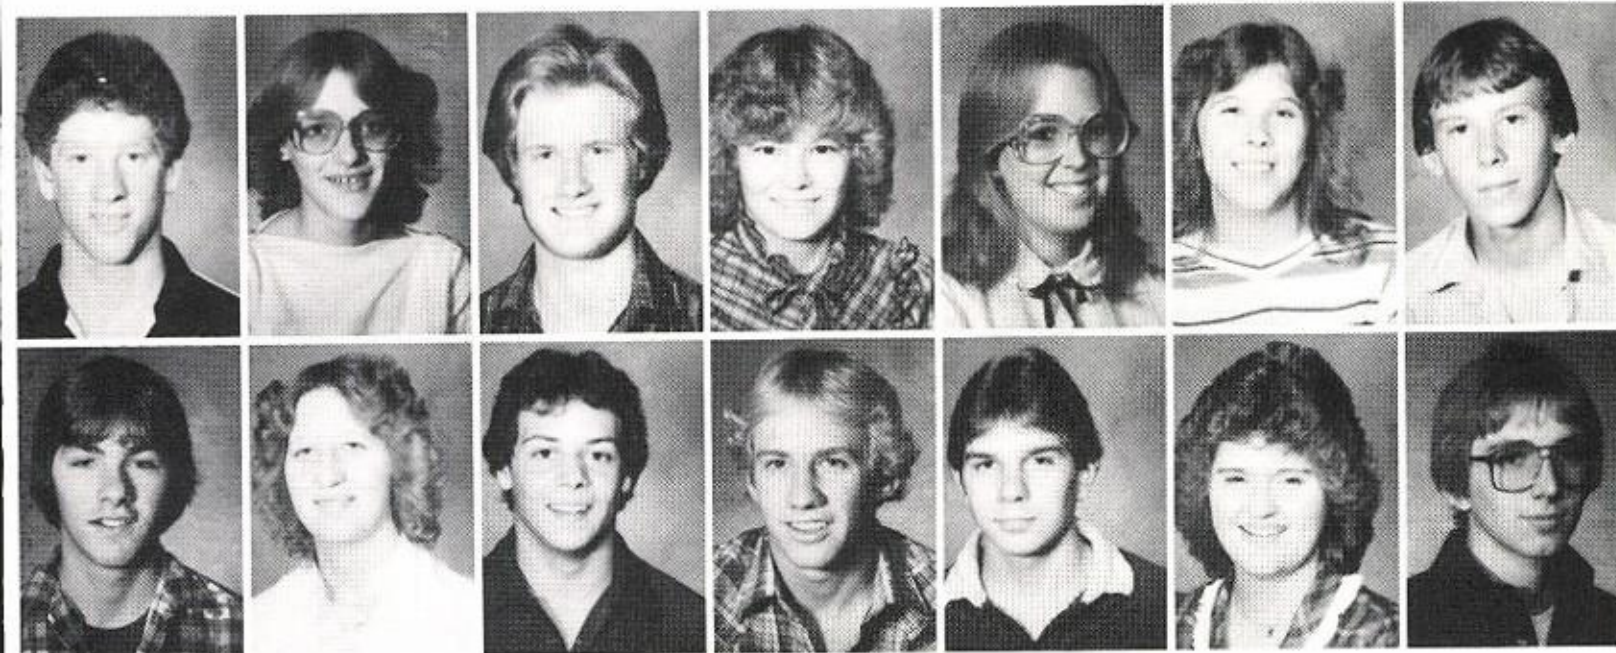

What do you want to be when you grow up? This seemed like such an easy question. But now when the time has come to choose a career, many answer this question with the words, "I'm not sure."

To help us make the choices, the guidance counselors invite many colleges to come in to speak. This proves to be very helpful to many. The college representatives try to give an idea of what the college is like. These meetings and advice from the guidance counselors usually help ease the pressure of the decisions that have to be faced for the future.

B. John Grim concentrates on getting the wires hung so the ceiling can be constructed.

C. Teri Stahl works quietly trying to get her part finished.

Is the Prom Really Worth It!

Every year, a lot of time and effort is put into the creation of prom. From the beginning of the freshman year, the main goal is to raise enough money to have a super prom, but money isn't everything.

There are many things that aren't even considered until the last minute arrives. There are brainstorming meetings to decide the ideas. Committees are made, things are ordered, and decorations are put together. Prom takes a lot of hard work, but the final result makes the whole thing worthwhile.

Fasten Your Seatbelts

As a sophomore, turning sixteen brings one major event . . . learning how to drive.

Many sophomores anxiously await the day that they can start Driver's Education. Some students are confident and ready to begin the class, while others may be a bit nervous or even scared.

The first part of the course is spent in the classroom reading manuals, watching films, and becoming familiar with the laws of the road. After completing the classroom part, the next stage is in the seat behind the wheel.

Through all the screeching stops, the sudden accelerations, forgetting to check at railroad crossings, and driving a bit too fast, the final goal is reached . . . another licensed driver is sent out into the world.

Sophomores

The class of '85 gained much during their second year at Lakota: knowledge of subjects, of themselves, and of others. They learned to work together as a whole, as shown by their many outstanding achievements. Their abilities were rewarded with a second place finish during homecoming week.

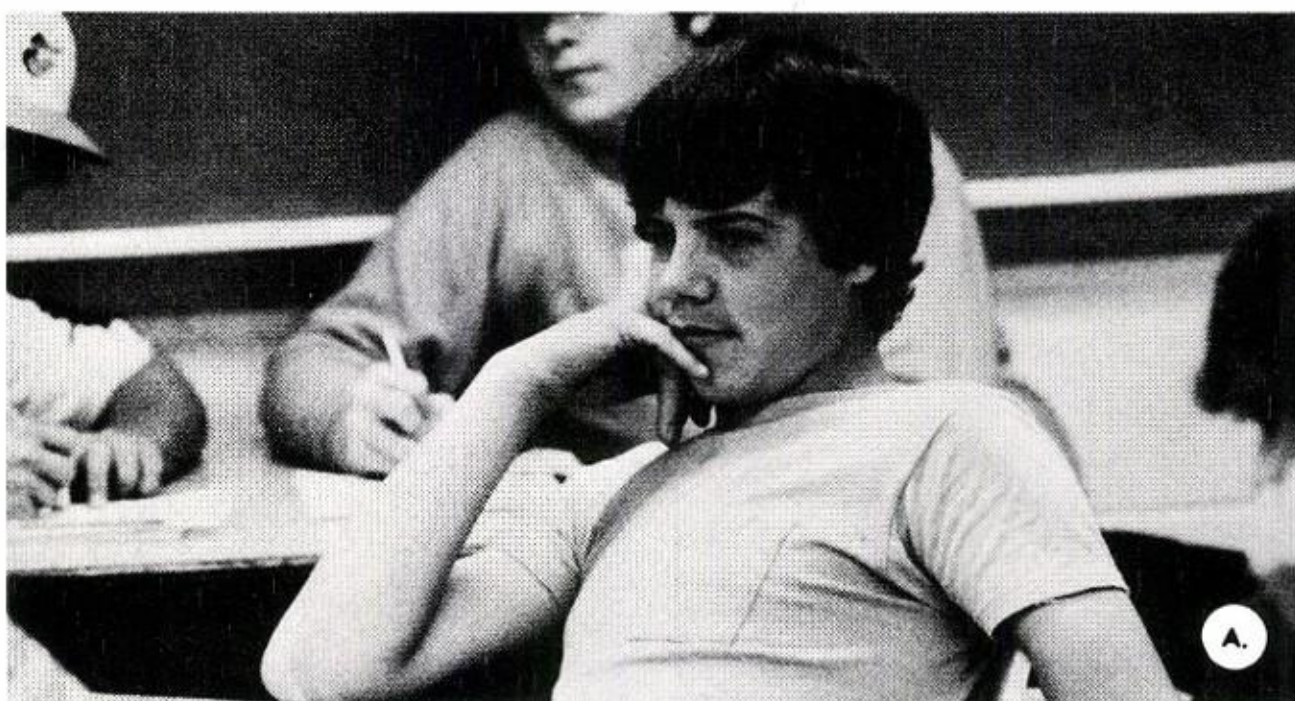

Last spring, as freshmen, they chose their class rings. They received them this fall. Plans for the future were made through scheduling of further courses at Lakota or Vanguard.

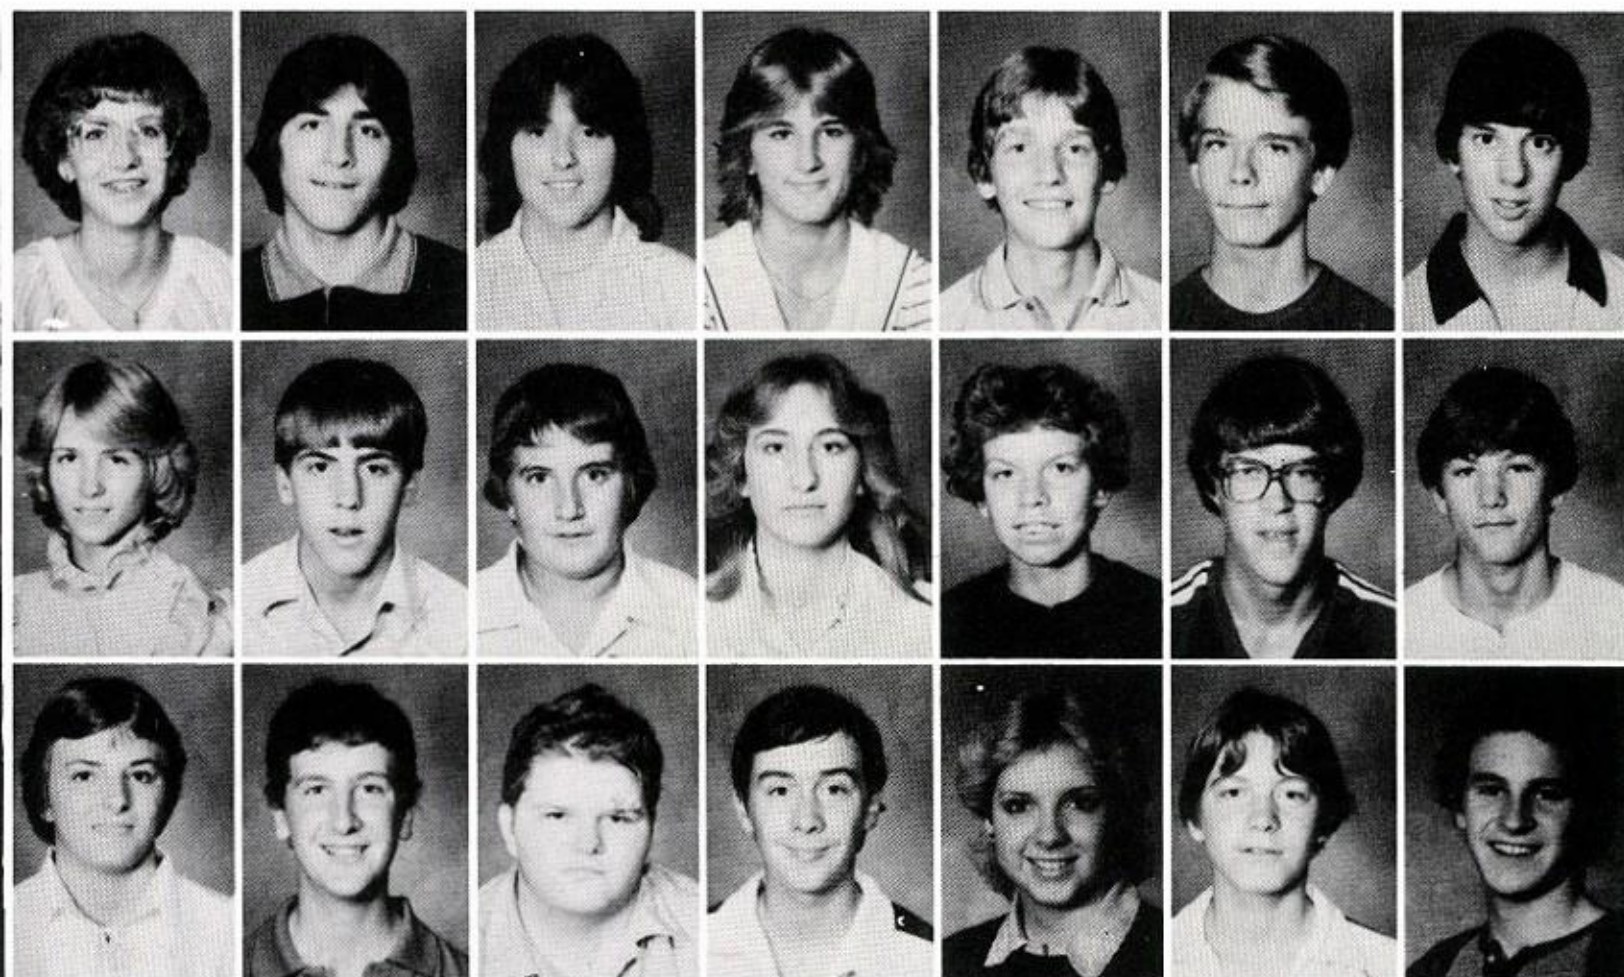

The whole year was a learning experience, between faculty and student, and among students themselves. Extracurricular activities enabled them to meet new people and develop socially.

This year at Lakota was a good one, one to be cherished and remembered always. The class of '85 has a great future to look forward to. With two more years remaining at Lakota, the sophomores have time to prepare, plan, and execute their plans.

Freshmen Strive to Meet Goals

The newcomers to the high school were the class of '86.' The freshmen chose Jim Slick, president, Amy Hollinger, vice president, Stacy Dennis, secretary and Lisa Redieck, treasurer, as their class officers. The officers did a fantastic job of leading the freshmen through their first and most trying year at LHS.

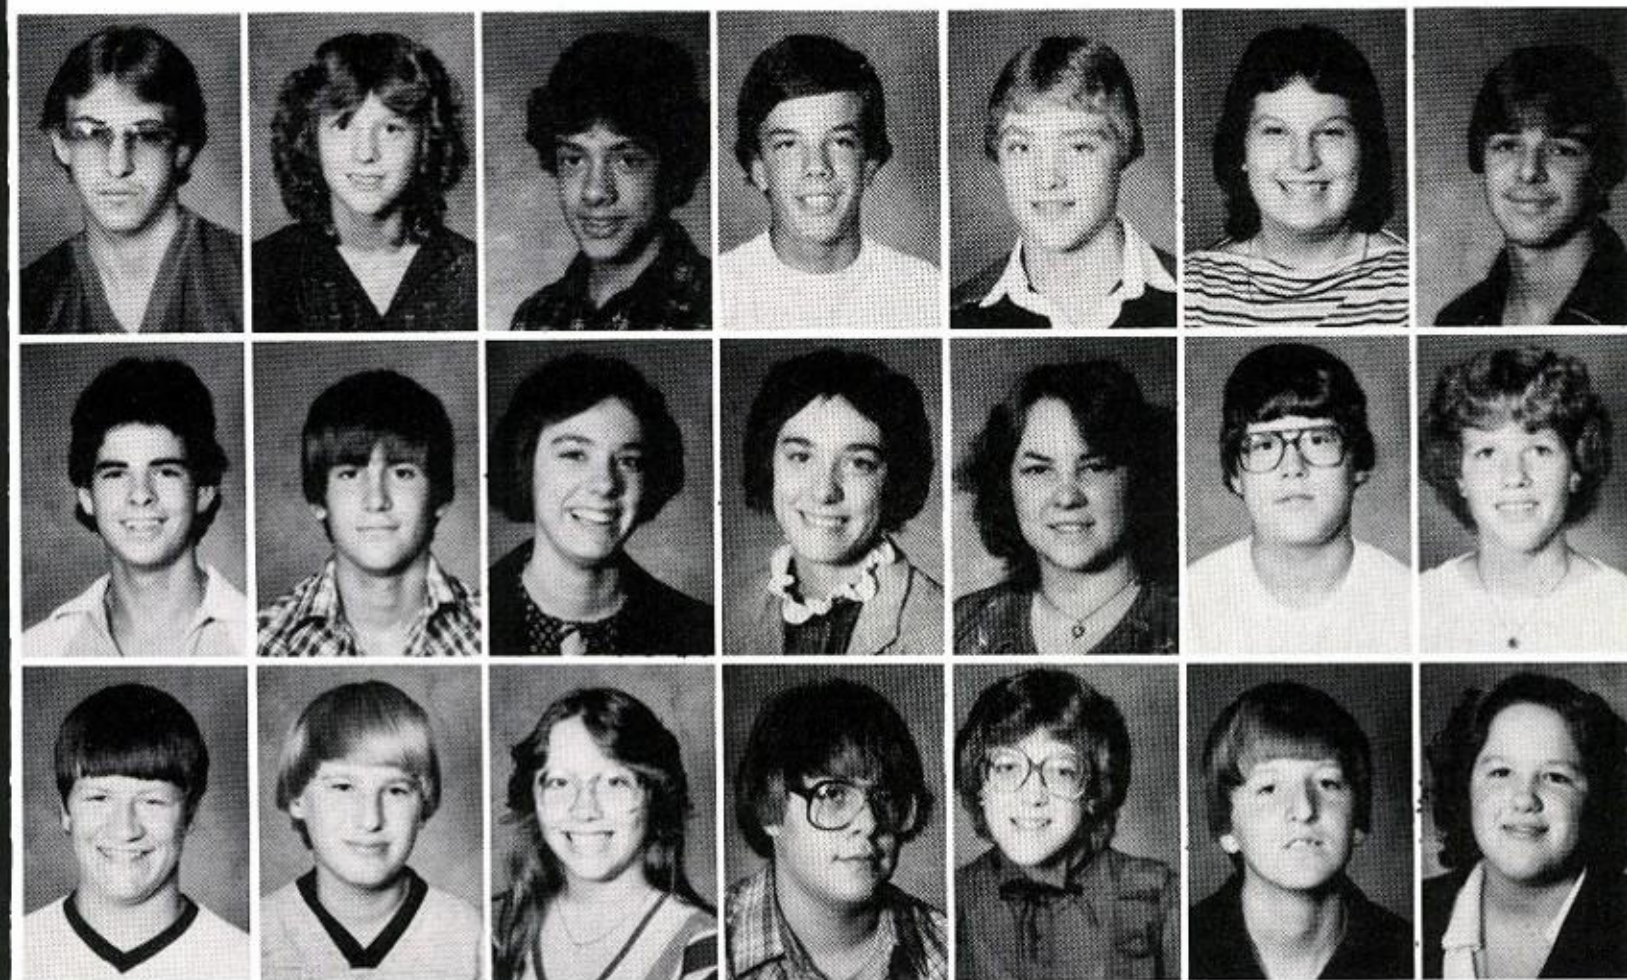

Homecoming week brought many new activities to the freshmen. The entire class chose Heidi Holman as their attendant. The freshmen received fourth place overall in the weekly activities.

This year wouldn't have been such a great experience if it hadn't been for the helpful advice from their class advisors, Mr. Brinkman and Mr. Devol.

This year was enriching in many ways for the class of '86.' They will always remember these new experiences as they look forward to their remaining years at LHS.

- A. Earth Science can be an involving class as the freshmen show.
- B. Bryan Sparks finds time to listen to his radio during his spare time.
- C. Deep concentration is put into a difficult Algebra problem as Pam Strahl ponders in the transaction.
- D. Elected as freshman homecoming attendant was Heidi Holman and her escort Nick Gabel.
- E. Concentration and understanding play important roles in English I as Bert Wyant finishes his homework.

Freshmen Just Beginning

Being at the bottom of the totem pole is rough, but having classes too! The Freshmen seem to be able to handle it. Helping each other and having fun are part of their routine of getting through each day.

- A. Just clowning around is Bill Price's favorite pastime.
- B. Tami Reinhart seems boggled by Mr. White's theories on Math.
- C. Helping each other is the Freshmen's philosophy.
- D. With his hat keeping him company, Jeff Yount works hard at his typing.
- E. Seemingly in a trance, Michele McClure does her English.

This book is finally done . . . I can't believe it. I never imagined it involved so much work and time. If nothing else, I hope it encouraged you to take a good look at what high school means to you. I never really thought about it myself until I started working on this book. It was pretty hard not to think about it after all the months of looking at pictures and writing copy and captions and proofreading everything. As I looked over the past few years, I decided that maybe it hasn't been so bad after all (this will probably be the first and last time I will ever admit it though.) The memories of good friends and good times will always stand above those of homework and exams and my not-quite-favorite teachers (no names needed — they know who they are). The biggest lesson I learned this year was that school can be just as much fun as you choose to make it. It need not be all work but it shouldn't be wasted either.

This is it . . . don't let it pass you by without making the most of it.

P.S. — Many thanks to the entire annual staff plus Mr. Wertz, Gary, and Mrs. Krebs for all their extra help and support.

Julie
